PREFATORY NOTES

Each year it becomes increasingly difficult to supply anything in the form of Prefatory Notes, yet, although they must necessarily be written when the volume is completed, they really come as the overture comes to the presentation of the opera, and the book would seem bald without them. There is next to nothing to express except perhaps a pardonable complacency at the unbroken progression of success which has attended the publication. This success, I firmly believe, has been largely stimulated by the fact that Book-Auction-Records is not merely a mechanical record of prices, but that, in addition to its usefulness, it includes matter of bookish and literary interest hitherto lacking in publications of its kind. It was almost at the end of volume 3 that the idea presented itself that an article on the booksellers of Bath would be of interest. Why Bath in particular should have suggested itself as a subject I do not know, unless its position at the head of the alphabet of book-centres gave it an advantage, or the interest which I felt in an enterprising and quick-brained young bookseller of the city caused a recollection of the time-honoured colloquialism "Go to Bath." Anyhow, the article met with so much appreciation that in the present volume others have appeared, dealing systematically and in alphabetical order, with the libraries and booksellers of Birmingham, Bristol, Cambridge and Dublin. In volume 5 the interesting centres of Edinburgh, Exeter, Glasgow, and Hereford will be dealt with, and the series will be continued until York becomes the terminus of the survey.

In future all biographies will be placed under the subject, and not under the name of the author. It is of use and interest to know what various biographies have been published of any great man, and whereas it might not be known that Brown, Jones, and Robinson had each issued a biography of, say, Sir Joshua Reynolds, by referring to the heading "Reynolds" all of his biographies would at some time be recorded.

It will, of course, be understood that in reprinting notes from the sale-catalogues no attempt is made to correct grammatical errors, and that such errors must not be attributed either to myself, nor yet to carelessness on my part in passing them. They are necessarily reproduced verbatim from their source. Otherwise such a blot as "Thomas Gray, the Poet's copy" would find no place in the pages of B.A.R.

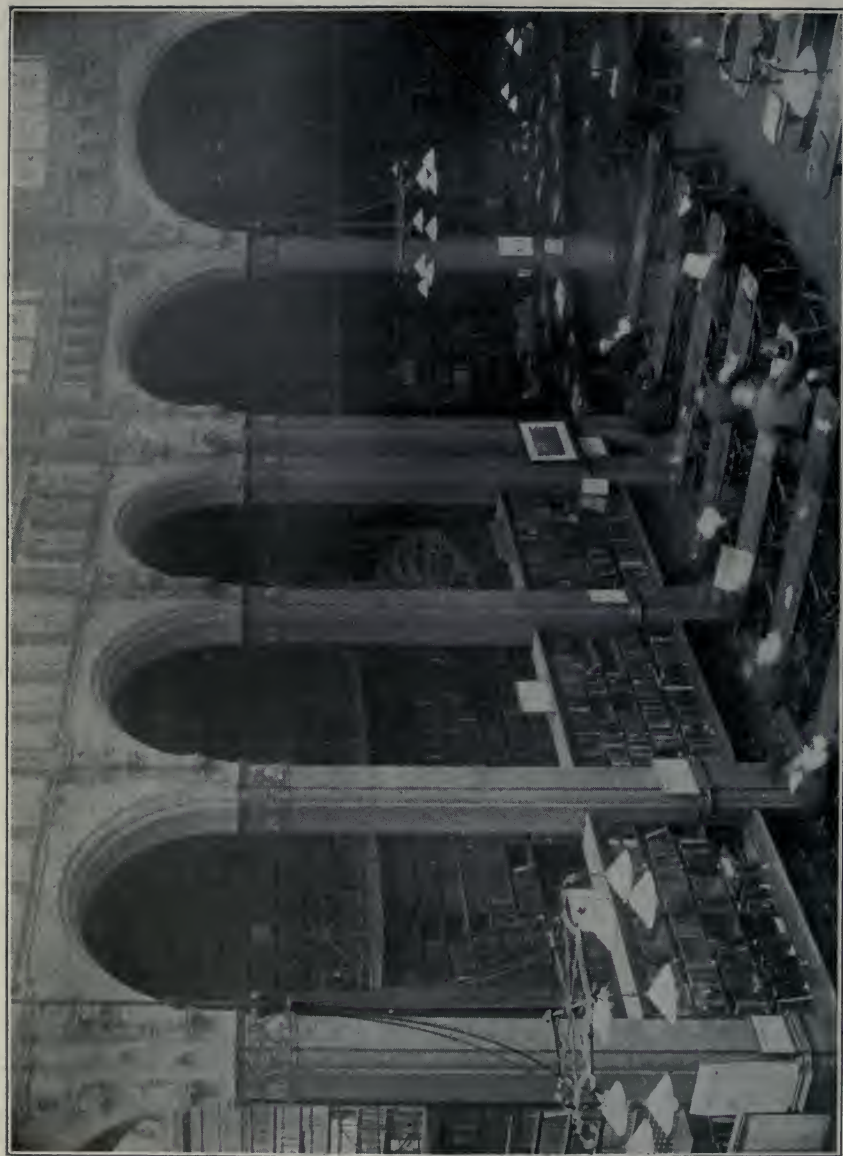

One of the curiosities of editorial work is the determination of the compositor to re-edit it for you. Thus, you write something which is grammatically correct (for grammar is an exact science, and what you write is either right or wrong, and is not open to question), and some operative (I believe that is the proper designation), corrects what, in his ignorance, he believes to be your mistakes. He of course makes nonsense of what was before understandable by educated persons, and the latter are apt to place you on the plane of the compositor. Long-suffering in this respect makes one protest—just as the worm will at last turn. Petty annoyances are ever the keenest felt. If you are what is facetiously termed “ruined” you merely set to work to copy the lower animals, and rebuild your nest or place of refuge, but when some illiterate individual intrudes a comma which spoils the meaning of an entire sentence you fancy that the lowest indignity has been reached.

It is of course understood that manuscripts find no legitimate place in B.A.R., but exception is occasionally made to this rule in the cases of those of unusual literary or historic interest, and especially when instances occur showing different texts than the published ones. A number of such cases appear in the fourth Part of the present volume, from the extremely-interesting library of Mr. Stuart M. Samuel, M.P., and from the Brontë sale.

There are doubtless some among the subscribers who wonder at the tone and the subject of certain of the “Colloquialisms;” and do not understand the reasons for their inclusion in a bibliographical compilation. The subscribers referred to are more likely to be librarians than booksellers, and the explanation may be made to them that B.A.R. was established for the use and benefit of booksellers, that I have all my life been a bookseller myself, that “Colloquialisms” is a section of the publication which gives me an opportunity of chatting informally with those colleagues distant from whom makes personal conversation impossible with, and, further, that it is part of my creed that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, and that if you work fourteen hours a day—which I do, mostly—you must have a safety-valve or the machine would explode. Hence “Colloquialisms” often gives an opportunity to blow off the steam, and, in short, being a gift and not reckoned in the subscription, those who do not care for need not read them. One thing is certain, viz, that the harder you work the more imperative is the need for an occasional bout of what thoughtless persons term Tomfoolery.

It is extremely gratifying to find that clerical errors have almost reached the vanishing point. This year there have been discovered only four, and a list of them is supplied.

BIRMINGHAM: ITS LIBRARIES AND ITS BOOKSELLERS

BY ROBERT K. DENT

(Chief Librarian of Aston Manor Public Library.)

Unlike Bristol and Leicester and Manchester, Birmingham has no ancient library foundation to point to as evidence of the far-seeing wisdom of its early benefactors. The oldest library in the city was that in connection with King Edward's School, of which it is recorded by Calamy that the Rev. Thomas Hall (founder of the King's Norton's School Library) gave a number of books towards its formation, about the middle of the seventeenth century. In 1733 the Rev. W. Higgs, the first rector of St. Philip's Church (now the pro-cathedral) founded a library 'free to all clergymen of the Church of England in the town and neighbourhood,' which is now preserved in a room set apart to that purpose in the rectory in St. Philip's churchyard. It consists largely of old books of divinity, but some attempt is made to keep up with the demands of the time, chiefly in this class of works. The only book of note in the collection is a first edition of Εἰκὼν Βασιλική. There are many fine old works in the Library of King Edward's School, including two copies of Walton's famous Polyglot.

The first public library was founded in 1779, as a subscription Library, by some of the foremost inhabitants of that period when Matthew Boulton, James Watt, Joseph Priestly and other Birmingham men were making the town famous for its scientific and literary coterie throughout England, as Baskerville had already made it famous throughout Europe by his 'magnificent editions' of the classics, his Cambridge Bible, and his beautiful editions of Milton, Addison, Congreve, and other English classics. The Lunar Society of Birmingham included among its members and occasional visitors many men famous in science, art and literature at that period, and it was chiefly to the members of this society that the Birmingham Old Library, as it is called, owed its foundation. By degrees this library (which, when it was founded in 1779, could stow away all its literary possessions in a small cupboard) grew to be one of the most important proprietary libraries in the provinces. It is now housed in a new Library Building in Margaret Street, erected from designs by J. A. Cossins, and comprises reading, conversation and smoking rooms, as well as a valuable library, the growth of a century and a quarter, containing many valuable works, county histories, the transactions of the learned societies, and other high-class works not usually found in subscription libraries.

Almost immediately after the passing of the Free Libraries Act of 1850 an attempt was made to carry out its provisions in Birmingham, but although the leaders of thought in the city were ready to adopt the act, the inhabitants were not prepared for it as yet, and it was not until 1860 that the act was adopted, and for some years only a temporary library, in hired premises, was available for use by the people, and even that was somewhat remote from the centre of the town.

But in September, 1865, a Central Lending Library was opened in the presence of a large number of visitors to the British Association, which held its meetings in Birmingham in that year for the third time. In October, 1866, a well-stocked Reference Library was opened in the same building by the late George Dawson, whose inaugural address on that occasion is one of the classics of the Free Library movement. One room in the new Central Free Library was devoted to the housing of a suitable Memorial Library of works by and relating to Shakespeare in every known edition. This room remained bare and empty until 1868, when it was fitted up in an appropriate manner, and the Shakespeare Memorial Library opened to students of his writings and of the literature gathered around them, from all parts of the world.

Year by year both libraries were enriched by valuable donations: a rare collection of Cervantes literature, a collection of Birmingham books and pamphlets, as complete as effort could make it, the priceless Staunton Collection of Warwickshire Books and MSS. (including, besides many rare early printed books, the famous Manuscript Guild book of Knowle, the MS. Cartulary of Thelsford, and the priceless Manuscript of one of the old Coventry Mysteries, the 'Pageant of Sherem and Taylours'); and choice books in every department of literature were purchased as opportunity afforded. But, alas, the reckoning of all the treasures in this valuable library is distressful, for on the 11th January, 1879, a fire broke out (during the progress of work on the necessary enlargement of the Library building), and nearly all the contents of this great treasure-house perished. The Guild Book of Knowle, and a few of the Shakespeare books were saved, but even in comparison of the total number rescued from the flames, the character of the salvage was most disappointing. Precious manuscripts and unique books were suffered to perish, while unimportant books and odd volumes of bound newspapers were rescued. It was, no doubt, a moment of panic, and the rapidity with which the flames took hold upon the books of the Reference Library precluded that calm, orderly choice of books to be rescued which one naturally wishes could have been undertaken.

But what was lacking in this direction was undoubtedly atoned for in the splendid enthusiasm with which the work of reconstruction was undertaken. While the ruins were yet smoking, the men of Birmingham met together and resolved to rebuild the Library, and to form a collection richer, if possible, than that which had so tragically perished. Upwards of £14,000 was subscribed in a few weeks, almost without solicitation; while offers of help came from all quarters. From our late Queen Victoria, from the universities and printing clubs, from the British Museum, from public libraries and publishers, came the most generous offers of donations, and when the reconstructed Library was opened it was found indeed to be richer in literary treasures than that which had been destroyed. Many unique manuscripts were gone for ever, it is true, but a very valuable Warwickshire collection, and an even more extensive Shakespeare Memorial Library had been formed. The former is now rich in MSS., drawings, prints, &c., and the priceless gem of the collection is still, as it was in the lost Staunton Collection, the Register of the Guild of St. Anne of Knowle, extending from 1407 to 1535. This has now been transcribed and printed by the Birmingham Archæological Section, and is henceforth secured from actual loss, as we trust the original will be in future. A new Cervantes collection has been formed—not, it is true, so complete as the one destroyed—and several other special collections have been added, notably the prints of the Photographic Survey of Warwickshire, a work of the highest importance to future archæologists of the county.

The Shakespeare Memorial Library is now housed in a room adjoining the annexe of the Reference Library, appropriately fitted, and comprises about 12,000 volumes, including all the obtainable editions of the works of our great dramatist, including all the four folios and several early quartos, a large body of Shakespeariana in various languages, and works relating to the history of the drama and the stage, together with prints, portraits and a remarkable collection of Shakespeare illustrations formed by the late Mr. H. R. Forrest during the course of a long lifetime.

The total number of volumes in the Reference Library (including the Shakespeare Library) was at the end of last year 186,951; while in the Central Lending Library there are over 31,000, and in the nine Branch Libraries there are nearly 90,000 volumes, thus offering to the inhabitants a store of over 120,000 volumes for home reading, conveniently distributed over the entire area of the city, and housed in well-appointed buildings, with good news-rooms at each branch, and at the central library.

Among other Birmingham libraries, may be mentioned that at the Medical Institute comprising over 13,000 volumes, among which are many rare early treatises on Medicine; the Law Society's Library (over 12,000 volumes), which has a good collection of Reports of Celebrated Trials; the University Library, which includes the late Mr. Hensleigh Wedgwood's collection of works on Philology, and a representative collection of European Scientific works; and the Library in connection with the meeting-house of the Society of Friends, which is somewhat extensive, and in earlier years made up to some extent for the lack of a free public library, to those who were fortunate enough to obtain access to its well-stocked shelves.

In several of the districts and boroughs immediately surrounding the city are good free libraries, as for instance, Aston Manor, Handsworth, King's Norton and Selly Oak, and Smethwick, and a new one is in course of formation at Erdington. The Aston Manor Library has a fine Reference Library of over 10,000 volumes, including many valuable fine art books, a Manuscript Book of Hours illuminated by Spierinck (circa 1480), which is fully described in Bradley's Dictionary of Miniaturists, and a good collection of local books.

It was a favourite saying thirty years ago that Birmingham was "a paradise of Book-sellers," and certainly in those days it numbered among those who followed the calling of a second-hand bookseller some widely-known names. If the story of the late WILLIAM BROUGH, for instance, could be told in detail, it would present many a "romance of bookselling." It was to his enterprise that the discovery of an unpublished report of Carlyle's Lectures on the History of Literature was due. He was a man of great enterprise, and he it was who, on the publication of Latham's Johnson's Dictionary in four large quarto volumes, surprised the publisher's traveller by enquiring if the usual rule of "thirteen as twelve" would be adhered to, and thereupon ordered the baker's dozen of copies of that great work. If a "remainder" which promised well was offered to him, he was seldom satisfied with aught less than the entire stock, and many a book of this class he "cleared." The present writer well remembers his taking a stock of eight hundred copies of Bertall's "Communists of Paris," a quarto, the stock of which presented a most formidable appearance in his store-room.

It may be well understood that, trained in such a school as this, Mr. WILLIAM DOWNING (who learned his business with Mr. Brough) became a worthy upholder of the old tradition; and having succeeded Mr. Cadby in the old-established business at the top of New Street, soon made the "sign of the Chaucer's Head" famous among book-lovers everywhere. It would be difficult to recount the book-rarities which have distinguished Mr. Downing's series of Catalogues (an unbroken series of monthly "book-circulars" extending over thirty-six years), for Mr. Downing has been unusually fortunate as a mighty book-hunter. He has numbered among his customers many of the most famous men and women of his time. The late Mr. Gladstone was a frequent customer, and when he came to Birmingham in 1888, in the height of the Home Rule movement, he wrote a charming postcard expressing his regret that he could not pay a visit to the Chaucer's Head, "as he feared it would be impossible for him to walk the streets at that time." Sir Henry Irving rarely came to Birmingham without calling upon Mr. Downing, and the same may be said of Ellen Terry. The late George MacDonald, Thomas Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, and many others of note were among Mr. Downing's customers, and the old bookseller reckons among his choicest treasures a certain album of autograph letters from those who have bought books from the "Chaucer's Head" during his long and honourable career. In the distribution of the productions of the Kelmescott and other famous presses Mr. Downing has borne a notable part. He was called into the councils of the late William Morris when the question of price of the first volume printed at the Kelmescott press was under consideration; and from that time forward he was intimately associated with the sale of these works, as well as those of the "Vale" and "Doves" presses.

Mr. JOHN HITCHMAN, of Cherry Street, commenced bookselling in the same street (on the site of the eighteenth century "Cherry Orchard" of Birmingham) in 1872, and has, like Mr. Downing, steadily continued the issue of a monthly catalogue during the whole period, now nearly thirty-five years.

Mr. JAMES WILSON, of Bull Street, was for some time an assistant of the first Charles Lowe (one of the old race of second-hand booksellers who is kindly remembered by many old collectors) and first set up in business at 22, Cannon Street in 1874. He has been worthily known for enterprise and as an indefatigable book-hunter during the last thirty years or more. The tale of his treasures would occupy a long space, and the frequent notice accorded to him in the London and provincial Press is evidence of his fame among book-lovers. The late Mr. Ruskin was among the regular readers of the "Hutton House Book Catalogue," and his satisfaction with the bargains he secured through Mr. Wilson's aid is expressed in letters of his which the bookseller numbers among his treasures. "I'm delighted more than I can tell you with the book," wrote the famous art-critic on one occasion, "I never got such a bargain in my life." Again he wrote: "I wish you a Happy New Year and many nice friends of old Books," and he adds words which must have won the heart of Mr. Wilson's young man, "Please give the extra 2s. 6d. to your packer." Mr. Wilson had in one of his earlier catalogues perhaps one of the most complete collections of Ruskin literature ever offered for sale. He has had many unique books in his time, a very interesting 17th century MS. diary kept by a famous portrait painter found its way to the National Portrait Gallery (it had been all but consigned to the bookseller's fourpenny box!), the Mander collection of materials for the history of Coventry, the editio princeps of Piers Plowman, and the famous theological library of the late Dr. R. W. Dale, have been among the noteworthy items in a long and interesting series of catalogues issued by Mr. James Wilson.

(NOTE BY EDITOR.)

When, at five years of age, I used to sit dangling my legs from a high chair in the shop of my cousin, William Cornish, in New Street, Birmingham, looking at the children's books which, among others, he used to sell, I little thought that half-a-century later I should be concerned in the publication of an account of the libraries and booksellers of my native place. We may well talk about "the whirligig of time"! I must have been a dreadful nuisance to Mr. Cornish, for I haunted his place in every spare hour, and he must have been a most amiable man, for I remember how he listened patiently while I told him that I meant to read all the books when I too became a bookseller. In those days Birmingham was not the big centre of bookselling it is now-a-days. I cannot, indeed, remember one second-hand shop, and should doubtless have scorned the shabby-looking old volumes if I had noticed them. A spick-and-span bright red-and-gold cover was more to my taste in those days. At 11 years of age I left the clanking town, and at 55 I am able to present my colleagues with a view of their superb Reference Library. Birmingham has the unique honour of being the business metropolis of the most distinguished county of all England; the county which claims Shakespeare and George Eliot for its foremost son and daughter. Can there be a better reason than that for my old town being one of the most prominent centres of bookselling in the whole country? I think not. And less than twenty miles away is the grandest mediæval castle extant in this island, and all round about it, in Leamington and its surrounding picturesque villages, in Kenilworth, reminiscent of England's lion-hearted queen and of ill-fated Amy Robsart, and in Hampton-in-Arden (Shakespeare's forest), by Guy's Cliff's Saxon mill and plashing weir, my childhood's days were spent, and, all unknowingly, the sylvan scenes sank deep into my affections. Do you wonder that I love to return again to leafy Warwickshire when my hair is white, to say something of the county I love? Let me, then, supplement Mr. Dent's informing article by a list of Birmingham booksellers of more recent establishment than those with whom his reminiscences are concerned. Catalogues can be obtained from the whole of these firms.

Addison Book Co., 89 Broad St. Speciality, books and pamphlets relating to Joseph Addison.

Baker (Edward) 14-16 John Bright St. Book Queries, vol. 6, pp. 110-111, describes this establishment as "the largest bookshop in the city." Mr. Baker's success is the more remarkable from the fact that he was not apprenticed to bookselling, but took to it, con amore, at the age of 22.

Davis and Moughton, 2 Ludgate Hill. Their main business is Educational Publishing, with a General Supply Department for teachers, and in connection with this they have a second-hand department. Their business in this department is mainly, though not entirely, with teachers.

Featherstone (A. J.) 91 Hill St. General literature.

Hector (H. E.) 103 John Bright St. General literature, but specially in French works, Mr. Hector being himself a Frenchman.

Heynes (H. E.) 42 John Bright St. General literature, and also old and Curious Books.

Holland Bros., 21 John Bright St. Specialities, rare books and autobiographies.

Jukes (G. T.) and Co., 85 Aston St. Dealers in old books, sporting works, &c.

Lowe Bros., 45 Newhall St. General second-hand books in fine condition.

Midland Educational Co., Corporation St. A large general book business, with a second-hand department.

Saint Jude's Dépôt, 89 Station St. Speciality, Arundel Society's Publications in fine condition. There are upwards of five hundred pounds' worth on sale.

Woodhouse (A. D.) 35 John Bright St. Deals only in Theology.

There is also the firm of Middleton and Co., Literary Agents, 319 Broad St., who have been established since 1901 to supply the needs of the book trade with a reference bureau. They undertake special description of valuable rare books, remainders, scrap books, books in foreign languages, and engravings and pictures. They claim to do for a valuable book what no busy bookseller can find time to do for himself, and some examples of their work that have come under my notice have presented the volumes in most attractive form.

COLLOQUIALISMS

One of the most gratifying evenings of my life was spent at the Criterion on December 11th, when the cream of the London trade responded with alacrity to an invitation to come and establish the Second-hand Booksellers' Association. I have twice before been Honorary Secretary to societies working for public benefit, but here I was among not strangers but those I had known for years, and the occasion naturally took more of what may best be described as a "family" character. Space can only be made to say that if every bookseller in the kingdom will join, the benefits to be derived from this Association will be incalculable, and any who cannot yet realise this should accept the list of the influential committee as a pledge that at last a united "trade" is in existence.

Since the last Part was issued our black friend, Seale, made a descent upon Cambridge, and called on Galloway & Porter on the day of his arrival. Mr. Porter was not, however, "taken" with him, and wrote to me for information. The immediate result was that a detective was put on the gentleman's track, and every bookseller in the town was warned. Seale had lost no time, for he had already looked out books value £40 at one place, and was hard at work all round. He spent nearly three weeks at Cambridge, changing his abode continually, and visiting pawnshops meanwhile, and eventually left no richer than he arrived, and local dealers are under a debt of obligation to Mr. Porter for his action in the matter. Mr. Porter also obtained a snapshot of him, which is among my curiosities, ready for future use. While there, and staying at the Bull Inn, Seale sent 2s. 6d. to "Lloyd's Weekly News," and obtained a set of books on the instalment plan, and no doubt promptly pawned them. He is sure to turn up again, for he has no other means of livelihood but swindling.

A very singular error crept into volume 2 of B.A.R., reproduced verbatim from a sale-catalogue. On page 71, under the heading of "Herodotus," is a copy of "The World of Wonders," by Henry Stephen, and the auction note states that it is the first complete edition of "Herodotus" in English. It is, of course, nothing of the kind, and the wonder is that such a flagrant error could ever have got into type. Bibliography is, however, full of such pitfalls, and when, during the rush of work, one tumbles into them the only thing to do is to get out again as quickly as possible.

The following instructions from the will of the late Edmond de Goncourt seem dictated by common-sense. How often has one not seen, and pitied, the aimless stare of the passer-by at, say, the Dickens MSS. at South Kensington Museum, or at MSS. at the British Museum, of which, of all the rich treasures within, only a single page can be seen by even the appreciative ones:—

"My wish is that my Drawings, my Prints, my Curiosities, my Books—in a word these things of art which have been the joy of my life—shall not be consigned to the cold tomb of a museum, and subjected to the stupid glance of the careless passer-by; but I require that they shall all be dispersed under the hammer of the Auctioneer, so that the pleasure which the acquiring of each one of them has given me shall be given again, in each case, to some inheritor of my own tastes."

On April 11th, 1906, I sent a copy of B.A.R. on inspection to M. Camille Vyt, of Ghent. On October 18th M. Vyt wrote that £1 is od. was too high a price, but that if I would accept five francs (4s. 2d.), he would keep it. Really, M. Vyt is overwhelming in his appreciation! It is about the sort of amount one might put in one's pipe and smoke without missing it.

* * *

One of the arguments of the parties to the Shakespeare-Bacon controversy is that as Shakespeare was the son of a country bumpkin while Bacon was a classical scholar—ergo, Bacon wrote "Shakespeare." I don't say he didn't, because I don't know, but doesn't genius count for something? What about John Bunyan, Charles Dickens, Robert Burns, and a few others? Who wrote their works?

* * *

The mention of the god-like quality Genius reminds one of Oscar Wilde's famous mot. Mr. Healy once recalled to him that Max Nordau asserted that all men of genius are mad. Wilde replied, "I quite agree that all men of genius are insane; but Nordau forgets that all sane people are idiots." Could it be more neatly put?

* * *

And while speaking of Bacon I may as well refer once more, and for the last time, to the fatuous "Lord" Bacon heresy. See "T.P.'s Weekly," November 16th, 1906, p. 639, in which it is pointed out that Milton never styled him other than Sir Francis Bacon, and that even Kano Fischer, the German, gives him his correct title. Yet there are cataloguers still who expose their want of education or of observation by giving him his wrong prefix. It surely does not redound to the credit of any house from which such misnomers are permitted to be issued.

* * *

The catalogue of the Art Library of the late Mr. H. F. Hornby, of Liverpool (which he bequeathed to the Free Public Library of that city), has just been printed, and can be obtained for 14s. 6d. Mr. Hornby was one of the finest characters among book-collectors I ever met. When I returned from America he not only made heavy purchases from me but, knowing, that I had experienced heavy losses on that side, he offered me the sum of £200 as a gift, which, of course, I could not accept. He left many tender memories of himself in the town in which he lived.

Mr. J. C. Thomson, 10 Craven Gardens, Wimbledon, has edited and published a Bibliography of the Writings of Tennyson, which supersedes all others. Mr. Thomson had the invaluable aid of Mr. T. J. Wise, who placed at his disposal the bibliographical descriptions of seventeen of the "trial" issues, including several unknown to him.

A work of reference that every bookseller in the world should have is Mr. Bertram Dobell's "Catalogue of Books printed for Private Circulation, 1906." It is invaluable because to each book recorded is an interesting note, just such as would sell the work when catalogued; and the price is only 4s. 6d. It is obvious that, as is the case with all the best work of the world, the volume has been a labour of love, void of calculation as to whether it would "pay" or not.

From "Lloyd's Weekly News." Oct. 7th, 1906:—

"Nearly a quarter of a century ago Mr. John Loveday, a well-known bibliophile, announced to the literary world that, in examining a dark corner of his library, he found a little brown volume hidden behind two rows of books. He opened it, and saw that the title of the first work in it was a poem by James Gresham, printed in 1626, on a Cenci theme. At first he thought that the book had better be put on the fire, but on turning over a few leaves he espied the title of the second poem, 'The Passionate Pilgrime; or Certain Amorous Sonnets between Venus and Adonis,' being the third edition, published by William Jaggard in 1612. There were also 'The Mirror of Martyrs,' 1601; 'The King's Prophecie; or, Weeping Joy'; Spenser's 'Britain's Ida,' 1628; and John Marston's 'The Scourge of Villanie,' 1598.

The value of the little volume, however, lies in the Shakspearean poem, and although this is of the third edition, it is believed that only one other copy of that edition is extant—the specimen in the Bodieian. The second edition is apparently lost. Of the first, two copies are known, one having been found in a garret at Sir Charles Isham's house. For some time many collectors have been angling for this little volume, and now the book has been sold through the agency of Mr. Tom Hodge, of Sotheby's, for £2,000. It is almost unnecessary to add that the find has gone to America, where the £1,750. 'Richard III,' quarto, discovered at Great Missenden, went, and where Stratford-on-Avon itself would go—if allowed."

The ways of the post-office are strange and mysterious, not to say weird. For instance, you may type anything you like on a postcard, and send it for a halfpenny. If you type the same matter on a piece of paper, and send it in an open envelope, the post-office first takes your halfpenny, and then charges the fellow at the other end a penny for the pleasure of receiv'g it. But—and here is where the fun comes in—if you put twenty such typed notices into twenty envelopes and make a solemn affidavit to the office girl that they are all typed circulars, then the twenty fellows at the other end are let off. I once asked a clerk what they did it for, and he said he didn't know, and he believed the post-office authorities "didn't know themselves." He said there were lots of things in the Postal Guide he didn't understand, and had never found anyone that did. One thing I have discovered, viz., that you often save 50 per cent. by sending parcels by rail instead of by parcel post. You'd hardly believe it, but it's true. The fact is that the official world is always more or less thick-headed. They walk down to the office at 11 a.m., open their letters, then write an essay, or a play, or something of the kind, go to lunch, write another essay, go home tired out, and leave the hall-porter to settle the regulations. At least that's the only explanation I can think of to account for the extraordinary rules laid down.

B.A.R. is sorry to lose the green cover of its youthful days, but, like everything else in this mutable world, it has to give place to change. The reason for the alteration is that you cannot print illustrations on green paper, nor can you make printed matter so clear as it should be, and as advertisements appear on the covers the matter is really of importance.

Sale-catalogues are often far more diverting than the so-called comic papers. For instance, last quarter several bindings in a particular sale were described as having "Lutetia arms," or "arms of Lutetia" on the sides. I wondered who the damsel could be, for it sounded so much like "Lucretia," and might be a misprint. Then, the volumes in question being concerned with the fêtes in the City of Paris, I remembered that the ancient Latin designation of the metropolis of Gaul was Lutetia, or Lutetia Parisiorum. Now, as the books so catalogued refer to modern Paris, why could they not be described as having "the arms of the City of Paris," as was, correctly, formerly done? I don't know why, except that it must have been an attempt towards that fine writing which distinguishes journalesque from literature.

The other day I asked a friend who is a Government official if he could account for the general depression in trade and the "tightness" of money. I had in my mind the complaints of booksellers to that effect. He had no doubt whatever that it is the "backwash" of the late war that is responsible, and if this is so, and as it cannot last for ever, we may look forward with some reasonable hope to better times.

Extract: "Thanks for the numbers of B.A.R., but I do not take in any works of the kind, and keep works of reference down to a minimum." Now, is it to be wondered at that this dealer is rarely heard of? Works of reference are as vital to a bookseller as is a place in which to transact his business.

The bookselling world seems to be becoming poetic in its old age. The following was dropped in my letter-box the other day;—

A CALL TO THE SLUMBEROUS ONES

Haste, Troglodytes! Still B.A.R. awaits you!
 No longer dwell in bibliographic caves!
 Your conscience for your folly surely rates you!
 Think of the precious time the marvel saves!
 I'm told—it seems most strange in strenuous times—
 You still grind on with some imperfect tool;
 You surely don't wish to be left behind
 While brainier men exclaim "There lags a fool!"
 Wake up! Emerge!—the light of day
 Is not so dreary as Cimmerian gloom—
 Or if you don't, the writing on the wall
 Must soon prognosticate your coming doom.
 Subscribe! Write! Wire! Secure it while you may!
 The modern world all dunderheads behooves;
 If unashamed and naked still you dwell
 Some other man will run off with your clothes!

* * *

A subscriber said to me the other day, "I had no idea you had so much fun in you." Well, if you don't laugh at life you must perforce cry at it, and it seems much wiser to laugh. For the follies, weaknesses, wickednesses, meannesses, and unmerited mishaps to which poor human nature is subject are so manifold that existence would be insupportable if you didn't shame the devil by shewing him that you don't care a snap of the finger for him and his dirty works. That's my philosophy of life, and I manage to keep fairly young on it. If you accustom yourself to think in æons and systems, so-called "misfortunes" (which are really blessings in disguise if they make you master of yourself) don't trouble you much. You merely turn to your work, to books, and to nature, and forget such things.

BOOKSELLERS' CATALOGUES

N.B.—All booksellers should put us on their list of names, as one never knows where, in any part of the world, a notice of a catalogue attracts attention and leads to business. In addition, we have a department for extra-illustrated books, and we constantly make purchases ourselves of prints, portraits, &c., from subscribers' catalogues.)

(Great Britain and Ireland)

Bath.—B. & J. F. Meehan, 32 Gay St. Catalogues 60-61 (forming one complete alphabet) of Rare, Valuable, and Useful Books, Ancient and Modern, in all Classes of Literature, under the heads of Africa, Alpine, Angling, Art, Autographs, Baskerville Press, Bewick, Bookplates, Bristol, Cookery, Cruikshank, Dickens, Education, Furniture, Herbaria, London, Napoleon, Occult, Shakespeare, Somers, Thackeray, Wilde, Wordsworth, &c.

Birmingham.—Edward Baker's Great Shop, 14-16 John Bright St. Catalogues 240-243 of Books (chiefly Old) in Every Department of Literature, and Books of all Descriptions at Bargain Prices. One of Mr. Baker's specialities is Railroadiana, of which he has published a catalogue of the most remarkable collection yet formed. The subject has great interest now; in fifty years the interest will have increased fifty-fold with the development of motor-traffic and aeroplanes.

— Wm. Brough & Sons, 313 Broad Street. Catalogue of a Very Interesting Collection of Choice Books in General Literature, for the most part equal to new, including a number of Handsomely Bound Sets of the Works of Standard Authors, and a Collection of Rare, Curious, and Out-of-the-Way Items, etc., etc., also a large selection of Modern Literature, truthfully described and reasonably priced, including a fine copy of Justinian's Digests or Pandects, 1528, price £15 15s., accompanied by a note which should cause twenty orders to be sent for it. Messrs. Brough state that each catalogue contains an entirely different selection.

— William Downing's Book Catalogue. A few Beautiful Flowers gathered from the Wide and Wonderful Garden of Literature, or a Choice Collection of Books remarkable for their Beauty, their Symmetry, their Perfection. Offered for Sale at the Little Well within that Garden known as The Chaucer's Head Library, 5, Temple Row. Every genuine bibliophile will of course write for this catalogue. The title is too alluring for it to be passed by. Mr. Downing issues also his November catalogue of volumes relating to Art and Artists of Ancient and Modern Schools; books of great beauty of Typography and Illustration; Standard Works, in good editions, of well-known Authors; an assortment of Modern Literature; and a specially good collection of Spiritualistic, Theosophic, Astrologic, Yogic, and Occult Works.

— A. J. Featherstone, 91, Hill St. A New List of Desirable Books, including Burton's translation of the 'Arabian Nights,' a fine set of the Sporting Magazine, 84 vols, 1825-66, price £45; &c..

— John Hitchman, Cathedral Book Stores, 51 Cherry Street. Annual Clearance Catalogue; Bargains in Books. Elias Ashmole's Theatrum Chemicum Britannicum, 1652, is one of the bargains. Also Catalogue No. 443, includes Miss Burney's The Wanderer, first edition, boards, uncut; Neale's Views of Seats, and other important books.

— G. T. Juckes & Co., 85 Aston St. Catalogues Nos. 172, 173, 174, and a Catalogue of Books issued specially for distribution in America. The latter contains such books as The Vicar of Wakefield, with Rowlandson's plates, a clean copy, for £8 8s, and cheap at the price, as London auctions go; a rare volume of Dramatic Characters, 1770, being 24 coloured plates of Garrick, Mrs. Yates, Moody, and other famous performers; &c., &c.

— Saint Jude's Depot, 51 John Bright Street. A Complete List of the Arundel Society Chromos, also Engravings, Books, Ivory Casts, etc.

— A. D. Woodhouse, 35 John Bright St. Monthly Catalogue of Theological Books and others, including some Ruskins and some very low-priced "Bargain" volumes.

More, 1557, English Books Printed Abroad, Montaigne, 1632, London Magazine, 1732-1773.
- Cambridge.—Galloway & Porter, 30 Sidney St. Recent Purchases in all classes of Literature; Art and Illustrated Books; Baskerville Press; Classical Books, Mathematics, Theology, &c., &c.
- Derby.—Frank Murray. Clearance Catalogue of Books, Part 1, including General Literature, Angling and Sport, History and Biography, Classics, Economics, Finely-illustrated Topography and Travel. Part 2 of this Clearance Catalogue, containing Music (including a fine collection of original editions, in full score, of Handel, Mozart, Bach, etc., etc., and a collection of old operas), Old Books, Poetry and the Drama, Theology, Miniature Editions of the 17th and 18th Centuries, Autographs, &c., &c., will be issued shortly.
- Dublin.—Clery & Co., Ltd. Catalogue of Books. Miscellaneous, Biographical, Theological, Historical, Fiction, and of those Specially Relating to Ireland, comprising Selections from the Libraries of the late Very Rev. Canon Quinn, Rev. William Reynell, Mr. La Touche, &c., &c.
- Edinburgh.—Alexander W. Macphail, 10 St. Giles St. Rarities in Scottish and other Literature. Curious, Rare, and Old Books and Pamphlets, for Collectors of all Tastes. It includes the first edition of 'Paradise Regained,' £5 15s, and Drayton's Poly-Olbion, 1622, £1 15s.
- Glasgow.—James McKenzie, 238 Buchanan St. Catalogue of Second-hand Books in Miscellaneous Literature. A good, useful, general Catalogue of 2,794 lots in 68 pages.
- Harrogate.—I. Symington, Ye Old Booke Shoppe, Market Place. Mr. Symington issues a weekly list of new purchases, and will send it post free on application.
- Hereford.—Thomas Carver, The County Bookseller, 8 High Town. Catalogues 46 and 47, comprising the Libraries from Cubberley House, Ross, and Hope Court, Ludlow; a portion of the Rare Collection of Engravings, &c., formed by J. W. Lloyd, Esq., of Kington, and other items. Mr. Carver wisely devotes a whole page to a resumé of the historical and literary haunts of Hereford, among them being the birthplaces of Nell Gwynne and David Garrick; the Cathedral, which Ruskin termed one of the finest types of cathedral architecture in the West of England; and the wonderful Chained Library, said to be one of the most valuable collections of chained books in existence. Hereford is, in short, a city that no travelled bibliophile will miss visiting when he comes to England.
- Leamington.—Simmons & Waters, 10 Spencer St. Catalogue of Old Engravings, Portraits, etc., including items from the Collection of Signor Rosario Aspa. Catalogue of Topographical and Antiquarian Books relating to the British Isles. Catalogue of Modern Novels by Noted Authors. Catalogue of Ancient and Modern Books from Two Libraries just purchased. Catalogue of Antiquarian Books, including Topographical Views relating to Warwickshire. Messrs. Simmons & Waters are in the heart of the Shakespeare country, and no visitor should neglect to call at their interesting establishment. They have also a number of extra-illustrated books on view.
- Leeds.—James Miles, 32 Guildford St. Catalogues 134, 135, 136, of Rare, Standard, and Useful Books, a Collection of Books relating to the County of York, Music and Musical Literature, &c., &c. De Bry's Voyages, 1591, is one of the rarities; a fine and large copy of Chaucer's Works, 1561, Mirror for Magistrates, 1610, George Wither's Emblems, 1635, John Vickers' Jehovah-Jireh, 1644, and many another interesting book. Mr. Miles makes a point of avoiding soiled, imperfect, or undesirable stock.
- Joseph Milligan, 29 Welton Mount.—Catalogues of Books in Various Classes of Literature, including many books on America, First Editions, a Complete Set of the Aldine Poets, a fine copy of John Lill's Six Courte Comedies, 1632, Guillim's Heraldry, 1724, Journals of Major Rogers in North America, 1756, &c. It has also the General Catalogue of Books, printed by S. Roycroft in 1680, and Mr. Milligan quotes a most interesting extract from the preface, dealing with London Book Auctions, showing that the conditions then were much the same as to-day.

- London.—John Buchanan, 49 Gt. Queen Street, W.C.—Catalogues 105 and 106 of Second-hand Books, Ancient and Modern, comprising History, Biography, Voyages and Travels, Illustrated Works, Science and Natural History, &c.
- Bertram Dobell, 77 Charing Cross Road, W.C.—Catalogues of Rare Books, Nos. 143, 144, containing such volumes as Beaumont and Fletcher's Wild-Goose Chase, 1652; Life in Paris, large paper, boards, uncut, 1822; Keats' Endymion, boards, uncut, 1818; Lamb's Works, presentation copy to Southey, boards, 1818; a collection of Old English Pamphlets; Shakespeareana; and innumerable tempting items. Mr. Dobell should be written to for his prospectus of unknown and inedited works of the 16th and 17th centuries which he proposes to publish, under his own editorship, and which is too lengthy for quotation here.
- Mr. J. Haslam, 14 Talbot Court, E.C., has opened additional and larger premises at 15 Broad Street Place, E.C., opposite Broad Street Station.
- Mr. J. Jacobs, 149 Edgware Road, W.—Clearance Catalogue (previous to extensive alterations) of Standard, Interesting and Rare Books in All Classes of Literature; all clean and perfect. The catalogue deserves to be a tremendous success, for Mr. Jacobs offers a prize of five guineas to the person who discovers the greatest number of orthographic errors in it. If this is not being up-to-date I don't know what is.
- Neville & George, 39a Harrington Road, South Kensington, S.W.—Book Bargains! A Catalogue issued to the trade alone.
- James Roche, 35 St. Martin's Court, St. Martin's Lane, W.C.—Catalogues of Books in all Classes of Literature, comprising History, Biography, Travel and Fiction, and a small collection of Arundel Chromos. Mr. Roche has recently removed from Oxford Street, and is more than satisfied with the change of locality. St. Martin's Court is in fact rapidly becoming an annexe of Charing Cross Road, into which it runs.
- Manchester.—Albert Sutton, 43 Bridge Street.—Catalogues, 144, 145, 146, 147, containing in the aggregate nearly 3,500 second-hand works of varying scarcity and interest. But a really remarkable catalogue or the series is No. 146, being a Catalogue of Reprints of Rare and Valuable Books, and the first catalogue of its kind. It contains descriptions of upwards of 1,200 reprints, some of which are from unique volumes, and many are of facsimiles of priceless originals. The catalogue contains 24 reproductions from the illustrations of the quaintest, oddest character possible to imagine, among them being two portraits of Shakespeare and two diverting figures of the "Devil." The catalogue serves as a guide to such publications, and should be got and be kept.
- Newton Abbott.—Wilfrid Brown. List of Books relating to the West of England. Mr. Brown was formerly for some years with Mr. Daniell, and is now a bookseller and librarian at Newton Abbot, dealing in scarce books as well as new ones. Mr. Brown was also once Cataloguer of St Paul's Cathedral Library, and of Lincoln College Library, Oxford.
- Northampton.—J. S. Billingham, "Ye Olde Playe House," 1a Marefield.—Catalogue of Ancient and Modern Second-hand Books, with a few rare and First Editions, also a Collection of Tracts relating to the Civil Wars, etc.
- Norwich.—W. Hunt, 14 Orford Hill.—Catalogues, 125, 126, of Interesting Books, including Local Topography, Old Fashioned Books, etc., including the first Book of Common Prayer issued in the reign of Charles I.
- Oxford.—H. G. Gadney, 3 Turl Street.—Catalogue of Second-hand Books, Ancient and Modern, classified under Antiquity, Art, Architecture, Biography, Classics, English Literature, History (modern), Law, Music, Philosophy, Science, Sport, Theology, Topography, Travel, and Miscellaneous; in a cover which exhibits much taste as regards type and contrast of colouring.
- Parker & Son, 27 Broad Street.—Catalogues of Oriental Books from the Libraries of Capt. St. John, (Teacher of Hindustani at Oxford), and of Prof. Platts (1,074 lots); also a Catalogue of Books under various heads: French Revolution, Oxfordshire, Philosophy, Sporting, etc. Messrs. Parker have recently opened an extension of their second-hand department at 6 New College Street, opposite Hertford College. The building was formerly New College Choir School, and appears to be an ideal place for quiet inspection by an intending purchaser.
- Slatter & Rose, 16 High Street.—Pocket Catalogue of Classics, with a few books under the heads of Scripture, Mathematics, and Logic, and a view of their premises

Reading.—William Smith & Son, 109-111 London Street.—Catalogues of Old, Rare, and Curious, as well as some Modern Second-hand Books, also portraits, views, maps, &c., from the Collection of Lady Currie and other sources. A selection of Chap Books is included, and some Americana.

Rochdale.—James Clegg, 124 Drake Street.—The Rochdale Catalogue of Second-hand Books, many Rare and Curious, also a Catalogue consisting entirely of Books from the Library of the late John Bright, M.P., of One Ash, Rochdale. All booksellers and librarians will recall with gratitude Mr. Clegg's invaluable International Directory of Booksellers, with its thousand and one items of information on points indispensable to all who have to do with books.

Saffron Walden.—P. M. Barnard, 4 Mount Pleasant Road.—Catalogue of Second-hand Books, viz., Bibles, Biblical Commentaries, Patristic, Sermons, General Theological List, Miscellaneous List, Cheap Clearance Lists. Mr. Barnard is about to remove to more commodious premises at Tunbridge Wells.

York.—The Eclectic Book Co., 16 Stonegate.—Catalogue of Books of General Interest, comprising Travels, Theology, Science, Yorkshire Items, &c. The Eclectic Book Co. has one of the most picturesque old English houses possible to imagine for its premises, gabled timber and plaster work, and the catalogue has a view of the front.

FOREIGN

Amsterdam.—Frederick Muller & Cie., 10 Doelenstraat.—Catalogue de Livres Rare et Curieux, Costumes et Uniforms, Militaria, Escrime, Sport, Entrées, Beaux-Arts, Gravures sur Bois, Incunables, Bibles, Recueils de Portraits, Livres Illustrés, Musique, Littérature, Réformation, Pères de l'église, Amérique, Australie, Afrique, Indes Orientales, Russie, Journaux, etc., etc. A catalogue of high importance, with an Index of Subjects, and 20 reproductions of illustrations from early-printed books, etc., including two blocks containing eight figures of American Indians, from Jacquard's work, Les Divers Pourtraicts et Figures faicts sur les moeurs des Habitants du Nouveau Monde, 1610.

Chicago Ill., U.S.A.—The Morris Book Shop, 171 Madison Street, and 152 Wabash Avenue.—Catalogue No. 48, wherein is listed a most remarkable book, Queen Elizabeth's Bible, with her autograph, and the Mackenzie Queen Victoria's Bible, with recent purchases from London Sales, from the Libraries of Lady Currie, Sir W. M. Banks, Harrison Weir, and others; Angling, Early Printing, English "Remainders," First Editions of Thackeray, Dickens, Lang, &c. Queen Elizabeth's bible is of course of overwhelming interest. It was purchased in Michigan, from the descendants of an old Presbyterian minister, and is supposed to have been taken from some English cathedral during one of the Cromwellian raids. Anyhow, Mr. Morris brought the volume to London, and submitted it for examination to the authorities of the British Museum, and states that he now has a document which absolutely bears out the authenticity of the signature. It is the only known book in which the Queen's signature appears, and the price asked is £1,000.

Florence, Italy.—Leo S. Olschki, Lung 'Arno Acciaiuoli. Bulletin Mensuel des Derniers Achats. No. 56.—Section D to G is of the usual high character of Signor Olschki's catalogues.

La Haye, Holland.—Martinus Nijhoff, Nobelstraat, 18. Livres Anciens et Modernes, Encyclopédies, Bibliographie Imprimerie, Editions de luxe, Reliure, Géographie, Ethnographie, Voyages (Afrique, Amérique, Asie, Australie, Cartographie, Colomb, Congo, Europe, Indes néerl., Madagascar, Philippines.) Histoire Politique et Ecclésiastique, Biographie (Allemagne, Angleterre, Belgique, Bohême, Croisades, Espagne, Finlande, France, Grèce, Italie, Jésuites, Pays-Bas, Portugal.) Paleographie. Généalogie et Héraldique. Numismatique, Sphragistique, Médailles. Droit. The catalogue consists of 715 important lots on 80 pages arranged in subjects. The section Amerique is an interesting one. Another of Mr. Nijhoff's catalogues is as follows:—Series Importantes de Périodiques et de Publications de Sociétés Savantes, 758 lots.

Salt Lake City, Utah, U.S.A.—The Shepard Book Company, 272 South State Street. Send for Catalogues of Travels, Roycroft Books, Sports, Thackerayana, Dickensiana, Mary Queen of Scots, Napoleoniana, Elton Press, Association Books, Miscellaneous and Bibliography, Autograph and Association, Books with Autograph Letters, Poems, etc., Histories and Books on the Rebellion, Rare Books and Magazines. From the book point of view the Company must be a shining light in the desert, for I know of no other dealers in rarities for many, many miles around.

CORRESPONDENCE undertaken between English and foreign booksellers and bookbuyers.

The following is an example of Messrs. Middleton's work, from a catalogue issued by Messrs. Wm. Brough & Son, 313, Broad Street, Birmingham;—

Justinian's Digesta or Pandects.—A Colossal Work, published in Paris just after the Sack of Rome, and bearing the title, QUINQUAGINTA LIBRORUM DIGESTORUM SEU PANDECTARUM; 5 fine large thick folio volumes, cum glossis, beautifully printed with Gothic Type, in red and black ink, with woodcut initials, in heavy oak boards, covered with old calf, blind tooled. EX INCLYTA PARRHISIORUM LUTETIA APUD CLAUDIUM CHEVALLONIU, SUB SOLE AUREO IN VIA JACOBÆA. IN A FINE STATE OF PRESERVATION. £15 15s. (Paris), 1528-30

THE FIRST COMMERCIAL PRINTING OFFICE IN FRANCE was opened about the year 1473, at the sign of the "Golden Sun," in James' Street, Paris.

To this house the FIRST THREE PRINTERS, who had been brought from GERMANY, went and set up business when their University patrons were about to leave France.

How long the three pioneers stayed depended, of course, on the demand for the skill of the first craftsmen of their kind; but we find the "Golden Sun," nearly sixty years later, of such great importance as to be able to turn out under its master—CLAUDE CHEVALLONIU—an enormous work of this sort, in a style such as the ordinary compositor of the present day would be incapable of approaching.

Looking at the whole book—consisting, as it does, of nearly 4,000 BEAUTIFUL FOLIOS—it seems difficult to believe that it was the work of the men of the first half-century of the era of Printing.

THE EUROPE OF THAT TIME must have been a wild-man's land. ROME itself had, after a thousand years, again been sacked, and was lying much in the state that SAN FRANCISCO now is.

CHARLES V., the ruler of Spain and her vast Colonies, and FRANCIS I., swayed the destiny of the "civilised" world. When this book was printed in his capital, FRANCIS had already earned the reputation of "PATRON OF LETTERS"; and whatever else flourished, it is plain from a volume of this sort that first-class printers were in demand.

WHY this enormous work was actually required at this particular time, and how the MANUSCRIPT OF IT HAD BEEN PRESERVED so well since the famous EMPEROR OF THE WEST had WRITTEN it all a THOUSAND YEARS BEFORE, are questions which others must solve.

We need only note the very great BEAUTY of the old GOTHIC LETTERPRESS, page after page, in its red and black—most picturesque in aspect. Every paragraph has its initial in red; EVERY PAGE its HEADING, likewise in RED TYPE. Constantly we see charming little woodcuts for initials; and one remarkably HANDSOME WOODCUT, about 7 by 6, of the Imperial Author of the book in Council; the borders of the title-page showing wonderful skill with birds, grotesque animals, and "mermen," with remarkably expressive faces. The day of beautiful MANUSCRIPTS had by no means faded out of memory, and their beauty had to be rivalled, but we still see here that men preferred to retain even the CONTRACTIONS.

The fine old work is for the most part in a magnificent state of PRESERVATION, and is one of THE FIRST COLOSSAL BOOKS EVER PRINTED IN THE WORLD.

Book-Auction Records

This publication is now complete from the commencement in 1892 to the present date.

Volume 1 contains 19,594 Records for the Season 1902-3, and four Illustrations, including Portraits of the late Mr. J. W. Bouton, of New York, and Mr. W. D. Reeves, of Reeves & Turner, London. It is out of print, but is about to be reprinted in one alphabet (thus avoiding the necessity for an Index), and it will contain a view of John Keats' house at Hampstead, where he wrote the 'Ode to a Nightingale.'

Volume 1, Part 2, contains 14,611 Records for the Season 1903-4, and an Unpublished Portrait of Thackeray, drawn by the late Sir Henry Thompson in 1857. It is believed to be the only portrait of Thackeray in profile, and was made without his knowledge. Sir Henry Thompson was Thackeray's surgeon, and was also a skilled portrait-painter.

Volume 2 contains 15,751 Records for the season 1904-5, and four Plates, viz.: Puttick & Simpson's Auction Room, the Bodleian Copy of the First Folio Shakespeare (recently re-purchased for £3,000), a Sale at Sotheby's, and the house of Aldus Manutius at Venice, from a drawing by Charles Martin.

Volume 3 contains 15,200 Records for the Season 1905-6, and four Plates, viz., Hodgson's Auction Room; a Portrait of Mr. Edwin Parsons; a coloured view of the Grand Pump Room, Bath (described in Pickwick); and a Portrait of the late Dr. Richard Garnett, of the British Museum, with Memoir and Biography of his Works.

Volume 4 is in course of publication. The First Part contains a Plate of the great Reference Library, Birmingham.

Each Volume is published at £1 1s. ($5), and any volume or the whole will be sent on inspection, carriage free, on application.

'Book-Auction Records' has been received with great appreciation, and is subscribed for by booksellers and public libraries throughout the world.

BRISTOL: ITS LIBRARIES AND ITS BOOKSELLERS

BY STANLEY HUTTON

Those who know her well love the old and picturesque city of CCC—Churches, Charities, Cabots, Colston, Chatterton and Coleridge. Truly her history reveals a wealth of imperishable associations second to no provincial city of the Empire.

Great in martime commerce, her merchant venturers were putting forth in their little cockle-shells in the fifteenth-century on every known sea, when Liverpool was but a mere apology for a port.

The difference in the status of the two ports is strikingly shown as late as 1634 by the fact that whilst on Bristol Charles I. levied "ship money" to the extent of 2,000

Subscribers abroad are requested to note that a volume entitled 'Book-Auction Records,' Vol 1, Part 2, has been recently published. It contains the records, (14,611 in number), for the season 1903-4, and the price of the volume bound in red art-linen, to match the set, is £1 1s od. The records in question were not published at the time, and subscribers should note the fact that no set of B.A.R. is complete without the volume in question, as there has hitherto been a gap of a whole year. The volume has for a frontispiece an unpublished portrait of Thackeray, by his physician, Sir Henry Thompson, and is the only portrait of Thackeray in existence showing his profile.

were planted in America." A final allusion to this "extraordinary pioneer of the expansion of England" occurs in a charter granted him in 1639, when he was seventy years of age, by which Charles I. conceded to him and his heirs the entire province of Maine, New England, minus certain reservations to the Crown.

A direct personal association of Bristol with the United States is the fact that the famous father of a still more famous son was a Bristolian—this was none other than Admiral Sir William Penn, the right hand of Admiral Blake when he defeated the Dutch.

In the church of St. Mary Redcliff, in which he lies buried, are still to be seen his armour and the tattered remains of his flags,

His great son William Penn married a Bristolian named Hannah Callowhill, at the Friend's Meeting House there on January 5th, 1696. It was during Penn's residence in Bristol that it is thought he planned the building of the streets adjoining the Friend's Meeting House known as Philadelphia, Penn, Hollister, and Callowhill.

Still in possession of the Friends at Bristol is the actual lease for a year of Pennsylvania granted by William Penn preparatory to the mortgage on which several Friends of Bristol and other places advanced him in 1708 the sum of £6,600.

Those who know her well love the old and picturesque city of CCC—Churches, Charities, Cabots, Colston, Chatterton and Coleridge. Truly her history reveals a wealth of imperishable associations second to no provincial city of the Empire.

Great in maritime commerce, her merchant venturers were putting forth in their little cockle-shells in the fifteenth-century on every known sea, when Liverpool was but a mere apology for a port.

The difference in the status of the two ports is strikingly shown as late as 1634 by the fact that whilst on Bristol Charles I. levied "ship money" to the extent of 2,000 guineas, Liverpool's contribution was but a beggarly £15.

From Bristol sailed in the little "Matthew," John Cabot—peer to the great Columbus himself, who "called in a New World to redress the balance of the old" when he touched the mainland of North America in the early summer of 1497.

John Cabot has rightly been termed the great founder of England's maritime supremacy. A noble tower, costing £3,000, erected on Brandon's green and lofty hill—like some mighty warder watching o'er the town—fitly commemorates that empire-making achievement.

As far back as 1480 two ships of eighty tons burden, belonging to John Jay, merchant of Bristol; whose monument is in the world-famous church of St. Mary Redcliff; adventured forth in quest of the Islands of Brazil.

Fired by Cabot's great example, we find Robert Thorne, an eminent Bristol merchant, urging on Henry VIII. the desirability of further adventuring. Said he: "With a small number of ships there might be discovered divers new lands, and kingdoms in which without doubt your Grace shall win perpetual glory, and your subjects infinite profit."

In 1577 that fine old sea-dog Martin Frobisher came to Bristol after a vain attempt to discover the elusive North-West Passage. From Bristol too was promoted one of the earliest attempts to find and colonise the New England of the Pilgrim Fathers when a gallant seaman, one Martin Pring, set out in the year 1603 "through the reasonable inducement of Richard Hak'uyt (of "Voyages" fame), prebendary of the cathedral. "The chief furtherers" of this undertaking being those eminent citizens Aldermen Aldworth and Whitson—names famous in Bristol's annals.

The vessels, from a modern maritime point of view, were absurdly small for the purpose. The "Speedwell," was but fifty tons, whilst her companion, the "Discover" was only twenty. They ultimately touched the coast of North Virginia at a point which afterwards became memorable as "Plymouth," where landed, seventeen years later, the Pilgrim Fathers. Having surveyed the coast they set sail for England, and landing at Bristol, quaintly reported that the land was "full of God's good blessings."

A great coloniser long associated with Bristol was Sir Ferdinando Gorges—the Father of English Colonisation in North America. Through his efforts a Virginia Company was established in 1606, and was granted a charter by Charles I. "This," says Bancroft, the American historian, "was the first colonial charter under which the English were planted in America." A final allusion to this "extraordinary pioneer of the expansion of England" occurs in a charter granted him in 1639, when he was seventy years of age, by which Charles I. conceded to him and his heirs the entire province of Maine, New England, minus certain reservations to the Crown.

A direct personal association of Bristol with the United States is the fact that the famous father of a still more famous son was a Bristolian—this was none other than Admiral Sir William Penn, the right hand of Admiral Blake when he defeated the Dutch.

In the church of St. Mary Redcliff, in which he lies buried, are still to be seen his armour and the tattered remains of his flags.

His great son William Penn married a Bristolian named Hannah Callowhill, at the Friend's Meeting House there on January 5th, 1696. It was during Penn's residence in Bristol that it is thought he planned the building of the streets adjoining the Friend's Meeting House known as Philadelphia, Penn, Hollister, and Callowhill.

Still in possession of the Friends at Bristol is the actual lease for a year of Pennsylvania granted by William Penn preparatory to the mortgage on which several Friends of Bristol and other places advanced him in 1708 the sum of £6,600.

A relic of supreme interest to America is the box made from the tree, under the shade of which the great coloniser signed his famous Treaty with the Indians, which will be found in the Bristol Art Gallery.

Not the least among Bristol's associations with the United States is the undoubted fact that, designed by Brunel, Bristol built the first steamship to bridge the Atlantic—The "Great Western."

In regard to Bristol's literary associations they are rich indeed; Grocyn the famous scholar and friend of Erasmus was educated there. Pepys has immortalised the city in his Diary and called it a "second London." Addison had relatives there, and took the Hotwell waters, and is said to have written some of his "Spectator" papers in Bristol. Pope, too, has visited and graphically described it. David Hume lived there, likewise Fanny Burney, Maria Edgeworth, Mrs. Piozzi, Tobias Smollett, Crabbe, De Quincey, John Sterling and Charles Kingsley; whilst many another like Defoe, Johnson, Shelley, Ruskin, Carlyle and Tennyson have visited the metropolis of the West.

There, too, was born Chatterton—"the sleepless soul that perished in his pride," Southey, Hartley Coleridge, Hannah More, Thomas Lovell Beddoes and John Addington Symonds. And was it not in Bristol that the English Muse took up her abode in the closing period of the Eighteenth century, culminating in the publication there of the epoch-making work, "The Lyrical Ballads." Visitors to the city can still see the house wherein first met the world-famous poets, Wordsworth and Coleridge; a meeting that Professor Knight considers was one of the most remarkable conjunctions of genius in the literary history of England. Coleridge and Southey were both married to Bristolians at St. Mary Redcliff.

Burke, too, and Macaulay, are imperishably associated with Bristol, the former having represented her in Parliament from 1774 to 1780, whilst the latter's mother was a Bristolian; he himself lived there for some months, and was all his life a friend of Hannah More; and has he not embalmed the city in his famous History.

At the Bristol Baptist College—the home of so many rarities, literary and otherwise—is the world-famed first edition of Tyndall's New Testament; the only perfect copy known, and absolutely priceless. There, too, can be seen the veritable Bible Concordance used by the immortal dreamer of Bedford, bearing his mark of ownership—"John Bunyan, his book."

Whilst in the magnificent Art Gallery, the recent gift of Lord Winterstoke, a wealthy and public-spirited Bristolian, at a cost of £40,000, are to be seen many literary treasures, including Chatterton's Will, and dozens of letters of Coleridge and Southey, including a lock of hair of the former. Also Cowper's chair and a casket presented to Hannah More by David Garrick, made from Shakespeare's famous mulberry-tree, Stratford-on-Avon. And it must never be forgotten that a Bristol ship brought home to that port Alexander Selkirk, who inspired Defoe to write his immortal classic—"Robinson Crusoe." Bristol's association with fiction is one of the most fascinating chapters of her imperishable literary history.

Finally, any allusion to Bristol's wealth of literary associations would be incomplete without the inclusion of the name of Mr. J. W. Arrowsmith, the famous publisher of Hugh Conway's "Called Back," Anthony Hope's "Prisoner of Zenda," and many another novel read by readers all over the world.

Bristol is justly proud of the history, number, and size of its Libraries, now, 1907, ten in number, catering for the intellectual needs of a population verging on 400,000 inhabitants.

As early as the fifteenth-century a library to all intents and purposes free to the citizens existed, called the Kalendaries, attached to the Church of Al-Hallowen or All Saints, where lies the body of Edward Colston. The library was situated over the north aisle of that church, each book being secured by a chain. This library was unfortunately destroyed by fire in the year 1466.

Later, however, in the early years of the seventeenth-century, a public spirited citizen named Robert Redwood, gave in 1613 his lodge, "nere the Marsh, to be converted to a libraryre."

In the Mayors' Register (fol. 70) is the following entry:—"This year was erected and builded the library in the Marsh; Doctor Toby Mathews and Robert Redwood were the founders thereof, and Richard Williams, Vicar of St. Leonard's, was the first master or keeper thereof."

Dr. Toby Mathew, Archbishop of York, was born on Old Bristol Bridge, and he subsequently gave to his native city a number of books "for the free use of the merchants and shopkeepers of the city."

Many of the books he gave can still be identified by his autograph; one such, the "Ecclesiastica Historica," published in 1562, bears the following inscription, "Tobias Eboracum, Vita Mihi Christus, Mors Lucrum."

After passing through the stirring period of the great Civil War unscathed the library was rebuilt in 1740, and later extended its hospitality to the collection of the newly-formed Library Society in 1773, a kindness, unfortunately, that was ungenerously taken advantage of. There, nearly a quarter of a century later, might have been seen ascending, almost daily, the fine old oak staircase, three young men whose names are now world-famous—Samuel Taylor Coleridge, Robert Southey, and Humphrey Davy, and at a much later period their friend Walter Savage Landor.

The registers are still carefully preserved in which are recorded the works lent out to those famous borrowers, signed for in their own autograph. It is a record of absorbing interest to all literary students. Writing from Nether Stowey, in May, 1797, to the Librarian, Coleridge says in the course of his letter:—"I subscribe to your library not to read novels or books of quick reading and easy digestion, but to get books which I cannot get elsewhere, books of massy knowledge."

Ultimately, in the year 1876, the benefit of possessing Libraries was, by the adoption of the Public Libraries Act of 1874, extended to other portions of the city, and to-day it possesses one of the first systems of Public Libraries in the British Isles, recently crowned by the acquisition of the great Central Library, standing next to the Cathedral, which has superseded the Old Central (see plate), built through the munificence of the late Vincent Stuckey Lean, who bequeathed a sum of £50,000 for the express purpose.

In Art, Bristol has given the world a Muller, a Lawrence, and a Baily. In Science, a Davy, Prichard, Budd, and Bright. Whilst nearly all the "stars" of the English Drama have been more or less associated with the city, for Bristol, with the sister-city of Bath, has been the great nursery of dramatic talent.

In Music, she is represented by Child, Pearsall, Wesley, and Clara Butt, the world-renowned songstress.

Whilst in Religion, Bristol is imperishably associated with the Wesleys, John and Charles, Whitefield, Hall, Fox, and Butler, not forgetting the witty Sydney Smith, Archbishop Whately, and Dean Church and Charles Kingsley, both these latter having spent their schooldays at Bristol.

Far-famed, too, are her philanthropic merchant-princes, whose beautiful almshouses are dotted about her old-world streets, the greatest and most famous of whom was Edward Colston—the man of Bristol. Whilst one stone remains upon another of the city his name will be kept in undying remembrance. Asked on one occasion why he never married, his beautiful reply was—

"Every widow is my wife and every orphan is my child."

Would you see in an age of questioning what faith can achieve, visit the noble orphanage of Ashley Down, Bristol, founded by the great Christian philanthropist, George Muller.

As to the beauties of nature abounding in and around Bristol, read William Black's "Adventures of a House-Boat," and Clark Russell's "Jack's Courtship."

In conclusion, Bristol is a city teeming with interest of an uncommon kind and full of imperishable memories.

In regard to the "trade," among the leading men in Bristol none are better known for enterprising probity, magnitude of operations, and culture, than the firm of William George's Sons.

Few men of literary or book-loving tastes but what sooner or later find their way to that bookselling Mecca of the West of England. Once there, the charm of unrestricted access to the hundreds of well-stocked shelves is a real delight to the bibliophile. In brief, their establishment is not merely a book-store but a fine library as well. Among the many distinguished bookmen who have foregathered there have been the late John Addington Symonds, and Canon Ainger.

The firm owes its foundation to the late William George, a fine antiquarian and historical student, who was a most reliable authority on all matters connected with the Cabots and Chatterton. In fact, on all biographical matters connected with the city he was a treasury of accurate knowledge to whom writers for the "D.N.B." were only too glad to apply for aid when dealing with Bristol's famous worthies.

Born at Dunster, he was apprenticed to his uncle William Strong, a well-known Bristol bookseller, and in 1847 started for himself in Bath Street. Among his many customers was the world-famous poet Algernon Swinburne, whose pre-University education was received in Bristol. Ultimately he removed to the fine position at the Top Corner of Park Street, his death occurring in 1900. Prior to which he had taken no active part in the business for many years, his sons Messrs. Frank and C. W. George having controlled it from about 1878 till 1905, when the former died, since which Mr. Charles George has been the head of the firm.

The firm's trademark is Cabot's head, emblematic of one of their specialities—

Americana, whilst Eastern, Australasian, Military and Naval Works, not forgetting "Old and Curious," are also among the many subjects to which they devote considerable attention. So numerous have been their published catalogues and lists that now (1907) they run into hundreds.

They have also published local works and pamphlets. And it is needless to say they are very keen on the literature of Bristol, the Western Counties, and Wales.

Altogether Messrs. George's Sons are worthily maintaining the best traditions of the bookselling trade.

Another leading firm is that of Messrs. James Fawn & Son, Queen's Road, established by that scholarly bookseller Thomas Kerslake in 1828. Joined in 1840 by Mr. James Fawn, from that long period of over sixty years it has been conjointly continued by the latter and his son, with unbroken success—Mr. Kerslake retiring in 1881.

Though not specialising in any particular branch of literature, yet they single out for special favour Topography, and the great County Histories therein included. In regard to new books they are chiefly concerned with choice, limited, and de luxe editions. In fact, value, rarity and choiceness, govern their book-purchasing policy, rather than the number of volumes.

Doing a high class trade the "the twopenny box" type of work is rigorously excluded.

Entering their extensive book-rooms their patrons have a fine collection of not less than 20,000 volumes to select from.

Catalogues are systematically issued about every three months.

Among high-class booksellers must be mentioned the well known firm of Messrs. J. Baker and Son, whose business has been established in Clifton nearly fifty years, and is full to-day of vigorous and rapidly expanding development.

It occupies a fine position in the heart of Clifton, that glorious suburb of Bristol, which, combined with the fact that the present head of the firm is a much travelled man and a literary one to boot, considerably strengthens the firm's status. Mr. James Baker is known far and wide as the author of many works of fiction, and a few works of authoritative and permanent educational interest.

Among the firm's specialities are works of all kinds in European languages, Publishing, and Artistic binding.

In regard to publishing, this side of the business has been greatly extended of late which gains much in importance from the fact that the firm are official booksellers and literary agents to Clifton College.

Altogether Messrs. J. Baker & Son, is a firm that deservedly holds a high place amongst leading booksellers of Bristol and the West of England.

The well known business of Mr. Thomas J. Mathews in the Upper Arcade was founded by his father, James Mathews in the year 1865, who was prompted by his lifelong and ardent love of books to change his occupation as Currier and start in the trade. Although prophecies of failure were freely expressed he possessed real grit, and once having put his hand to the plough he never looked back. He remembered with delight that the first book he ever purchased—a copy of the Oxford Prize Poems—turned up forty years later in Bristol, and was re-purchased by him.

He was in Bristol during the memorable riots of 1831, and witnessed many wild scenes during that terrible time. He personally saw one of the rioters come out of the Gaol on the New Cut gnawing the remains of a leg of mutton he had stolen from the Governor's larder.

In 1880 his eldest son joined him, by whom the business is still carried on with increased success, for he, like his father, is a book-lover as well as bookseller.

A Bristol bookseller known far and wide for his business smartness and the pungent and humorous letters which emanate from his ready pen and furnish good "copy" for the "press," is Mr. Thomas Thatcher of College Green.

With his mental fingers always on the pulse of passing events, his window mirrors the fleeting hour in a remarkable manner. In fact, whatever stirs public interest and curiosity capable of pictorial expression, will for the nonce be "on time" in his attractive window, to the gratification of the tens of thousands who daily pass his shop.

Nearly half a century ago he started business modestly in one of the smallest shops of the city; to-day his business has grown to be one of the very largest in his own line.

All the above deal in second-hand as well as new books, with the exception of Messrs. J. Baker & Son and Mr. Thomas Thatcher.

(NOTE BY EDITOR)

The Thomas Kerslake referred to in Mr. Hutton's article was my second cousin; a man of great character and originality. He was, like the main stock of my family, a Devonshire farmer's son, and commenced life with a bookstall in Bristol. What he made of it can be seen from the obituary notice in The Athenæum, January, 10, 1901, from which the following extract is the only possible one here:—"Mr. Kerslake acquired a reputation that has been eclipsed only by Mr. Quaritch. His catalogues are literary curiosities." He left, in personality, £35,307, and bequeathed Sir Issac Newton's chair to the Royal Society. The family patronymic is pronounced as if it were spelt "Karslake" (just as "Derby" is pronounced as if it were spelt "Darby"), and hence many members have chosen—sensibly, as I think—to make the orthography and the sound synchronise, and I adopted this course myself some years ago. The list of second-hand booksellers in Bristol would not be complete without mention of Mr. James George, Messrs. W. J. and J. Mathews, Mr. Ashton Nield, Mr. Edward Nield, Mr. Walter Nield, and Mr. J. W. Hitchman, son of Mr. John Hitchman, of Birmingham.

COLLOQUIALISMS

A larger number of firms than ever before have this year paid the subscription for the current volume in advance. I can only thank them for the saving of trouble which results from their consideration.

One hundred impressions of the block of the statue of Dickens at Philadelphia have been printed on large paper, and can be obtained for sixpence each. The block of the house in which Dickens wrote "Oliver Twist" can be had for the same price.

A subscriber writes:—"A boon to the trade would be the issuing every five years of a separate Index (as B. P. C. does every ten years), at 10/6, if possible." Please let me know if you would buy the Index, if printed. At the end of the current season there will be five volumes of B. A. R. in existence.

Auction-cataloguers are requested to note once again that the work entitled "Real Life in London" was not written by Pierce Egan, but is anonymous. This error was born about two years ago, and, having got the proverbial twenty-four hours' start which untruths and libels flourish on, it has never been caught up since.

In the first volume of B. A. R. there is an account of an evening spent with Mr. W. D. Reeves, of Reeves & Turner, at Southend, accompanied by the last portrait ever taken of him. He died on March 17th last, in his 82nd year, and I attended his funeral as the official representative of the Association. He was the doyen of bookselling, and one of its most highly-respected members.

The H. W. Wilson Company, 27 East 21st Street, New York, has just issued the third edition of its excellent Directory of Booksellers in the United States and Canada. It is arranged alphabetically, first under the names of the States, and secondarily under the towns, and indications are given as to the amount of business transacted by each firm. It is also printed on one side only, to give space for additions and corrections. The cost is 5 dollars (£1 1s). Special endeavour has been made to include only reliable firms.

An important firm of booksellers in an University town write suggesting that the discount to the trade from catalogue prices should be 15 per cent., as on the continent, instead of 10 per cent. They add, "We are very sure that we should buy ten times as much if we were entitled to 15 per cent., but with items marked at full market value, 10 per cent. does not make it worth while buying for stock, but 15 per cent. would." Booksellers willing to give the larger discount could easily attach a slip to their catalogues to that effect, printed in red.

Subscribers are again reminded that the Second-hand Booksellers' Association is now in existence, and that every bookseller should be a member, as it is going to be a power in the bibliopolic land. When it was established I said that developments would ensue, and the forecast is rapidly being justified. Everything cannot be done in four months, but the foundations are being laid down, solid and enduring, and before long the superstructure will be seen. I shall be glad to receive the names of intending members.

I had occasion to visit Bath and Bristol in connection with the article in this Part, and had a "real good time," for the atmosphere of Bath seems to be conducive to hospitality and amiability. The encomiums upon B. A. R. were numerous and convincing.

One subscriber had got £25 for a book which he would otherwise have sold for £5. Another had found two pamphlets recorded, for £9 and £15 respectively, of which no record could be found elsewhere. So, after a stay of three days, I left the reposeful city with many pleasant memories.

Mr. Bayntun's career at Bath, by the bye, is somewhat of a marvel. At not yet thirty years of age he is putting up new bookbinding premises at a cost of over £1000, and has more orders than he can cope with. Brains and energy are, I fancy, the determining cause.

The cry is ever for more Colloquialisms. Yet it is but a year or two ago that somebody (not a bookseller) told me that Personalia was merely "playing to the gallery," and another said that that section of B. A. R. was not "worthy of me." Isn't it? We can't always be on stilts, preaching sermons in immaculate Johnsonese. The best sermons are those in the everyday vernacular of everyday people, and that is why a Spurgeon is so successful once in a century. But, much as I should like to print more "colloquialisms," that is impossible. I often regret to have to cancel something I want to say to you. If B. A. R. were a weekly publication it would be quite another thing. There would then be possibilities.

FRANK KARSLAKE.

BOOKSELLERS' CATALOGUES

N.B.—All booksellers should put us on their list of names, as one never knows where, in any part of the world, a notice of a catalogue attracts attention and leads to business. In addition, we constantly make purchases ourselves of prints, portraits, &c. from subscribers' catalogues.

(Great Britain and Ireland.)

Bath.—Goad's Old Book Stores, 2-3 Bath Street.—Catalogue No. 6, of second-hand books, including a unique souvenir of the Penny Postage Jubilee Celebration, Works on Africa, America, and India, Military Books, &c. Mr. Goad makes a point of cataloguing only clean copies.

Birmingham.—John Hitchman, Cathedral Book Stores, 51 Cherry Street.—Catalogues Nos. 447, 448, 449, of Library Editions, books with coloured plates, First Editions, &c. The uniformly good condition of Mr. Hitchman's stock is an advantage when ordering from abroad.

— G. T. Juckes & Co., 85 Aston Street.—Catalogue of Books, many Rare and Curious, and Standard Works in Best Library Condition, also Catalogue of Bargains in Books, Works on Art, Biography, Drama and Poetry, Fiction, History and Topography, Natural History and Sport, and Rare and First Editions. Among the items is one of "The Times" "bargains."—the Encyclopædia Britannica, Tenth Edition, sold by "The Times" at £57, and offered by Messrs. Juckes for £13. Another "Times" bargain is offered at 5s. less than that journal prices it.

— S. Jude's Depot, 89 Station Street.—A Complete List of the Arundel Society Chromos, with the prices affixed to those in stock. A fact of immense advantage in dealing with the St. Jude's Depot is that no reprints are dealt in, and the buyer may depend upon really getting what he pays for. Those who know how reprints are sometimes sold as originals will appreciate the reliability of the Depot.

Bristol.—James Fawn & Son, The Bristol Book Mart, Queen's Road. Catalogues (Nos. 37-38) of Interesting and Valuable Books, many Rare and Scarce, including such works as Houbraken's Heads of Illustrious Persons, large paper, with proofs, 1743-51, for the very moderate price of £15; the English Dance of Death, with Rowlandson's plates, for £9 9s.; and many other interesting items. Messrs. Fawn inherit the tradition attaching to perhaps the most gifted country bookseller of the nineteenth-century, and they will do well to develop to the utmost extent the department which he made entirely his own. Intellectual booksellers do not trouble themselves now-a-days with new books—which are bought and sold as if they were so many bricks—and those possessing special ability will obtain far higher mental and material reward by extending the second-hand branch of the calling.

Toole, Clement Scott, the Duke of Sutherland, Charles Lever, the Rev. J. W. Ebsworth, and others, also Books Ancient and Modern, Genealogy and Family History, Freemasonry, Old Novels and Shakespeariana. The three catalogues contain a total of 2,954 lots, besides advertisements of books published by Mr. Dobell, of some of which he is the author. Mr. Dobell is certainly not one of those miserable creatures who were "born tired," for every department of his affairs shows unceasing personal activity
- F. J. Farrell, 44 Prince of Wales's Mansions, Battersea, S.W.—Short List of Books on Topography and Allied Subjects, and Miscellaneous Books, arranged alphabetically under counties, with addenda of Foreign Topography.
- James Gunn, 49 Bedford Street, Strand, W.C.—Catalogue of a Miscellaneous Collection of Books in all Classes of Literature. Mr. Gunn deals also in original drawings and old and scarce engravings.
- Hiscocke & Son, Hill Street, Richmond, S.W.—Short List of Second-hand Books, including first editions of Dickens's works, and Richard Jefferies, etc.
- Frank Hollings, 7 Great Turnstile, Holborn, W.C.—Annual Clearance Catalogue, Part 2 (1,598 Lots), comprising a fine collection of rare Autographs; a large series of Occult Books; First Editions of Dickens, Thackeray, Lever, Morris, Tennyson, Swinburne, Ainsworth, etc., and books illustrated by George Cruikshank, T. Rowlandson, and others. The Catalogue is far too lengthy to report in detail, but it embraces such a wide range of subjects that there must be something in it to interest everybody.
- E. Joseph, 48a Charing Cross Road, W.C.—E. Joseph's First Catalogue of Second-hand books, comprising History, First Editions of Esteemed Authors, Mathematics, Voyages, and Travels, etc., also a Valuable Collection of Works dealing with Natural History, consisting of Botany, Zoology, and Physical Science. The following note heads the first page: "The issue of this Catalogue being a new departure, it would greatly assist and oblige the advertiser if Librarians and other Gentlemen desiring future issues, would kindly communicate with the Vendor." Among the books to be found in Mr. Joseph's catalogue are the first edition of Ackermann's Microcosm of London, £20, Boydell's History of the Thames, £10 ros., and numerous first editions.
- Pickering & Chatto, 66 Haymarket, S.W.—English Literature, Noted Bibliographically and Biographically; a Catalogue, with prices affixed, of a very Extensive Collection of the First Editions of Ancient and Modern English Literature. This is a large 8vo of 504 pages with 3,383 books described and priced for sale. Its magnitude and richness in rare items, I should judge, makes it unequalled among booksellers' catalogues. Almost every author of any note, from Chaucer to Robert Louis Stevenson, finds a place in its pages. The method of cataloguing with the short Biographical, Literary, and Bibliographical notes, makes it most easy reading, and almost a guide-book to the collector. The catalogue is, in short, equal to the best efforts of the German booksellers, than which no higher commendation can be given. The type and paper used is far superior to the general trade catalogue, and altogether it is essentially a volume for the shelves. It would be a most useful book for the librarian, to say nothing of the opportunity it offers him of acquiring important literary works in their earliest form. It is published at 3s 6d. net, and is well worth the money.
- Wilfrid M. Voynich, 68, Shaftesbury Avenue, W.C.—Catalogue of Old and Rare Books, Nos. 21-22. These catalogues, containing a total of 752 lots, are too detailed to allow of a summary here, but each has an alphabetical list of contents under subject-headings. The books offered range in date from the earliest presses to the present day, and for precision the descriptions are above the average. An item of extraordinary interest is a Manuscript Map of the World on the Equidistant Polar Projection, 16th Century, for which £1,000 is asked.
- George Winter, 52 Charing Cross Road, W.C.—Catalogue of Books recently purchased, including Works on Art, Biography, Foreign Literature, Military, Poetical, Topography, etc., including several items interesting to Book Lovers. The condition of Mr. Winter's books may always be depended on as being satisfactory.

- Manchester.—Albert Sutton, 43 Bridge Street.—Catalogues 148, 149, 150, 151. The first deals with books and prints respecting the English Lakes and the Lake Poets—always an interesting subject. The second contains "Bargains in Books at Specially-Reduced Prices." The third includes books from the Duke of Sutherland's Collection at Trentham Hall, one being Bourne's Views of the Lakes, a work unknown to all bibliographers, although published only circa 1800. Catalogue 151 is of Miscellaneous Books, Ancient and Modern, and includes an extremely interesting volume crowded with annotations in the autograph of Coleridge, written at Highgate in 1824, &c. A fine copy of Prynne's Histrio-Mastix, 1633, is offered for £7 7s., and it contains the rare leaf respecting ladies of quality acting on the stage, ordered to be cancelled before publication.
- Northampton.—T. S. Billingham, 1a Marefair.—Catalogue of Second-hand Books faithfully described, including many illustrated books, in new condition, and suitable for gifts. A copy of Ackermann's Westminster Abbey is priced £3 15s
- Oxford.—Parker & Son, 27 Broad Street.—Catalogue of Books under the following Headings:—Africa, Anglo-Saxon, Architecture, Biography, Chronology, Coins, Drama, Economics, Egypt, Folklore, Heraldry, Magic, Oxford, Oxfordshire, Philosophy, with a small collection of Books with a Royal Autograph. Many books of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries are included.
- Reading.—William Smith & Son, 109-111 London Street.—Cheap Clearance Catalogue of Miscellaneous Books, together with some Recent Purchases. The latter include many Americana.
- Tunbridge Wells.—P. M. Barnard, 10 Dudley Road.—Select Catalogue of Second-hand Theological Books, Bibles, Old Testaments, and Commentaries on separate Books, New Testament, General, and Commentaries on separate Books, New Testament, Textual Criticism, Apocryphal Books, Patristic, Miscellaneous Theological Books, XVI-XVIII Century Theology, including a number of duplicates bought from the Library of St. David's College, Lampeter, Miscellaneous Interesting Books.
- York.—The Eclectic Book Co, 16 Stonegate.—Catalogue of Second-hand Books, including Recent Purchases from Private Libraries, Nos. 14-15. Some Books of importance are to be found in these catalogues, including a fine large-paper copy of Drake's Eboracum, 1736; a 'Flavius' of 1472 or earlier; and many publications of the Surtees Society, a collection of old works on Quakerism, also Science, Natural History, Sport, Travels, etc., and especially books on Yorkshire. The Elzevir Book Co. is particular as to the condition of the books it offers.

ADVERTISEMENTS

Very few subscribers yet realize the value and importance of an advertisement in B.A.R. The publication goes all over the world, and has a somewhat different kind of influence from that of other publications concerned with books. Subscribers read it from end to end, never knowing where an interesting item may be found. Consequently, the advertisements (which are generally disregarded by the busy man) get their chance. One subscriber, possessed of acumen, says it is his experience that advertising pays if systematically carried out, but that spasmodic advertising is useless. In short, you have to do it all the time or leave it alone. If you want to succeed in business it is of no use to hide your light under a bushel, like the old lady of decayed fortunes, who sold muffins in the street, but hoped that people would not hear her when she cried her wares. In these days you must shout, or go under. Those who have read the foregoing should now send along their advertisements. The rates for them are voted "dirt cheap" by those who have already availed themselves of the covers of B.A.R. Special terms for advertisements of "Books for Sale." Write for particulars.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE LIBRARY, CAMBRIDGE.

CAMBRIDGE LIBRARIES

BY CHARLES P. PORTER

That Cambridge is entitled to take its place in this publication there can be no doubt. Is it not one of the chief centres of learning wherein books, booksellers and libraries are at their best?

In the Domesday record Cambridge is designated Grantebrige, but to give an account of its history, associations etc., would not permit, and I think, owing to the very bookish nature of the place, we must confine ourselves to a short account of its Libraries which shall be taken in the chronological order of each college:

PETERHOUSE, OR ST. PETER'S COLLEGE. (Founded A.D. 1284.) This library was really helped at its commencement by the large collection of Divinity and Medical Books given by its founder Hugh de Balsham, Bishop of Ely. The catalogue done in 1418 contains 380 volumes, enumerated on various subjects, the large folios of theological books being in the majority. At the present time it has a large collection of books, chiefly those suitable for the students' working purposes. But it can also claim to have some really valuable books, not forgetting to mention the early editions of Gray. To show the value attached to this library a few centuries ago it is only necessary to mention that the French ambassador, in 1571, spoke of it as "the wealthiest library in all England."

NOTE

Part 4 of the present volume will be ready on or about August 30. Those subscribers who wish it can exchange their used Parts for a bound copy of Vol 4, in red art-linen, uniform with the set, for 2/5 carriage free. The volumes are generally wrongly bound up by local binders, and we have even seen the Index put at the front of the volume, and preliminary pages bound in the middle. In the long run it is cheaper and more convenient to make the exchange. You get a new volume, and we take all risks as to condition of the parts. The majority of subscribers do so already. This slip is addressed to those who do not. If you wish to make the exchange it is necessary that we should at once be instructed.

----- would need to crave for a better library.
GONVILLE AND CAIUS COLLEGE. (Founded 1348.) Contains a good library and has in abundance a good collection of early and modern medical works. It has an excellent collection of MSS., said to be second only to that of Corpus College Library.

Siberch's printing place was on the present site of this college.

TRINITY HALL. (Founded 1350.) The library is among the most curious buildings in Cambridge; it occupies the whole of the upper floor of a wing. It is sixty-five feet long and twenty feet broad. Some of the iron staples to which books were fastened still remain, with chains attached. The library of books, as represented in 1557, was not very large. Archbishop Parker, by his will, left some books to Trinity Hall and made arrangements whereby in certain contingences his collection of MSS. might be transferred from his own college (Corpus) to Trinity Hall. It is quoted as still being as near an approach to an Elizabethan library as we can show in England.

CORPUS CHRISTI COLLEGE. (Founded 1352.) Archbishop Parker's fine collection, and most valuable MSS., are stored in the library. We might mention Jerome's version of the four gospels sent by Gregory to Augustine, the beautiful Peterborough Psalter and a XV century MS. of Homer taken by Parker from the Baker of St. Augustin's Abbey. Matthew Paris's own copy of his history, and many other valuable treasures, could be mentioned did space permit. It should be mentioned that Parker was able to get these from the dissolved monasteries; also rich in other books both for working purposes, and miscellaneous.

KING'S COLLEGE. (Founded 1441.) The Library has about 30,000 volumes to its credit, and most of these have been acquired since 1644. A good Cambridge Collection, and a fine collection of MSS., and this latter, it would seem, no Cambridge College is without.

QUEEN'S COLLEGE. (Founded 1448. Re-founded 1465.) In 1472 this college had but 224 volumes, but now has a well filled Library. A good catalogue in two volumes was issued 1826-7; this contains, recorded, 30,000 volumes, and at the present time the number slightly exceeds 40,000. The Library contains some Turkish and Persian MSS., also a MSS. of Wycliffe and of Occleve's Poems, and some black letter Missals and Breviaries. Further, it contains a large collection of Bibles dating from 1476, and is rich in Tracts, running to several hundred volumes, on practically every subject which has been agitated during the past four centuries.

ST. CATHERINE'S COLLEGE. (Founded 1473.) In 1475, 137 volumes stood to the credit of this Library, but as with all others of the Cambridge libraries it has increased its store, as one might say, in abundance.

JESUS COLLEGE. (Founded 1496.) An air of venerable antiquity is one feature of the Library of Jesus College; its oaken roof still remains much as it was built by the founder of the College at the close of the fifteenth century, while the bookcases date from about 1665. The Library possesses a good collection of Monastic MSS., of which one, containing portions of the Vulgate and written in the thirteenth century, is remarkable for the beauty of its writing, the fineness of the vellum, and the character of its illuminations. An interesting collection of books "de Arte Militari" was presented by the widow of Colonel John Clarke, Governor of Senegambia: it includes a copy of Roger A'cham's Toxophilus (London, 1545), which is probably unique in the possession of its frontispiece. The most valuable printed book in the library is a Bible translated into the language of the Algonquin Indians of North America by John Eliot, the "Apostle to the Indians" (1663). Apart from the rarity of the book, the Jesus College copy contains John Eliot's autograph and a dedicatory couplet in his handwriting addressed to the college, of which he was a member:—

"Accipias, Mater, quod alumnus humillimus offert; Filius oro preces semper habere tuas."

CHRIST'S COLLEGE. (Founded 1505.) The new and fine Library of this college was opened in 1897. We have a good store here, comprising several scientific periodicals, the gift of Geo. Henslow. A collection of about fifty MSS. (Arabic, Persian and Hindustani), and also Mathematical, Classical, and some very uncommon books which have come in by bequest from time to time. Milton was seven years at this College; and here he wrote the "Hymn of Christ's Nativity," "Lycidas," "L'Allegro," and "Il Penseroso."

COLLEGE OF ST. JOHN THE EVANGELIST. (Founded 1511.) Lord Keeper Williams helped considerably with funds for the formation of this library, and it was finished in 1628. He also presented a good number of books including Cromwell's Bible. Thomas Baker also left his books to this college. Matthew Prior, the poet, was a fellow of this college, and presented amongst other books his own works. The library contains the service books held by King Charles I in his hand at his Coronation, a fine specimen of Caxton's typography "The Boke of Tulle of Old Age, etc.," and other fine and scarce books. John Evelyn, in his diary, August 31, 1654, quotes:—"This evening to Cambridge; and went first to St. John's Colledge, well built of brick, and Librarie, which is the fairest in the University," etc. It contains some fine stamped bindings, some with the arms of Edward VI, the badge of Elizabeth or her mother. Also contains a fine collection of autographs and bookplates. Note in the illustration the cases left open by the photographer, and there see the mode formerly used for the catalogues—by opening these cases one was able to be informed where each particular book was.

MAGDALENE COLLEGE. (Founded 1519.) Here we have Samuel Pepys' library, which is placed in a separate building. The collection consists of books, pamphlets, maps and illustrations of naval matters of that period, etc. The twelve bookcases used by Pepys himself in his own house are still in use, and this portion of the College Library is housed in a fire-proof room. The General Library is on a par with the other colleges, having its full share of modern books. Here was found the famous "Pepys Diary," which was in cypher, and was first edited by Lord Braybrooke, in 1825.

TRINITY COLLEGE. (Founded 1546.) Here we see a fine collection of Illuminated MSS., Milton's MS. of "Minor Poems," and his first sketch of "Paradise Lost." Original MSS. of Tennyson's "In Memoriam," and some of the most costly and earliest printed books. The library contains about 100,000 volumes and about 1,900 manuscripts. The Grylls Collection is especially fine in fifteenth-century books, but none are English-printed. It would require pages of matter to treat this library ever to a small advantage, and it must therefore suffice us to refer the reader to books published on the library, not forgetting to mention Dr. Sinker's book, which gives a good account. We could hardly be expected to treat of this most excellent and esteemed library when one sees the exhaustive nature of its contents as noted above, and when even we see two complete sets of the Shakespeare folios, and a host, so to speak, of the quartos and numerous Manuscripts and Incunabula, the task to duly enumerate the luxuries this library contains, would be, as far as I am concerned, life long, and the only remedy therefore is for the library to be seen and thoroughly appreciated—one certainly should not pass it by when at Cambridge. Hazlitt (Jests, pp. 66) tells us that "When the Queen visited Trinity College, of which the the Crown is Patron, during the mastership of Whewell, the latter met her with 'I welcome your Majesty to my house!' 'My house, Dr. Whewell,' the Queen rejoined."

EMMANUEL COLLEGE. (Founded 1584.) Contains a good students' library, including amongst other things a good collection of classical and other really good books from a bibliophile's point of view. The library was originally built as a chapel, but a new chapel being built, 1665, it was fitted up as a library. It should be mentioned that when built for a chapel it was placed from North to South. The library contains about 25,000 volumes, and a valuable collection of letters, etc., concerning Ridley, Coverdale, amongst other reformers. A curious MS. copy of Wycliffe's Bible is also to be seen.

SIDNEY SUSSEX COLLEGE. (Founded 1596.) Oliver Cromwell entered as a fellow-commoner at this college, April 23rd, 1616, and his portrait is to be seen hung in the hall. The college contains a good library, and amongst other books we might mention the following:—Pica seu Directorium Sacerdotum ad usum Eboracensem, 4to, York, 1509, which the librarian tells me is said to be unique except for an imperfect copy in York library. It was presented to the college by J. Craven, a late Master. Also should be noted books printed by Wynkyn de Worde, "The Chastysing of Goddes Children," 1491, and "The Tretyse of Love," 1493, and some fine copies of some of Sir Thomas More's works in their original state.

DOWNING COLLEGE. (Founded 1800.) Contains a good working library for the students. Mr. Watts, the University Printer, deposited in the foundation stone the first stereotype plate cast in this University, dedicated to the Vice-Chancellor and Heads of Colleges.

SELWYN COLLEGE. (Founded 1882.) Though this college has not been founded long it has an excellent library to its credit, and has at times received considerable additions to same by bequests.

CAMBRIDGE FREE LIBRARY. On June 28th, 1855, this library was opened in Jesus' Lane, under the librarianship of Mr. John Pink. There were about 1,200 books in the reading room only, and three years later a lending department was opened. The Public Libraries Act was adopted March 1st, 1853, and the library was removed to its present site, June 23rd, 1862. Newspapers and periodicals were first supplied April 11th, 1860. The library is well filled with books suitable for all classes, and its reference department is above reproach. It contains a good Shakespeare Collection, besides, of course, well filled shelves of Cambridge literature. Two Library Association Meetings have been held at Cambridge, the last on the late librarian's jubilee as librarian. Mr. Pink died in 1906, and the library in its present form is mostly due to his good management.

FITZWILLIAM MUSEUM. Founded by the bequest of Richard, Viscount Fitzwilliam, who died February 5th, 1816. He left to the University his collection of books, illuminated MSS., etc., and £100,000 in South Sea Annuities for the founding and upkeep of this museum. Also contained in the library are a good number of volumes of manuscript music by Handel, Bach, and others. Large additions have been made in recent years, not forgetting to mention the munificent bequest of the late Mr. Frank McLean's collection of manuscripts.

THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY. This is the oldest of the three great English libraries, and in 1473 the catalogue then made consisted of 330 books. Its chief treasure is the "Codex Bezae," or MS. of the Four Gospels, Acts, etc., presented by Beza in 1581. It dates from the fifth century, and is one of the five earliest examples known of the Sacred Writings. It is always kept open at the place where it records a saying of Christ, not to be found in any other text—that of seeing a man gathering sticks on the Sabbath day. He said, "If thou doest this with knowledge thou art blessed, but if without knowledge, accursed." It received presentations of books from Rotherham, the Archbishop of York, and Tunstall, Bishop of Durham, and others. George I presented the library of Bishop Moore, of Ely, which consisted of 700 MSS., and about 30,000 volumes. The library is one of the copyright libraries, being entitled to all English publications free of charge. It now contains more than 500,000 volumes. Henry Bradshaw was librarian here in his time, and the library greatly benefited by a large collection from his own valuable library. To treat of this library would require space out of proportion to this paper—we are inclined to compare it as another British Museum—its valuable books and MSS. at times, here, though, are allowed even to go abroad for consultation, and then bonds are accepted by the University for their return. We must not be taken to infer though that any valuable item is so loaned—it is only when it is really necessary for working purposes to whoever requests it, and before this even is permitted, a special Grace must pass the Senate.

Besides the foregoing, there are other libraries, all of which have an abundant supply of books. The two colleges for women, i. e., Girton College and Newnham College, have most excellent libraries, but the books in these are for the most part those of a technical nature. At the same time they have a good supply of General Literature; the former has copies of the works of Ruskin and Tennyson, presented by the authors with their autographs. The Library of Newnham College was built in 1898, at the sold expense of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yates Thompson, and is also rich in esteemed authors.

Ridley Hall (Church of England College), Westminster College (Presbyterian Church of England), Archæological Museum, Union Society, Pitt Club, Sedgwick Museum of Geology, Philosophical Society, Cambridge Antiquarian Society, The Botany School, The Squire Law Library, have all good and well-filled libraries, so that should the Second-hand Booksellers' Association ever visit Cambridge there should be no fear of them forgetting books in their enjoyment.

My best thanks are due to Mr. E. Abbott, M.A., Jesus College, and to Mr. Lockhart of St. John's College Library, for courtesy and help given to me, and to Mr. Tams for trouble he took in getting so excellent a photograph to illustrate the article.

Separate catalogues have been compiled by Dr. M. R. James, of most of the college libraries collection of MSS., including that monumental work of the Fitzwilliam Museum Collection.

Historical facts are often stranger than fiction. A case in point seems to be that of the Book-Fish—the story of which has a place in "The Annals of Cambridge." A book published in 1627 says:—"On Midsummer Eve last, 1626, a Codfish being brought to the Fish-market of Cambridge, and there cup up, as usually others are for sale, in the depth of the maw of the fish was found wrapped in a piece of canvase a book in decimo sexto" This curious fact is certified by what seems credible evidence. In the British Museum there is a letter written at the time by a Mr. Mead, of Christ's College, who claims to have seen the book on the fishmonger's stall. It so happened that Prime, the University bedell, was standing by the stall when the fish was opened, and he took the book, all grimy as it was, to Dr. Gosling, of Caius, the Vice-Chancellor, and he sent it to his bookbinder to be cleaned up and made fit for the library. This book was reprinted in the following year; and there was prefixed to it an account of this remarkable find, with a frontispiece, showing the fish with the book inside.

NOTES BY EDITOR (Partly communicated)

Forty-eight hours spent in Cambridge was a refreshing experience after the wear and tear of London streets. There were no motor-buses, and consequently no stomach-heaving odours; no rush of traffic; but an absolute placidity which allowed the brain to work without exhaustion. First of course there are the unrivalled "college-backs" in which to stroll, cool lawns sloping to the flowing Cam, supported by collegiate buildings for the like of which you must go to Oxford. Then there are the college libraries. I spent a delightful hour in that of St. John's, under the most courteous guidance of Mr. Lockhart. The architectural part of the Library is in practically precisely the same state as when it was founded, untouched by the restorer. There were also visits to the booksellers, and ten minutes spent in the Saturday market, held in the big market-place, where butter is sold not by the pound but by the yard. A pleasing discovery was that all the booksellers seemed to be prospering. Taking them in alphabetical order they are as follows. Mr. G. David has no place of business, but transacts all his affairs on a stall in the Market Place. At first sight it might be thought that he was a mere "barrow-man," but it is by no means so. He has many books of price, and owns a prosperous business, as is shown by the fact that it is twelve years since he established himself there. A Cambridge man writes respecting him, "Many a young man has had his first stimulus in books by being tempted by David's prices, for David sells mainly in proportion to what books cost him, and not in proportion to their value." Messrs. Deighton, Bell, & Co., are to be found at 13 Trinity Street. The firm started somewhere about 1720, but information is not obtainable as to its original style or title. In 1850 the firm was then the publishing one of J. & J. J. Deighton, when the late Mr. W. Wright Smith entered it, and, ultimately succeeding to a partnership with the late Mr. George Bell, he for many years occupied the position of head of the firm. Mr. Smith died in 1896, and was succeeded by his son, Mr. W. Earnshaw Smith. As agents to the University, contact was naturally maintained with successive generations of University men, and the publishing lists of the firm show with what activity the cause of higher education as represented by the Cambridge School was prosecuted; their editions of both classics and mathematics having obtained a high position. Messrs. Diver & Son, 24 Sidney Street, deal in educational and general English and Foreign books. The business was established many years ago by the late Mr. H. W. Wallis. Messrs. Galloway & Porter, 30 Sidney Street, deal in Angling, Art, Brewing, Cambridge, Classics, Economics, History, Natural Science, Topography, Mathematics, Theology, and other miscellaneous books, and catalogues are frequently issued of secondhand books. The firm does a large business in buying second-hands books. They pay the best prices, and are always glad of offers. The firm also does a large export trade, and their name is well-known throughout the book world. It stands deservedly high. In consequence of Mr. Galloway's retirement, from reasons of health, in 1905, the business is now owned solely by Mr. Chas. P. Porter, writer of the foregoing article, and it is safe to prophecy that he will in the future rise to a far higher position than his present one, unless energy and intelligence are to go unrewarded. Messrs. Hall & Son, 51 Trumpington Street, are Educational Booksellers, and the standing of the firm is shown by the fact that it has been in existence altogether about a century. Messrs. Heffer & Sons, 4 Petty Cury, attempt the almost impossible task of trying to keep a representative selection of books covering the whole universe of knowledge. Four spacious floors, packed from floor to ceiling, tell the burdensome story of literature. Classics, and books relating to classical antiquity, speak of their ancestry by being consigned to the tomb (the basement). History and politics, economics and philosophy, modern languages, the monster role of new books including that deadly fungus of present day publishing—the "small and pretty book," fight for their existence on the ground floor. Theology is given scope by having a room to itself; and, as its theme is lofty, so is its position—it is housed in the top of the building. A spacious room is given to English Literature. Fine, rare and early printed books; science and scientific periodicals are each stocked in separate rooms. Topography and travel, as representing the "entente cordiale" of the world, live their life together. And so the cry of the books goes on—like vigorously sings with like, but unlike is very close by; and if the whole chorus be a seeming harmony it is because the volume is so vast that the human ear cannot catch the underlying dissonance, for a book is a book; and though, as in this case, about 100,000 go to form the chorus, the song is still that of "books," and the heart of the book-lover should be glad. Twelve persons, each and all anxious to please, and willing to take trouble; a love of, and interest in books on the part of the Principals are the main factors which have gone towards making a once small business into a large one. Stationery, etc., has a large separate shop for itself at 19 Sidney Street, and there is also a branch shop at 104 Fitzroy Street.

The business of "Elijah Johnson" (now owned by Mr. Sydney Johnson), at 30 Trinity Street, is one of the oldest of the Cambridge bookselling firms. The premises are of considerable antiquity, and we believe that no alteration has been made to the old-fashioned sheet glass front since the house was used as a dwelling-house over 100 years ago. The house is built upon what was at one time probably a garden in front of the curious and extremely-antiquated dwelling-house (which still remains at the back of the present house) probably with the history behind it covering a period of some 500 years.

The present house was at one time occupied by Lady Montague, and it was here that she wrote her Letters, which were published and were, in a measure, celebrated in their day. Professor Middleton, probably the first scholar to make a complete translation of Cicero's Letters, also resided at one time in the house. The premises were opened as a book-shop in the year 1801, and in 1833 the business was purchased by Elijah Johnson, the grandfather of the present proprietor, and has remained in the hands of the family since that date. Want of building space has prevented expansion in area, but although the premises are of an old-fashioned character the present proprietor is fully aware that circumstances alter even though premises do not.

The business has always consisted in dealing largely in secondhand books in all departments; at the same time new books for which a sale seemed probable have always been placed in stock. The endeavour has been to make the new stock a representative one.

A very interesting book still alive in the business is what is known as the "Trinity Book Club Book." The book was started in 1834 by "Fellows" of Trinity College who formed a book club consisting of about a dozen members. When a member wished to enter a book into the club the method was for the said member to enter the title in the book club book and attach his name. Thus many interesting autographs are to be seen in the book. Among others W. H. Thompson, the famous Master of Trinity, Arthur Helps, Henry Hallam, H. A. Holden, and A. J. Munro, the classical scholars. The book is still in use by present day members.

In the course of a business running over a considerable number of years there have naturally been a good many quaint happenings. One of the most humorous was the case of a very rare volume, the value of which was well known, ticketed up in the window price forty pounds. The ticket caught the eye of a leading resident member who rushed in and in verified dates, etc., and then retired for an hour, presumably to verify them elsewhere. On his return, in a somewhat heated condition, armed with a cheque book, a cheque was written out for forty shillings. The explanation that followed was certainly painful to at least one party at the time, but the humour of it no doubt appealed afterwards to both.

At 30 Trinity Street is published the Cambridge Review, a University weekly paper, dealing with University topics of general interest. It has been running now for some twenty-seven years, a record, we believe, in University journalism. . . From time to time the house publishes books of a varied character, from grave to gay. The earliest publication of which we have any note is a record of the festivities which took place in Cambridge at the time of the coronation of the late Queen Victoria, quite an extensive quarto, which appeared immediately after the ceremony. On the imprint appears the name of Elijah Johnson in conjunction with two other Cambridge firms.

Messrs. Macmillan & Bowes, 1 Trinity Street, deal in mathematics, classics, economics, and general books. The firm was founded in 1745 by Robert Watts, passing into the hands of the Nicholsons in 1752, and from 1823 to 1845 Thomas Stevenson was the proprietor. In the latter year the firm was taken over by Daniel and Alexander Macmillan, becoming Macmillan & Co. in 1850, and Macmillan and Bowes in 1881. Mr. Robert Bowes and his son, Mr. G. Brimley Bowes, M.A., are now joint owners.

Mr. Tomlin, of Trinity Street, also deals in secondhand books to a limited extent, almost entirely of the educational class.

COLLOQUIALISMS

An entertainment, unique in character, will be given in October next at some central theatre or hall, with the object of providing what it is hoped will be the nucleus of a special provident fund for the relief of secondhand booksellers and assistants who may happen to have fallen on evil times through no fault of their own. A number of members of the committee of the Secondhand Booksellers' Association have guaranteed to take each a guinea's worth, or more, of tickets, and the whole of the proceeds, after payment of the hire of the hall, will belong to the Association. The entertainment is a continuous one, lasting from two to three hours, and it will be organised by myself, and I shall take part in it. It has already been given before many hundreds of adults, and is always declared to be the most charming thing of its kind. Partaking of the nature of a variety-show, it has a connected story—that of the Pied Piper of Hamelin—and the one element rigorously excluded is, vulgarity. Local colour will be provided by the introduction of a topical song, written specially for the occasion, and lightning-pictures of well-known booksellers. The seats will cost from one shilling to five shillings. It is not only an entertainment for men, but also for ladies and children, and I trust that every subscriber to B.A.R. who can possibly be present will come, and will bring as many friends as possible. They can without hesitation recommend friends to invest in a few tickets, and with no fear of disappointment. I have known middle-aged persons come to it half-a-dozen times in succession, charmed by its originality and the humour and cleverness of the items. Detailed particulars will be sent to subscribers at a later date, but I want all to bear it in mind, and, for the sake of the charitable object, to make up their minds to be there when the time comes.

* * *

I was recently taking part in this entertainment, and in the course of it had to say, "See! The sun rises o'er the the distant hills!" but managed instead to exclaim "See! The sun rises o'er the Western hills!" This reminds me of a girl who said, a few years ago, "Ma, I think the sun is setting on the other side of the house to-night." In my case, fortunately, not one of the huge audience noticed the lapse, and it passed by in silence. Think of the celestial dislocation necessary to bring about such a bouleversement!

A few details for the article on Bristol in the last Part came too late for insertion. Messrs. Fawn and Son (successors to my cousin, Thomas Kerslake), write that the late Queen Victoria was an occasional buyer from their stock, as also were Mr. Gladstone, the Rev. Charles Spurgeon, and Sir Henry Irving, and that Miss Ellen Terry always found her way into their shop when on a visit to Bristol.

In order to keep pace with a rapidly-growing trade Mr. C. J. Sawyer, of New Oxford Street, has secured an extension of premises, and has converted his business into a Limited Company under his name and sole management. It will be remembered that when Mr. Sawyer started last year I prophesied that he was bound to do well, and it gives me great pleasure to have the prophecy justified so early. He will do better yet.

I sometimes receive one or two catalogues, and six months later others from the same firm, with lapses between the Nos. This points to want of system. The catalogues are sent when thought of, but in such cases my name has not been added to the list. This is unfortunate, as I can often print a note about catalogues that is worth reprinting on the next catalogue issued—a note that may cause the recipients to read that catalogue; and, also, I am always on the look-out for books that I can buy myself, and I make many purchases from subscribers. So, from every point of view, you should at once add my name to your permanent lists.

Arthur Powell, of Swansea, has been at his old game again, this time under the alias of "George Fryer," 30 Orange St., Swansea. He got £2 in advance from a bookseller who did not have the vol. of B.A.R. for 1903-4, which has facsimiles of three of Powell's postcards under different aliases. Now, if that bookseller had given me a guinea for that volume he would not only have had 14,611 records, but he would not have lost £2 on this swindler. There are even a few booksellers who say they can do without that volume because they already possess a smaller number of records for that season.

Instructions to cataloguers. Occasionally one meets with this kind of thing as a note to some volume containing original notes by some great littérateur—"a very rare MS." This kind of foolishness makes the edge of one's teeth grate. For any fool can see that the term "rare" is a degree of comparison, and that as only one "MS." can exist it is much more than "rare"; it is unique; and that fact does not need expression, The fact that it is a MS. proves that it is unique, and therefore much more than merely "rare." Why will people fling about adjectives.

It is only those who stand outside of, or in front of, the panorama of life that can see it. This is why I, who am seated all day in a room which looks out on to a garden, know more about trade affairs than, possibly, all the rest of the booksellers put together. For the post brings me, seven times daily, news from all parts of the United Kingdom, as well as from other parts of the world, and the sorting and collation and comparison of that news is of extreme interest. A letter will arrive at 9 p.m. asking "Do you know anything about so-and-so" (whom I have known intimately for forty years), and by the next morning's post comes a letter from so-and-so himself, with, perhaps, reflections on the other fellow. You may imagine how careful it is needful to be in the handling of such potential fireworks.

What a pile of wisdom there is in the following, said, remember, by the man whom Oxford has just honoured by conferring upon him the degree of D.C.L. A young man once applied to "Mark Twain" for advice as to the conduct of life, and received the following characteristic reply:—

"How can I advise any man wisely out of such a capital as a life filled with mistakes? Advise him how to avoid the like? No—for the opportunities to make the same mistakes do not happen to any two men. Your own experiences may possibly teach you, but another man's can't. I do not know anything for a person to do but just peg along, doing the things that offer, and regretting them the next day. It is my way, and everybody's."

Probably when Mark Twain lost everything some years ago there were numberless fools only too ready to tell him what a fool he was.

It was a countryman of Mark Twain's—Joaquin Miller, the Poet of the Sierras—who wrote the following :—

And great is the man with a sword undrawn,
And good is the man who refrains from wine,
But the man that fails and yet fights on,
Lo, he is the twin-born brother of mine.

Men to whom the fickle jade, Fortune, has given a knock-down blow, should lay the lines to heart. It is only a child that cries over a pot of spilt milk.

And while on the subject here is another scintilla of wisdom from the other side. It appeared in the New York Publishers' Weekly, May 4, 1907 :—

The trouble with the man who never makes mistakes is that he doesn't know a mistake when he makes one. He who never makes a mistake never makes anything. The only crime in making a mistake is making the same one twice. Wise men make mistakes; fools continue to make mistakes. A thought of one's own mistakes will soften criticism of others' mistakes.

What a lot one could say on the subject !

The one mistake of mistakes not to make is an unsympathetic marriage, and the next is that of supposing that if you ever do an action which the still small voice tells you is wrong you will not suffer for it.

* * *

The reference to Joaquin Miller reminds me of a call made one afternoon by William Morris at the late Mr. F. S. Ellis's shop in Bond Street, when I was an assistant there, after my teacher in bookselling, Mr. David White, had become a partner in the establishment. As Morris was leaving he said to Mr. Ellis, "Some fellow named Joaquin Miller wants me to give him an interview." I don't remember what followed, but it was evident that Morris did not think that the fellow named Joaquin Miller was a possible candidate for the heights of Parnassus. Therein I do not agree with his judgment in face of the verse quoted above.

* * *

Early on the morning of June 24th I was called up on the telephone, and a strange voice—evidently that of a man—said, "Are you B.A.R.?" "Yes," I said, "I are." "Well," he replied, "Do you know the song 'Good Night Mr. Brown'?" "Yes," I said, "I do." "Well," he continued, "I'm going to sing you something to the tune of it," and before I could stop him he started. This is what he sang :—

'Tis Midsummer Day, and we all feel gay,
For the rain is pouring down ;
And the lawn is soaked, and the fishpond's full,
And my wife has spoiled her gown ;
But that's no matter, books are selling well ;
At auction no lot is going low,
There's a lowering look though in the sky,
And the stormy winds do blow !
Is that you, Mr. A., knocking on the rostrum loud ?
I really can't hear you ; I'm only too proud
To stay up here the whole day long, and I'm truly glad to know

'Tis Midsummer Day, and we all feel gay, for the forecast says 'twill snow !
By this time I knew there was a lunatic at the other end of the line, so I cut him off promptly. The weather had evidently got on his brain. But it was an odd experience, wasn't it ?

* * *

Heigho ! There's no more space !

BOOKSELLERS' CATALOGUES

N.B.—All booksellers should put us on their list of names, as one never knows where, in any part of the world, a notice of a catalogue attracts attention and leads to business. In addition, we constantly make purchases ourselves of prints, portraits, &c.

(Great Britain and Ireland.)

Bath.—B. & J. F. Meehan, 32, Gay Street.—Catalogue of Rare, Valuable, and Useful Books, Ancient and Modern, in all Classes of Literature. Specialities:—Alpine, America, Architecture, Art Books, Astronomy, Authors' Presentation Copies, Autographs, Baskerville Press, Bath Books and Prints, Bibles, Blake's Illustrations, Bristol, Byron, Children's Books, Coleridge, Cornwall, Costume, Walter Crane, Cruikshank, Devon, Dickens, Education, Engravings, Fables, Facetiæ, Family History, Folksong, Freemasonry, French Revolution, Furniture Galleries, Gardening, Gloucestershire, Goldsmith, Hymnology, India, Ireland, Lancashire, London, Medical, Music, National History, Occult, "Phiz," Quakers, Ruskin, Russia, Scotland, G. B. Shaw, Somerset, Songs, Sporting, Thackeray, Topographical, Warwick, Wilde, Wiltshire, Yorkshire. The Facetiæ really are facetiæ, the "Comic England," Artemus Ward, &c. The Firm's recently published work, "More Famous Houses of Bath and District," is nearly out of print.

Birmingham—Edward Baker's Great Book Shop, 14-16, John Bright Street—Catalogue No. 239: The Country Gentleman's, Farmer's, Sportsman's, and Naturalist's Handbook, comprised of Works of all branches of Sport, Horses and Dogs, Natural History, Science, Farming, Horticulture, Etc., Etc. This Catalogue contains nearly 1,200 entries, including such items as Parkinson's Paradise in Sole, 1629; Egan's Sporting Anecdotes, 1825; Life of John Mytton, 1851; and other desirable books. Mr. Baker's catalogues are so extensive that any one on a particular subject forms almost a bibliography of it.

— John Hitchman, International Exchange, 148, Edmund Street.—Catalogues Nos. 450, 451, 452. Included are Petrarch's "Triumph," Venice, 1492; Chaucer's Work's, 1687; that fine colour book the "Martial Achievements of Great Britain, 1814"; Evelyn's "Sylva, 1669" (10s. only); Poetical Sketches of Scarborough, with coloured plates by Rowlandson, very fine copy for £3 3s. od.; Shakespeare's Plays, 1805, extra-illustrated with 220 rare engravings; Gesner's New Jewel of Health, 1576, Horace Walpole's copy; and many other interesting and reasonably-priced books.

— Holland Bros., 21, John Bright Street.—Catalogue 125. Bargains in Books. Miscellaneous Works, Rare and Curious, as well as Standard Works of the best Authors. Includes a complete set of "The Connoisseur"; Burton's translation of "The Arabian Nights," 17 vols £15 15s. od.; a fine copy of the "Almighty Roman Catholic Manual," printed at Bisle in 1492, in the original binding, &c.

— George T. Jukes & Co., 85, Aston Street.—Catalogue of a Valuable and Interesting Collection of Old Books, including the Last Portion of the Library of 2,000 volumes privately purchased from the Executors of the late A. H. HALL, Esq., Librarian at the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre, Stratford-on-Avon; also a Special Illustrated Catalogue of Valuable and Interesting Books. The latter contains four plates of the interior of Messrs. Jukes' premises, including some fine old English library chairs and an oak settle. Among the books are a first edition of the Works of Charles I. with the Royal Arms on the binding, 1662; Bell's British Theatre, large paper, 1776-8; an Unique Album, formed by a Chess Champion; Burton's "Arabian Nights," original edition, 16 vols; Ogilby's "Embassy to China," 1673; &c.

Bristol.—William George's Sons, 89, Park Street.—Library Supply List, No. 300. Subjects:—Alpine, America, Angling, Architecture, Australasia, Engineering, Geology, India, Military, Scandinavia, Sporting, &c. The most remarkable item is a collection of Raphael's Arabesques of the Vatican, painted in body colours by Justinus Perrone, in 1805, and dedicated to Pius VII. There can be but little doubt this volume was looted from the Vatican during the Napoleonic occupation of Rome. The price is £55. The plates were, of course, coloured by Perrone from the original decorations, and probably no similar set is in existence.

Cambridge.—Heffer & Sons, 4, Petty Cury.—Catalogue No. 26 of Second-hand Books, in the following divisions:—English History, with sub-section records; English Topography, General, by Counties, Campanology and Church Bells; European Typography, with sub-section Mountaineering; Art, sub-section Portraits; Art applied; Architecture; Archæology, General, Costumes, Monumental Brasses and Remains, Genealogy and Heraldry; Books, with Illustrations, Woodcuts, Various. Also Catalogue No. 28, of Natural Science Books, including the Botanical Library of Prof. Marshall Ward. Subjects:—Journals and Scientific Periodicals, Early Science, Portraits of Eminent Scientists, Agriculture, Husbandry, &c., Botany, Botanical Pamphlets, Chemistry and Physics, Conchology, Geology and Mining Zoology. Not only are the catalogues remarkable for their scope of subject, but also for their extensiveness, one containing 1,720 items, and the other 2,766. The firm states in fact that it has 100 000 volumes in stock, and moreover it allows a discount of 15 per cent. to booksellers ordering from its catalogues.

Carlisle.—Thurnam & Sons, 11, English Street.—Catalogue of Interesting and Rare Second-hand Books, in all Departments of Literature, including a fine copy of the Aldine Biblia Graeca, Venice, 1518; Dugdale's Monasticon Anglicanum, large paper, 1817-30; a Set of Bewick's Works on large paper; Suckling's Fragmenta Aurea, 1646; Guillim's Display of Heraldry, 1660; and other interesting 16th and 17th century books. Also a Rough List at very low prices, and List of Local Books at greatly reduced prices.

Derby.—Frank Murray, 4 London Road.—Brief List of Cheap Books, now for the first time offered, including Bacon's Sylva Sylvarum, 1651; Baconiana, 1679; an illuminated M.S. of the Koran, originally acquired by the Earl of Moira, about 1815; Discourses of Spirits and Devils, 1601, etc.

Edinburgh.—George P. Johnston, 33 George Street.—A Catalogue of Old Rare and Valuable Books, including collections of contemporary tracts on The Union of 1707, the Darien Company, and the Jacobite Risings of 1715 and 1745; Scottish Books, Family History, Bibliography, Greek and Latin Classics, Modern Illustrated Books, Facsimile Reprints of English Classics, and rare items of varied interest. The following may also be obtained:—Catalogue of Rare Books, mostly from the library of the late John Scott, Esq., of Halkhill; chiefly of Scottish interest, and including many extremely rare works by John Knox, George Buchanan, and other Scottish writers of the Reformation period. Catalogue of Rare Scottish Tracts and Books before 1700; Catalogue of English Pamphlets before 1700; Catalogue of Rare Books relating to Mary Queen of Scots. The wide extent of Mr. Johnson's business may thus be seen at a glance, while it is of interest to know that just half-a-century has passed since it was established. The most remarkable item in the catalogue is the only known copy of the first edition of the History of the House of Douglas, by David Hume, of Godscroft, circa 1633. Until the discovery of this volume the first edition has been held to be the one printed by Tyler, Edinburgh, 1644. Mr. Johnston has himself written and printed a bibliographical account of this and other editions and MSS. The price of the volume is £85.

—Macphail (Alex. W.), 10 St. Giles Street.—Catalogue No. LXXXX. It contains 812 entries, including rare 16th and 17th Century books, old Scotch works, modern books, under Art, Economics, Banking, Fiscal Question, Taxation, Insurance, Trade, Occult works, etc., and 27 privately-printed items. A good general catalogue, of wide range of subject.

Glasgow.—James McKenzie, 238 Buchanan Street.—Catalogue of Second-hand Books in Miscellaneous Literature, No. 41, Africa, America, Architecture, Covenanters, Folk-Lore, Glasgow, Quakers, Shakespeare, and large section of Theology.

Leamington.—Simmons & Waters, 10 Spencer Street.—Catalogue of Engraved Portraits of Famous Personages, with Historical, Biographical, and Topographical Notes. The firm makes a speciality of extra-illustrated books, and all good Americans who go to Stratford-on-Avon should make a call at Spencer Street. They can combine with it a visit to Mr. Goldie, 22 Jury Street, Warwick. Mr. Goldie not only has books to sell, but curios and old furniture, while his premises are a curiosity in themselves. The portraits in Messrs. Simmons & Waters' catalogue number 3,429.

Leeds.—James Miles, 32 Guildford Street.—Catalogue of Better-Class Second-hand Books, including an Old Family Library of Finely-bound Books from Malton, Selections from the Choice Library of the late Charles Foster, of Thorpe, Norwich, and other Collections recently acquired, mostly by private purchase, comprising:—Finely-bound Sets of Esteemed Authors, Best Library Editions of Standard Works, many in choice bindings by Famous Masters of the Craft—Hayday, Zaehnsdorf, Mackenzie, Rivière, Edwards of Halifax, and other renowned binders. Transactions of Learned Societies, including Complete Sets to date of the Chetham Society, The Journal of the Society of Chemical Industry, The Navy Record Society, The Journal of the Yorkshire Archæological Society, a run of The Reliquary, and other Archæological Works, Sporting, Botany, a few important Local Items, etc. Faithfully described and moderately priced. Of the 733 items at least 180 are books of importance, and the remainder are of sufficient interest to make the catalogue very readable. Also Catalogue No. 140, of Second-hand Books, including the Library of the late Wm. Smith, Esq., Editor of "Old Yorkshire," 8 vols., "Morley Ancient and Modern," and other works. Also a portion of the Library of the late G. W. Tomlinson, Esq., F.S.A., of Huddersfield, and other Collections recently purchased. Comprising a Collection of 400 Items relating to the County of York, Editions-de-Luxe in Fine Bindings, Sets of Publications of Learned Societies, Works on Engineering, Chemistry, Bibliography, Finely Illustrated Books, Choice French Works, etc.

— Joseph Milligan, 29 Welton Mount.—Catalogue of a Choice and Valuable Collection of Books, principally the Library of a Gentleman removed from Durham, including an Illuminated MSS., Works relating to America, Australia, etc., a Fine Copy of Smith's Zoology of South Africa, Blume's Rumphia, Books on Orchids, Repton's Books on Landscape Gardening, with Coloured Plates; First Editions of Modern Authors, including Dickens, Thackeray, etc., Fine Copy of Burns' Poems, numerous Works Illustrated by the Cruikshanks and Rowlandson, Coloured Plate Books of Costume, including Large Paper Copy of Shaw's Dresses. Sporting Books, Works relating to Ireland and Wales, Yorkshire Topography, etc. Among others may be mentioned Egan's Life in London, very fine and nearly uncut copy, with the advertisements; the first edition of "Joseph Andrews," in the original calf; Repton on Landscape Gardening, with coloured plates; Gray's Poems, first edition, 1768; Lilly's Sixe Court Comedies, 1632; and many books of equal importance.

London.—John Buchanan, 49 Gt. Queen Street, W.C.—Catalogue of Second-hand Books, Ancient and Modern, comprising History, Biography, Voyages and Travels, Illustrated Works, the various departments of Science and Natural History, and Miscellaneous Literature.

— Day's Library, Limited, 96 Mount Street, W. (Established 130 years), send two Quarterly Lists of Surplus Library Books, at greatly reduced prices, one having an 11-page triple-column Index. Among the subjects are Sport, Travel, Biography, etc., Theology, Military, Novels (latest editions), Novels (published before 1906), Juvenile Works, French Works, Magazines, Card Games, Russia, Sport, etc. A Supplementary List also was issued in May.

— Bertram Dobell, 77 Charing Cross Road, W.C.—Four of these always-interesting Catalogues are to hand, Nos. 150, 151, 152, and 153. Space does not permit of more than the merest summary of the contents. There are important American Manuscripts, R. H. Barham's M.S. Notes on the Members of the Garrick Club, Complete Set of the Original Nos. of "The Spectator," Contemporary M.S. of Carew's Poems, Holograph M.S. of William Morris's 'Nupkin's Awakened,' First Editions of the Writings of Milton, Keats, Shelley, Lamb, and other esteemed authors, Books from the Daniel, Kelmescott, and Doves Presses Coloured Plate Books, Books printed on Vellum, Rare Voyages and Travel and Books relating to America, English Poetical and Dramatic Works of the 17th Century, Miscellaneous Books, Ancient and Modern, Books from the Library of Sir Henry St. John Mildmay, Bart., Mrs. Pearl Mary Teresa Craigie ("John Oliver Hobbes") and other Collections recently dispersed. Last, but by no means least, there are some Revised Sonnets by Mr. Dobell himself (for he is a poet as well as a bookseller), which in their original form were printed in his volume entitled "Rosemary and Pansies." Every public librarian in the world should have Mr. Dobell's catalogues, and should pass them on to book collectors when done with.

— Henry Gray, Genealogist, Goldsmith's Estate, East Acton, W.—Gray's Book Bulletin, Third Selection of Books and MSS., from an Extensive Stock. Mr. Gray has a large stock of Family Histories, Pedigrees, Genealogies, Topographies, Americana and Coloniana, and he gives special attention to American Emigrant Ancestry, of which fact Public Librarians and others in the States should make note.

— Henry Jackson, 3 Achilles Road, West Hampstead, N.W.—Catalogue of Books with Extra Illustrations, and Miscellaneous Items. Mr. Jackson will always send any of his extra-illustrated books on inspection to reliable enquirers.

— E. Joseph, 48a Charing Cross Road, W.C.—Catalogue No. 2, bearing on the cover an excellent block of the premises, with Mr. Joseph duly in the foreground. There are 704 items in the catalogue, including a number of Military Books, dealing with the Crimean, Franco-German, Ashantee, Afghan, Greco-Turkish, Egyptian, South African and other Wars. Also Modern Technical Works on Fortification, Tactics and Engineering, &c.; and a few Regimental Records, &c. Also works on Chess, Occult Subjects, &c. The stranger will find Mr. Joseph's establishment within three minutes' walk of Charing Cross, to which all roads in London lead.

— Myers & Co., 59 High Holborn, W.C.—Catalogue of Fine and Rare Engraved Portraits, in Mezzotint, Line, and Stipple, of Celebrated Personages. The 607 items in this catalogue are only a drop in the bucket of the firm's immense stock of engravings, and enquiries should be made for those wanted.

— Pickering and Chatto's monumental Illustrated Catalogue of Rare Books is appearing in sections, and will receive the notice it deserves when completed. Meanwhile those who are prepared to pay anything from a guinea to hundreds of pounds for single volumes should write to 66 Haymarket for a specimen copy. The catalogue promises to be the finest thing of its kind.

— Wilfrid M. Voynich, 68 Shaftesbury Avenue, W.—Catalogue of Old and Rare Books, No. 23. An important catalogue of 421 entries on 58 pages, arranged in 20 subjects, with list of contents. Incunabula, Greek Presses, Giunta Presses, Shakespeareana, French Early Presses, Broad-sides, Occult Science, Chronicles, Bibles, Aldines, and Americana are among those represented, some valued at shillings only and others at £100. The notes—some quite extensive ones for small-priced items—give considerable bibliographical value to Mr. Voynich's catalogue, since their quality is high.

— Wright & Jones, 350 Fulham Road, S.W.—Catalogue of Choice Books in various Branches of Literature, English and Foreign, consisting of Americana, Old Plays, First Editions, a few 16th and 17th century editions, etc., etc.

Manchester.—Albert Sutton, 43, Bridge Street.—Catalogue No. 152, of Second-hand Books in Literature, Science, and Art, containing upwards of 500 items, including the Works of Du Bartas, 1621, for 12/6; sets of Transactions; a complete set of Cobbett's Political Register; and Florio's Italian and English Dictionary, 1611. The very fine portrait from the latter is admirably reproduced on the cover, and page 14 bears a block of the very beautiful engraved title to Blith's Survey of Husbandry, 1683. Also, Catalogue 153 of Rare and Useful Books, including the first portion of the Library of the late J. T. Foard, Esq., Barrister-at-Law, of Manchester and Southport, just purchased by private treaty. A set of Spenser Society Reprints is one of the items.

Oxford.—Parker & Son, 27 Broad Street.—Catalogue of Books, comprising recent purchases, and including a selection of Works on India, and others from the Library of the late Sir W. W. Hunter. Also a small Collection on European Philology, Foreign History, and several Issues of the Bibliothèque de l'Ecole des Hautes Etudes; also, a Catalogue of Second-hand Books at their recently-opened Premises, 6 New College Street, comprising, amongst others, Selected Works under the following headings:—Biography, Classical, Dictionaries, History, India, Oxford, Philology, Philosophy, Poetry, Science, and Theology.

BEN SMITH'S PATENT, AND ALL ABOUT IT.

During an experience of over 25 years with Librarians, Book-buyers and Booksellers in many parts of the world, I have repeatedly had brought to my notice the want of a bookshelf fitting which would admit of its instantly, without trouble, being raised or lowered to any desired height, and in introducing the present simple device I shall be earning the thanks of every librarian and book-lover who adopts them. Their charm is their simplicity, no tool being necessary—merely the pressure of thumb and finger.

These supports can be fitted to existing shelving by the addition of half-inch grooved ends and division, screwed to the existing uprights; these ends can be fixed by anyone, being supplied by me ready to put up, with supports to suit any width shelves from six inches upwards.

Thousands are now in use in public and private libraries, booksellers' and stationers' shops.

Mr. G. GREGORY, one of the leading booksellers in the West of England, having recently had his shop fronts re-fitted with them, says:

"These shelf supports are a marvel of simplicity, and ought to be known by every bookseller and librarian throughout the kingdom.

They enable the window-dresser to adjust his shelves to suit a row of any size books.

There are thus no gaps between the tops of one row of books and the shelf next above; this often enables the assistant to get in another whole row of books."

The illustrations describe more fully the idea, but on receipt of a card I shall be pleased to send a sample support and any further particulars desired.

Estimates furnished for library and shop fittings of any description.

To Fix the Supports

you simply place them in the groove fitted with ruled strips at the desired height; compress the wedges with finger and thumb,

SO

They then automatically fix themselves by the folding wedges impinging the sides of the groove, ...

and there you are ready for the shelves.

To re-adjust the shelves the slightest pressure upwards to the supports instantly releases them.

ARE YOU GOING FOR A HOLIDAY THIS YEAR?
IF SO, TRY SUNNY SHANKLIN.

It is a paradise for those who seek quietude, exquisite scenery, a sufficiency of amusement, and no vulgarity. Trippers and East-enders never go to Shanklin. The famous “Chine” alone makes Shanklin worth visiting. The most artistic bit of natural scenery in England.

STAY AT “MILANESE.” Proprietress - Mrs. WILTON.

Terms:—From 35/- per week, according to Bedroom selected, or 7/- a day.

“MILANESE” is situated in its own grounds, in the best residential part of the town, is adjacent to the Cliff Promenade, Keats' Green, the Club Gardens, Church, and Lift. Close to Beach and Sea. The House faces south, commanding extensive views of the Sea. The decorations and furnishings are up-to-date, every effort having been made to secure the comfort of visitors staying in the house. Large Pleasure Lawn. Electric Light throughout. Mixed Bathing, Boating. Coaching Excursions daily to all places of interest in the Island, also short afternoon drives. Marine trips during the season. Cycle accommodation. Baths (hot or cold).

Strongly Recommended by Mr. W. H. MARTIN, The Library, High Street, Shanklin, and by the Editor of B.A.R., who has stayed there, and can be referred to.

A visitor writes:—“I can most heartily and strongly advise a visit to her establishment. Everyone gives glowing accounts, and, as you know, she is a most charming personality.”

'NEW SHAKESPEAREANA'

A Quarterly Review, devoted to the Higher Criticism of Shakespeare, Conducted by the New York Shakespeare Society, whose membership includes every distinguished Shakespeare Scholar in Europe & America

Imperial 8vo, Illustrated, 75c. the copy, $2.50 the year, in advance

Seventh—Eighth year (with SHAKESPEAREANA the twenty-first year)

NEW SHAKESPEAREANA' is the only magazine devoted to it sexclusive field published in English, and one of the only two such periodicals published in the world—the other being the "Jahrbuch," the German Shakespeare Society, issued annually. No sample copies are furnished.

"None will deny that the extinguishment of 'Shakespeareana' in 1894 was a real loss to letters. It is therefore with particular satisfaction that we learn that the Shakespeare Society of New York, with the most favourable outlook has re-established it under the title 'New Shakespeareana.'"—Times Saturday Review of Books, April 13, 1901.

"Diese neue Shakespeare-Zeitschrift ist sehr willkommen."—Jahrbuch der Deutschen Shakespeare Gesellschaft, 1902.

"Coming from so dignified and notable a source as the New York Shakespeare Society, 'New Shakespeareana' is of course scholarly in tone, dignified in purpose and artistic in form."—New York Dramatic Mirror, October 12, 1901.

"New Shakespeareana appeals strongly to all Shakespearean students."—Notes and Queries (London), November 12th, 1904.

From the Library of Joseph Hatton

Interesting and Unique Copy of Irving's Impressions of America :

Greatly enlarged by the insertion of extra M.S. from the hand of Mr Joseph Hatton, together with a most interesting lot of AUTOGRAPH LETTERS, including several from SIR HENRY IRVING with numerous Portraits, Cartoons, Cuttings, Etc. In one thick volume, bound in GREEN MOROCCO, g.e. 1884, £7 17s. 6d.

It is impossible to justly describe this interesting collection in the space of a note. According to a letter from the Publisher (inserted) the work was to have been issued in two volumes, but time would not permit if it was to be issued immediately on the return of Sir Henry to England. Much of the matter for the extra volume has been preserved in this collection.

Hatton's Journalistic London, Author's Copy with a COLLECTION OF ORIGINAL AUTOGRAPH LET- TERS, NOTES, ETC.,

"For a possible LATER EDITION" of JOSEPH HATTON'S JOURNALISTIC LONDON. Thick 8vo, BOUND IN RED MOROCCO, 1882, £9 9s.

Among the letters contained in this volume, is a very interesting one from REV. E. BRADLEY, Author of "VERDANT GREEN," bearing on the adoption of the title, which, says the Author, was a sudden and happy thought, it was to have been "VERDANT VIVID." Others included are DOUGLAS JERROLD, Blanchard Jerrold, Anstey Guthrie, Author of "Vice Versa," SHIRLEY BROOKS, BRET HARTE, F. C. BURNAND, WM. BLACK, JOSEPH COWEN, CLARKE RUSSELL, PERCY FITZGERALD, ROBERT BARR, M. D. CONWAY, and others. Many of these interesting letters are connected with "Punch."

Subscribers to 'Book-Auction Records' are informed that among the subjects for illustration to be included in future Nos. are the following:—

Statue of Tennyson, by G. F. Watts, at Lincoln.
 The room in which Goethe died.
 The house in which Keats lived, at Hampstead.
 The mulberry-tree under which Keats wrote 'An Ode to the Nightingale' Coleridge's House, Highgate.
 Charles Lamb's house, Enfield,
 Harvard House, Stratford-on-Avon. (The birthplace of the founder of Harvard College).
 Portrait of the Rev. James Granger, originator of extra-illustration.
 Shakespeare's birthplace, as it was at the time of the Garrick Jubilee in 1769.
 Sir Richard Steele's cottage on Haverstock Hill.
 Bust of George Crabbe in Aldeburgh Church.
 Charles Kingsley's house at Eversley.
 John Milton's cottage, Chalfont-St-Giles.

 Cowley's House at Chertsey.
 John Wesley's Birthplace.
 Shelley's House at Marlow.
 Charles Lamb's Grave.
 Charles Lamb's Cottage at Edmonton.
 Leigh Hunt's House, Chelsea (close to Carlyle's).
 Ruskin's House at Coniston.
 Memorial to Samuel Pepys in St Olave's Church.
 Sulgrave Manor, the original home of the Washington Family.
 Walter Savage Landor's House, Warwick.
 Birthplace of Robert Burns.
 Coleridge's Cottage at Nether Stowey.
 The Castle of Chillon, which inspired Byron's poem.
 William Penn's Grave.
 Wyldes Farm, Hampstead, where William Blake made many drawings and obtained wonderful sky-effects.
 House in Bolt Court, where Dr Johnson died.

Suggestions for other suitable subjects will be appreciated.

The illustrated articles dealing with Libraries and Booksellers will include the following towns:—Dublin, Edinburgh, Exeter, Glasgow, Hereford, Hull, Leeds, Leicester, Liverpool, Manchester, Newcastle, Oxford, Reading, Sheffield, Southampton, York. SOME NOTES ON THE LIBRARIES AND BOOK-TRADE OF DUBLIN

BY MICHAEL J. RYAN

The poverty of the country and its disturbed condition, which left little desire or opportunity for literature of any kind, together with the restrictions imposed on native industry, sufficiently account for the fact that printing obtained no footing in Ireland for nearly a century after its discovery, and although the late Mr. C. W. Dugan was of the opinion that it must have begun prior to the earliest extant examples, his arguments, convincing as they are, do not push the date much further back. The earliest Irish printer known is Humphrey Powell, a Londoner, who came over under the patronage of Edward VI. He was the first "King's Printer" in point of fact; used black letter and italic, and his work, the earliest example of which is "The Boke of common praier," etc., 1551, is well turned out. There is no record of any intermediate printer from 1566, the date of his last work, until 1571, when John O'Kearney printed a small book embracing an introduction to the Irish language, a Catechism of the Church of England and some other religious matters, from the fount of Irish type provided by Queen Elizabeth, being the first in the native tongue. The next whose name remains is William Kearney, a relative of the last mentioned, who printed a proclamation against the Earl of Tyrone in 1595, the heading and imprint of which are in roman letter, its first appearance in Irish typography. The next is John Franke or Franckton, in 1600, whose antecedents are unknown. He was the first "King's Printer" enrolled as such, and printed the first law-book, in 1615, a "Report des Cases et Matters en ley," etc., by the author of "Nosce Teipsum," Sir John Davies, Chief Justice of Ireland, and also Speaker of the Irish House of Commons. The successors of this printer are responsible for the production of our first medical and Latin work, "Pathologia Haereditaria Generalis," etc., in 1619, by Dr. Dermot Meara, a native of Tipperary. William Bladen, who, somewhat on analogy with the Vicar of Bray, printed for Charles I and then for Cromwell, has the honour of being the first to provide us with a newspaper, "An Account of the General Occurrences in Ireland together with some Particulars from England," which began in 1659, O.S. Other noted craftsmen were John Ray, who printed the celebrated plea for Home Rule, "The Case of Ireland Stated," by Molyneux, in 1698: "Alderman" Malone, the "Royal Stationer" to James II, when in Dublin; Andrew Crook, for many years Government printer in the reigns of William III and Queen Anne; and John Brocas, of whom Dunton said that "no man in the universe better understood 'the noble art and mystery of printing.'" George Faulkner was also an eminent printer at a later period. As a publisher and a bookseller, Eliphaz Dobson deserves remembrance for being one of the largest and wealthiest of that class in the early part of the eighteenth century. The book business was mostly confined to Castle Street, Dame Street, Skinner Row, Temple Bar, and the neighbourhood. In Skinner Row stood the famous "Dick's Coffee-House," so called from Richard Pue, a printer, who commenced to publish a news-sheet known as "Pue's Occurrences," about 1700. The Dublin publishers of the middle of the eighteenth century were remarkable for extraordinary enterprise, though not for servility to the punctilios of professional etiquette. Having "literary agents" in London whose business it was to procure works in sheets before publication they were thus enabled to bring out "contemporaneous editions," and sometimes even outstripped their English brothers in the race. Amongst the very numerous printers and publishers in this century the name of George Grierson stands out conspicuously. He produced beautiful editions of the classics, edited by his learned wife, Constantia. Stephen Powell also did some very good printing, and later on topography owed much to the labours of Thomas Ewing. Many excellent editions of the classics also issued from the press of Trinity College, under the care of its graduates. Sterne and other English authors printed by Thomas Armitage are further handsome specimens of the art, and finally, John Exshaw's work must be considered entitled to honourable mention. Those wishing to know more on the subject may consult Sir J. T. Gilbert's "History of the City of Dublin," which contains much valuable and interesting information about the book business of the time. Latterly the trade in the City has taken a decided change for the better, which is mainly attributable to the general renaissance in Art, Literature and Industry within the last ten years. Messrs. Hodges, Figgis & Co., the present representatives of a firm established almost a century ago, are among the leading booksellers and publishers.

To Mr. Smith, one of their predecessors in the firm, English readers are indebted for the excellent translation of the Four Masters by John O'Donovan. They publish much modern Irish literature and are booksellers to Dublin University. They also issue select catalogues of second-hand Irish books, from time to time. Mr. Edward Ponsonby makes a speciality in the publication of law-books, and is Dublin agent for the sale of Military, Naval, Parliamentary and similar publications, besides which he always holds a fine stock of general literature, including a second-hand branch. Determined to maintain the high reputation which he has enjoyed for more than fifty years, he is about to have his premises rebuilt at a considerable cost. Messrs. Sealy, Bryers & Walker, are another prominent and go-ahead firm: Ireland Illustrated, and the New Ireland Review, issue from their house, and of the more extensive works printed and published by them, it is sufficient to mention the Revd. William Carrigan's "History of the Diocese of Ossory," in four volumes, 4to, a production any press might well be proud of. Another old firm, and one which, since its establishment, has ever been in the foremost ranks of the Irish trade, is that of Messrs. M. H. Gill & Son, formerly McClashan & Gill, one of whose most famous publications was the Dublin University Magazine, to which Petrie, Mangan, Wilde, and most of the Irish literary notables of the time contributed. They have recently acquired the distinction of being the first in Ireland to produce an edition of the Roman Breviary—and it compares favourably with the issues of the Continental presses. It is something of a novelty in other respects too, being without rubrication, and printed from a heavy-face type, to lessen the eye-strain: in spite of which fact it is exceedingly neat and "handy." Messrs. Gill are publishers to the Society for the Preservation of the Irish Language, and stock Roman Catholic literature largely. The Gaelic League publish literary and educational works in the Irish language at their dépôt in O'Connell Street. Messrs. Browne and Nolan, a modern establishment, with branches at Belfast and Cork, publish school and religious books, and general literature, mainly relating to Ireland: also "The Irish Ecclesiastical Record." To Messrs. James Duffy & Co. Irishmen are much indebted for their having helped to maintain the national spirit, when badly in need of encouragement, by the publication in popular form of works of Irish history, literature and antiquities. As publishers they have existed for upwards of eighty years, and have obtained medals and first-class certificates for artistic book-binding. The recent death of Mr. William McGee has deprived Dublin of a prominent citizen and bookseller. However, he has been worthily succeed by Messrs. Hanna & Neale, who are evidently bent on keeping up the prestige of the firm. Mr. D. J. O'Donoghoe, so well-known for his services to Irish literature, is a bookseller and publisher also. His "Poets of Ireland," on a second edition of which he is actually engaged, is widely known and appreciated; one of the latest products of his fertile pen, "The Geographical Distribution of Irish Ability," has met with well-deserved eulogies in all quarters. Messrs. Maunsell & Co., are one of the most recently established publishing firms; they devote themselves to the literature of the modern Irish School. As a second-hand bookseller, Mr. Edward Massey stands in a prominent place. He always has a choice collection of early printed books, first editions of modern novelists, illustrated works by Rowlandson, Cruikshank, etc., and many handsomely-bound volumes ornament his shelves. Mr. Massey has an extensive knowledge of books, and well-matured opinions on their literary and commercial value. Mr. George Webb deals chiefly in school and college, professional and technical text-books, although general, and especially, modern literature is well represented. Mr. Michael Clohisey has a large selection of books relating to Ireland, books in sets and illustrated books, and deals rather largely in those pertaining to law and medicine. In Mr. Hegarty's shop will be found many curious and attractive items of miscellaneous writers. About thirty or forty years ago there were several notable men in this line whose names are still remembered. The foremost was John O'Daly, a very able Irish scholar, whose catalogues are crammed with delicious tit-bits for the Irish book-lover. Others were M. W. Rooney, John Darcy, Robert Kinsella, C. H. Hedgelong, Nolan and Fitzpatrick, Cornish, Milliken and Kelly; and later on, Traynor and the eccentric Michael Hickie, who whenever the whim seized him, would settle customers' disputes by tssing with them for his own price or nothing. Another section of the second-hand book trade is that of the handcarts, which are daily unlimbered in Price's Lane, near O'Connell Bridge, but the heaviest muster is always paraded on Saturdays. To be sure, the show is not very valuable, but allowance must be made in consideration of the prices which obtain there, for most of the volumes may be had for coppers. On some carts larger books are displayed, size being here the factor determining price, so that you can have an enormous surgical instrument catalogue or a directory ten years old, for the same money, usually six pence, as a correspondingly thick tome of Bacon or Locke. However, those who can content themselves with literature merely and who judge not the book by the cover, will frequently find items of much interest there. Of early book auctioneers the chief were, Jones, father and son, at present represented by Mr. J. W. Sullivan. Many valuable libraries have passed through the hands of this firm during the course of a century, and many an Irish collection, too, came under the hammer of Charles Sharpe. Those who carry on the business nowadays are Messrs. Bennett & Son, Adam & Son, and Mr. Sullivan, already mentioned, whose memory, stretching back over many years, is stored with anecdotes and traits of interesting personages, literary and otherwise, with whom his business brought him in touch. In addition to its printing, Dublin achieved very high distinction at one period in the kindred art of bookbinding, as may be seen from an inspection of the tooling of the MS. Journals of the Irish House of Lords and House of Commons, in the Public Record Office. It would be difficult in a mere description to do justice to the beauty and variety of the designs whose uncommon merit has recently been the subject of an illustrated article by Sir Edward Sullivan, in the Studio magazine. At the commencement of the nineteenth century, one well-known binder, Mullen, may be mentioned. He frequently substituted silk for the ordinary end-papers, and his work, in addition to carefulness and durability, has much artistic excellence to commend it.

In the last decade of the eighteenth century, the "Dublin Library Association" was formed, Richard Kirwan, the chemist, being chairman at the inaugural meeting. Its object was to provide a library readily accessible and containing such expensive works as are usually beyond the means of private persons, besides other books of merit in general literature and science. Originally in Dame Street, it was removed to Eustace Street and finally to Burgh Quay. The largest library in the country and the oldest is that of Trinity College. After the battle of Kinsale, the soldiers are said to have subscribed £700 to be expended on the purchase of books for the College, as a memorial of the event. Now as troopers are usually said to be more devoted to Ceres and Bacchus than to Apollo and the Muses, this little piece of history would be particularly pleasing, if we were allowed to receive it unalloyed; but Dr. Mahaffy, in an article in Hermathena, Vol 12, p. 68, etc., has shown how little foundation it has in fact, and by referring to letters written to Lord Burleigh asking his help to cash bills which had been given by captains then serving in Ireland to the amount of £623 os. 8d. as a donation to the College, shows that if the foundation dates from its first endowment by soldiers it must be from 1593. It certainly had an existence before 1600, though in a small way. The foundations of the present library were laid in 1712, and it was completed in 1732; in 1892, the ground-floor, which till then had been a colonnade, was enclosed to make a reading room, in place of the body of the hall previously used as such. It contains more than 300,000 books and MSS., but if the pamphlets bound in volumes were taken separately, the number would be much increased; it also enjoys the copyright privilege, and there is a large annual vote for further acquisitions. The number of its rarities is so great as to preclude mention of more than a few. Its choicest and rarest artistic possession is the Book of Kells, which has been called and indeed, not extravagantly, "the most beautiful book in the world." It is a Latin MS. of the Gospels, without direct evidence of date, but probably referable to the eighth century. To attempt to convey any just idea of the elaborate and exquisite ornamentation on initial letters, and on many pages entirely given up to pure ornamentation throughout the volume, the wonderful minuteness and intricacy of the designs, and the harmonical colouring of the whole, baffles verbal description, and must be seen to be adequately appreciated. Another object of admiration is the Book of Armagh, a New Testament in Latin, together with its embossed satchel. There are also biblical MSS., including a palimpsest of St. Matthew, the original of which is sixth century, and the later writing, thirteenth, both Greek. There are numerous volumes of Celtic MSS., and some beautiful oriental ones. It contains original MSS. of Berkeley, "the Irish Plato," and of Roger Bacon, letters of Queen Elizabeth on Irish affairs, with the royal sign-manual, together with much contemporary correspondence relating to the United Irishmen, and several Sarum books, some unique. The Catalogue in nine volumes folio was completed and printed in 1872, and another receives additions as they come in, on pasted slips. Marsh's Library, situated in St. Patrick's Close, is one of the most interesting in the City. It was built between the years 1694 and 1702, and in 1707 an Act of Parliament was passed for its maintenance as a public library. It may be said to be constituted of the collections of Bishop Stillingfleet, Elie Bouhéreau, a Huguenot physician who fled hither from La Rochelle, and who was for some time librarian, John Sterne Bishop of Clogher, Dudley Loftus, and that of Marsh himself. It is remarkable for having been the first, and until 1820, the only public library in Ireland: so public, in fact, that by the year 1828, 1,200 of its volumes had become private property. Harris, the historian, writing in 1745, said that "it was the only useful library in the Kingdom, being open to all strangers, and at all reasonable hours." Old theology, medicine, oriental languages and general history form its chief subject-matter. There is a fair proportion of incunabula, about a dozen Sarum and York liturgical books, and many choice examples of bindings: also an edition of Clarendon's "History of the Civil Wars in England" with MS. notes by Swift. Of MSS. there are several volumes dealing with Irish history, the larger portion of the Irish Bible by Bishop Bedell and the Liber Niger of Archbishop Alan. It possesses many uncommon autographs too, for example, those of Camden, Udall, Sir Kenelm Digby, Sir Thomas Wentworth, Archbishop Laud, etc. Chains for the books were at one time introduced, of which, however, very limited use seems to have been made: the rods to which they were attached still remain. It comprises about 22,000 printed volumes and more than 200 of MSS. This estimate does not include separate pamphlets bound together, which are extremely numerous. In 1905 the English Bibliographical Society issued a Catalogue of its English books printed before 1641, compiled by the present librarian, Rev. Newport J. D. White, D.D. The King's Inns Library began in 1788, the nucleus being supplied by Mr. Justice Robinson's collection, purchased in 1787. The copyright privilege was granted it in 1801, but was afterwards exchanged for an annuity from Government. Its contents number about 60,000 printed books, together with some MSS. There is an amount of dramatic literature, presented by Mr. Justice Berwick, an Irish Bankruptcy Judge, and also very many tracts and pamphlets: for its custodians properly appreciated the value to posterity of these ephemeral and "nervous productions." Mr. Michael Haverty drew up while librarian a catalogue of those relating to Ireland, which is still in use. Although principally a legal library it is rather a common mistake to suppose it to be entirely so, as there is a general catalogue of pasted slips extending to several volumes, besides the juridical one, which latter only is in print. The National Library of Ireland, now numbering about 150,000 volumes, is contained in a handsome building in Kildare Street, whither it was removed in 1890, from the premises of the Royal Dublin Society, where it had existed for thirteen years previously. It has a fine reading room, capable of accommodating 200 persons, and is nearly fifty feet high under the dome in the centre, and there are two additional ones for ladies. An extensive collection of reference books which may be taken directly from the shelves is ranged round the walls. Though modern works constitute its main feature the library has many early ones too, which are being gradually increased. The newspaper department is steadily developing, both by the accession of volumes published in former years and by a regular supply from numerous modern journals. Some book donations have been received from time to time, of which the "Joly Collection," comprising a vast amount of tracts and pamphlets relating to Ireland and many musical works, is the most important. Being thoroughly up-to-date, it is much frequented by professional and other students, and a suggestion-book is kept to further increase its usefulness. The efficiency and popularity of the institution are largely due to the untiring exertions of its Librarian, Mr. T. W. Lyster, whose zeal far exceeds the technical part of his profession, for his extreme courtesy and ready assistance demonstrate how much he has even the minor interests of readers at heart, also; and he is warmly supported by his whole staff, pusilli cum majoribus. The striking feature of the Royal Irish Academy Library is its splendid collection of Irish MSS., some of which have been reproduced by photography and other processes. Its printed volumes total about 73,000, many of which formerly belonged to John Windele, the Cork historian and antiquary, and the library of Thomas Moore, the poet, generously presented by his widow, is also included. One of the most famous donations it has received is that of Charles Halliday, an immense collection of pamphlets, comprised in over 2,000 bound volumes, ranging from twenty in some to two or three in others. The library has also a number of loose pamphlets in 500 boxes, partly acquired from Mr. Halliday, and partly otherwise. Many of these boxes contain not less than sixty tracts, from which an idea of their extent may be gained. In subject matter they are heterogeneous, but there are numerous examples of early Dublin and provincial printing. Unfortunately, the catalogue is chronological, and hence until one arranged according to subjects or authors is forthcoming, this embarrassment of riches cannot be adequately enjoyed. The objects of the Academy are to "promote the study of science, polite literature and antiquities," and its transactions and proceedings are exchanged with learned societies all over the world.

The Public Libraries of Dublin are four in number, Capel Street, Thomas Street, Charleville Mall, and Kevin Street, which are well availed of by those for whom they are intended. The Dublin Municipality, with commendable patriotism, purchased in its entirety the valuable library of the late Sir J. T. Gilbert, which is at present partly stored in the Muniment Room, City Hall, but the greater portion is in a special department at Charleville Mall Library. A catalogue has been prepared by Dr. Douglas Hyde and Mr. D. J. O'Donoghoe, and is at present going through the press. There is a library in Clontarf, which township has been lately added to the City, also in Blackrock, Rathmines, and other suburbs, while the rural districts show themselves quite eager to take advantage of the Library Acts. The Royal Dublin Society was established in 1731 for the promotion of science and art, agriculture and general industry, and is the oldest of the kind in the Kingdom. Its library was detached in 1877 to form the beginning of the present National Library. The Society, who had retained some of their scientific periodicals and other publications, then proceeded to build up a new collection. The general catalogue printed in 1896, comprises 5,000 volumes, portion of which is known as the "Tighe Bequest," chiefly consisting of old Greek and Latin authors, including some incunabula, Elzevirs, Etiennes, etc. There is a large section devoted to science, and the library is keeping abreast of the times by continual augmentations to its modern department. The library of the Royal College of Science was founded in 1867, and contains about 20,000 volumes on physical science. Its department of scientific periodicals is especially valuable, and the latest text-books are being constantly added to its shelves. The College of Surgeons has a library of about 30,000 books, one of the largest and most valuable in its special kind in the United Kingdom. This library commenced about 1784, and shortly afterwards received a large augmentation by the absorption of that of the Physico-Chirurgical Society, Mercer Street, which came to an end in 1790. It was much enlarged and further adapted to its purpose between the years 1876-78. The library of the Royal College of Physicians dates back to 1711, and contains 6,000 volumes, including the library of Sir Patrick Dun, Physician-General to the Forces in the time of James II, and also President of the College. The library of the Franciscan Convent, Merchants' Quay, is remarkable for its collection of MSS., most of which were formerly in the College of St. Isidore at Rome, and were removed here in 1872. They "include materials brought together in the first half of the seventeenth-century, as well as compilations prepared by the most erudite native antiquarians of Ireland for the publications undertaken by Colgan and others on the early history of Christianity in this island and its propagation on the Continent by missionaries from the West." A report of the Historical Manuscripts Commission on part of them, including the above, was issued in 1876, followed by one in 1906, on another portion. This latter includes a series of documents, ranging from 1607-1648, dealing with ecclesiastical affairs, and to a very large extent with the political affairs of Ireland, in that anxious time. This library also possesses many beautiful liturgical works; one of its curiosities being a MS. psalter for the choir, in four volumes, measuring almost four feet in height. The Chief Secretary's Library, Dublin Castle, contains about 20,000 volumes, mostly dealing with economic and political affairs. The ancient library known as the "Worth" is located in the Boardroom of Dr. Steeven's Hospital, and principally represents the gathering of Dr. Worth, a Dublin physician at the end of the seventeenth and beginning of the eighteenth century. As may be expected, it is chiefly medical, but also includes some classics. The Law Library—that of the Irish Bar—now contains 20,000 volumes, and is maintained by the subscriptions of members. In 1897 the accommodation having become totally inadequate to meet the growing needs of the library, it was removed into the present spacious building. The Incorporated Law Society have a library of legal and reference books for the use of members. There is an edition of Bellarmin, with MS. notes by Swift, in the Chapter Library attached to Christ Church Cathedral. The library of the Mechanics' Institute is a small one of about 6,000 volumes and was founded in 1825. This enumeration, though not quite exhaustive, shows that the Dublin libraries, both in number and value, are very respectably proportioned to its population. I must acknowledge my obligations to Mr. E. R. McC. Dix, of Dublin, for much of the information contained in this article.

(NOTE BY EDITOR)

It affords great pleasure to acknowledge indebtedness to Mr. E. R. McC. Dix for an introduction to the writer of the above article, and for the keen interest and personal trouble which he has taken in the matter. The suggestions for the illustrations also came from Mr. Dix, and the photographs were selected by him. Mr. Dix's chief hobbies are Irish Provincial and Early Dublin printing, and he has contributed much to the literature of this subject, both by magazine articles and by annotated lists of Dublin and Provincial work. It was he also who first pointed out the Latin book mentioned in the article as being the earliest produced in the country. His work has naturally helped to revive interest in Irish printing and bibliography.

COLLOQUIALISMS

It is of course understood that the reason B.A.R. as an entire volume cannot be issued till August 30th is that the invaluable alphabetical arrangement prevents Part 4 going to press till the date of the last sale of the season, and that the Index also has to be prepared during the ensuing month. The time is in fact exceedingly short for the execution of the work involved. If it were merely a case of reprinting the sale-catalogues, and preparing the Index pari passu, B.A.R. could be issued within a week of the last sale.

* * *

Subscribers in the United States and elsewhere abroad are increasing so rapidly that I wish them to understand that the whole of the past volumes of B.A.R. may still be obtained. It is often the case that new subscribers begin with Vol. 3, or Vol. 4, because they already possess some similar publication containing records for previous years. They do not realize that B.A.R. not only contains the records in question, but also thousands of others not obtainable from any other source, and that amongst those thousands may be some which would repay the cost of the volumes many times. The only sensible plan is to buy a complete set of B.A.R. and to 'scrap' the less perfect publications of the past. There has never yet been a publication of its kind so systematically and thoroughly done as B.A.R. I have no hesitation in saying this, because it is a fact. Nothing is allowed to escape that is worth recording. A notable instance to the contrary came to my notice a few months ago. A country subscriber drew my attention to the fact that two folio tracts by one of the great English writers of the eighteenth century came into his possession. He hunted for any records of them without success, and then consulted B.A.R. and found a record of each, one of £9, the other at £16. He made further investigations and discovered that not one lot in the whole of that particular sale had been reported, except in B.A.R., and that the only thing to account for this was that from the cover the sale appeared to be an insignificant one, and one could only suppose that it had been passed without examination. Now this could never happen with B.A.R., for every catalogue, however insignificant it may seem, is as systematically read as those of the most important sales. The system embraces even the catalogues of "remainders" at Hodgson's, so that nothing is allowed to escape the sweep of the net. In addition also to the records there are many items of interest in past volumes of B.A.R., and, further, the commercial value of complete sets of a series, as compared with that of incomplete sets, should be remembered.

* * *

An American subscriber has taken the trouble to work out the number of records given in various publications of book-sale records. B.A.R. comes out easily a winner, with twenty-six records for a cent ($\frac{1}{3d}$). He states that one publication has only twelve records to the cent.

* * *

Advertisements. Those who desire priority of choice as to position should write. The covers of B.A.R. are now engaged for a year ahead. The next applicants will get places in pages numbered so that they must be bound up in the volumes.

* * *

To Auction Cataloguers. When a book is issued in parts it is extremely confusing to give the dates which appear on the wrappers during publication. Thus "Martin Chuzzlewit" was issued in 1843-1844, but, the title bears the date 1844, and as the title of a book is the official record of date of publication no preliminary date should be made use of. Also please note that the editions of Maxwell's "Fortunes of Hector O'Halloran" issued in 1846, 1849, and 1853 have each this season been described as the first. The first edition was dated 1845. The following corrections of catalogue-errors have also reached me. Cooke's "Greenes Tu Quoque" (p. 364) was the third edition, circa 1630. The first edition is said to be 1614, and the second 1622. Lowndes erroneously gives 1599 as the date of an edition, but it was printed after that of 1622. Kyd's "Solimon and Perseda" (p. 412) was not the first edition, as described, but a modern reprint. If it had been the first its value would have been £150 instead of 5s. "Welth and Helth" (p. 494). This has been reprinted.

* * *

One of the principal literary journals has been telling somebody whom you all know very well that he is "an educated gentleman." This is unkind. For of course no gentleman, except a gentleman's gentleman, ever does tell a gentleman that he is a gentleman.

B. Rivard

A monthly magazine is about to appear which should receive the enthusiastic support of every subscriber to B.A.R. It will be entitled 'The Bibliophile,' and the prospectus states that it "will be devoted exclusively to the interests of second-hand booksellers." There will be numerous illustrations in colour, in photogravure, and in half-tone, and a guaranteed circulation of 7,500 copies among book-buyers and librarians in England and the United States. The price will be the small one of 6d. Prospectuses may be obtained by addressing the Publishers of 'The Bibliophile,' 57, Lincoln's Inn Fields, London.

* * *

This quarter B.A.R. presents its subscribers with a portrait of Benjamin Disraeli, Earl of Beaconsfield. It is probably the most remarkable portrait ever published of him. It was issued in The London Magazine, in 1840, and, presenting Disraeli, as it does, from the point of view of caricature, it now satirises only the dullards of the age, who failed to recognise the presence in their midst of a man of genius who was to become their master and, for some years, the virtual ruler of England. From his coat-pocket protrudes the MS. of "Vivian Grey"; at his heels marches a jackdaw, plucked of his plumage; in the background stands a crowd of nobodies, with jeers on their lips at the man who is supposed to be down; in itself their own worst condemnation in the eyes of high-minded men. I am no politician, and party terms have absolutely no meaning whatever for me, so, in expressing unqualified admiration for "Dizzy," it is not the statesman I am thinking of, but the man, he who, in the confidence of self-known ability, told the House of Commons when it laughed him down that some day it should hear him. We know how it did hear him, and how, thirty years later, his party bowed the knee to him and acknowledged his mastership. A letter of Disraeli's, dated Feb. 7, 1833, and sold at Sotheby's in January, 1907, contained the following remarkable forecast of his parliamentary success. "Heard Macaulay's best speech, Shiel, and James Grant; Macaulay admirable, but, between ourselves, I could floor them all. This 'entre nous,' I was never more confident of anything than that I could carry everything before me in that House. The time will come." Disraeli was of course the man of supreme ability, but during the time that poverty and debt made him the jibe of fools he was reckoning them up with all the keenness of—taking it altogether—the most remarkable brain of the nineteenth-century. It is no argument to reply that he died in political exile. The "swing of the pendulum," which makes our party system the laughing-stock of the thoughtful, explains that, and if Disraeli had lived another seven years he would in all probability have again been in power. The portrait must be scarce, for in all my forty years acquaintance with books I have not seen it before. If impressions should be desired for use in extra-illustration they can be obtained, printed on 4to, Japan vellum, 6 for three shillings, or hand-coloured impressions for one shilling each.

"Life is a series of surprises," says Emerson. So it is; but what a long time it takes some persons to discover the fact! And when they do discover it how surprised they are.

As you are well aware, I am always endeavouring to make B.A.R. commercially useful to you. Here is a case in point:—Charles Fitzgerald, Esq., 47 West 12th Street, New York City, U.S.A., is a book-collector, and has within the past year spent upwards of £100 with one New York firm alone. Send your catalogues to him. And if you can find any other publication similar to B.A.R. that will do this kind of thing for you let me know.

* * *

It will gratify me if you inform me what orders result from this hint.

* * *

I shall be particularly obliged for any notification of errors—especially of prices—in Vol. I of B.A.R. The volume contains numerous errors, together with an Index which is almost useless. It is being carefully re-edited by myself, and will be issued about December next.

* * *

For the information of those subscribers who do not appear to have seen previous notices upon the subject I will just state that the entertainment to be given in the autumn for the funds of the Second-Hand Booksellers' Association will be provided by the Fairyland Society. This Society (of which I am the honorary secretary) gives entertainments each winter to the poorest slum-children of London, and its characteristics are humour, really good music, and absolute refinement. It brings something into the lives of the children that they have never known before. They know all about the latest music-hall songs, but such work as our society puts before them is a revelation, and they invariably call out at the end, "Do, please come again." But, in proof of the human interest there is in the items, it is a fact that grown-ups appreciate the entertainment at least as much as the children do, and that is why I do not hesitate to ask you to come to see it. You will be doing good to your own Association, and will at the same time have a delightful evening's amusement.

Subscribers who object to our country roads and lanes being turned into locomotive tracks for the sole benefit of owners of motor-cars should join the Highways Protection League, the Secretary of which is H. L. Barnes, Esq., 7 Fig Tree Court, Temple, E.C. It is not that I object to motor-cars as motor-cars. Upon the contrary, I should much like to possess one; but when one sees the utter selfishness and callousness which the pursuit engenders in the vulgar well-to-do it is time for decent folk to combine to stop their murderous antics.

One of the advantages of having a summer-house is that you can retire into it upon occasion and express your sentiments respecting the moral turpitude of the clerk of the weather without offending the susceptibilities of the ladies of the establishment. My summer-house holds a dozen persons comfortably, so if subscribers desire to know of a quiet place where they can fire off objurgations at this lovely summer weather they may come to 35 Pond Street. It is true it looks upon the pond, but fish are said to be cold-blooded creatures, and impervious to the most powerful epithets. In fact, observation leads me to believe that they rather enjoy rain than otherwise.

We have all heard of the absent-minded beggar; here is an example of the absent-minded scholar. A professor of Yale College (U.S.A.) accepted an engagement to lecture in a city some distance away. His train arrived late, so he jumped quickly into a cab, handed the driver two dollars, and shouted "Drive fast!" The horse started with a plunge, and kept going at a rapid rate for half an hour, up one street and down another. Finally the Professor, who was meanwhile concentrating his thoughts upon the forthcoming lecture, stuck his head out of the window and enquired, "Are you nearly there, Cabby?" "Blest if I know, Mister," was the reply, "Where did you want to go to?"

After the issue of this part the subscriptions due for B.A.R. will have reached the record sum of £485 15s., and as the holiday season is here, and I want a rest, cheques will be acceptable. The circulation of B.A.R. continues to increase steadily at the average rate of one new subscriber each week.

ERRATA TO VOL. IV.

PAGE.

- 9 Aubrey. History of Surrey. The price should be £7.
- 50 Dresser. Birds of Europe. Should be £40, Quaritch.
- 61 Fowler. Coleoptera. The price should be £7.
- 96 Manning and Bray. History of Surrey. Delete the s after the price.

ERRATA TO VOL. III.

The following additional typographical errors have been discovered in Vol. 3, and corrections should be made with the pen.

PAGE.

- 166 Atkinson. Miseries of Human Life. The date should be 1807, not 1870.
- 283 Stevenson's Works, £3 2s. The price should be £32.
- 501 Fox (G.) Battle-Door for Teachers, 16s. The price should be £16.

In the Index to Volume 2 the date of Mrs. Glasse's "Art of Cookery" is given as 1767. This is a printer's error for 1747. In the same Index the editions of Madame D'Arbly's Diary, 1843-6, and 1876 are stated to be on page 277. The page should be 377.

Correspondents are thanked for taking the trouble to indicate errors, as their correction makes the publication the more valuable. In dealing with such a mass of figures errors are bound to occur occasionally, but every care is taken to avoid them, and when discovered they are announced.

BOOKSELLERS' CATALOGUES

N.B.—All booksellers should put us on their list of names, as one never knows where, in any part of the world, a notice of a catalogue attracts attention and leads to business. In addition, we constantly make purchases ourselves of prints, portraits, &c.

(Great Britain and Ireland)

Birmingham. Edward Baker, 14-16 John Bright Street.—Catalogue No. 242. Miscellaneous Collection of nearly 3,000 Rare and Curious Works, in all Branches of Literature. In this very important catalogue are to be found such books as Church's "New Atlas," a small 8vo of 1698, price £15 15s; Beaumont and Fletcher's "Fifty Comedies and Tragedies," 1679, £9 9s; Ninety entries under Americana; and an immensity of first editions and interesting items too numerous even to summarise. Also, Catalogue No. 239, entitled The Country Gentleman's, Farmer's, Sportsman's, and Naturalist's Handbook, comprised of works on all branches of Sport, Horses and Dogs, Natural History, Science, Farming, Horticulture, etc., etc., consisting of upwards of 1,100 items, dealing with every branch of the subject, from Angling to Zoology, including herbals of the Seventeenth century to last year's books; a wonderfully-comprehensive list. Also, Catalogue No. 246, of books of all descriptions (nearly all new copies), at bargain prices, 1,080 entries. From the extent of Mr. Baker's catalogues, and the rapidity with which they are issued, Mr. Baker must be one of the most industrious cataloguers in the whole trade.

—John Hitchman, International Exchange, 148 Edmund Street.—Book Catalogue No. 453. Includes a complete set of the Bibliographical Society's Publications to 1905, Gering's Tour of the Rhine, fine copy, £3 10s (the last copy sold at Puttick's on Aug. 1, for £5 15s), Homer's Iliad, by Pope, first edition, &c., also a Special Short List (Chaucer's Works, 1687, Terry's Theatrical Portrait Gallery, coloured plates, 1825, &c.), and a List of Publishers' Remainders.

—George T. Jukes and Co., The Ruskin Book Stores, 85 Ashton Street. Catalogue of Ancient and Modern Books, including Recent Purchases from Private and Public Sources, including a fine set of the Sporting Magazine, 1825-66; Bentley's Miscellany, 28 vols, 1837-50 (crowded with Dickens and Cruikshank interest); a set of Punch, and a few 17th and 18th-century books.

Cambridge. Galloway and Porter, 30 Sidney Street.—Catalogue of Second-hand Educational Books, containing upwards of 4,300 items under the heads of Classical (Elementary), including Texts, Grammars, Histories, Latin and Greek Dictionaries, Classical (Advanced), Bohn's Libraries, History, Moral Science, Economics, Pedagogy, &c., Law, Mathematics, Natural Science and Medicine, Theology, English Literature, French and German Languages, Geography, Atlases, etc., Macmillan's Primers, Longman's Epoch Series. Also, Catalogue No. 36, of Books, chiefly Second-hand, in all Branches, Classics, Essex House Press, History, Mathematics, Moral Science, Economics, &c., Natural Science and Medicine, Theology, Wesley Books, &c. It will be remembered that Mr. Porter wrote the interesting article on Cambridge in the previous Part of B.A.R.

Dublin. Clery and Co., Ltd., 27 Lower O'Connell Street.—Catalogue of a valuable Collection of Books, being selections from the Libraries of the late Judge Carton, Archdeacon Flanagan, P. P., Baldoyle, Archdeacon Furlong, of Gorey, with Several Additions, comprising Standard English and Foreign Literature, Theology, Biography and Ecclesiastical History, Fiction, and many Rare Works on Ireland and in the Irish Language, consisting of nearly 1200 items at extremely reasonable prices. Among them are a complete set of the Irish Ecclesiastical Record, handsomely bound, for £30; Journal of the Royal Society of Antiquaries of Ireland, 1852-94, £20; Fisher's Scenery of Ireland, 1795, &c.

Edinburgh. J. Hardie Brown, 12 South College Street.—Catalogue of Books, &c., comprising Americana, Art, Australasia, Baxter Colour Prints, Bibliography, Blind, Burnsiana, Edinburgh, Engravings, Games (including Chess and Whist), Poetry, Portraits, Scottish Literature, Sport, Theology, etc. A few 17th-century books are included.

London. Harold Brown, 1 Wimpole Street.—Catalogue No. 1 of Second-hand Books in Most of Classes Literature, many handsomely bound, and including as a speciality, Musical Literature. As this is Mr. Brown's maiden catalogue I am sure all those of his colleagues who know him will join me in wishing him bon voyage.

London. Hy. Gray, Genealogist, Goldsmith's Estate, East Acton, W.—Gray's Book Bulletin (Issued Monthly), No. 268a, devoted largely to works on Family History, Parish Registers, Antiquities, &c. Mr. Gray is the chief bookselling-authority on genealogical matters, and he has a large stock of Family Histories, Pedigrees, Genealogies and Topographies, Americana and Colonialiana.

Southampton. T. James and Co., 34 Bernard Street.—Catalogue of a Very Superior Collection of Books, consisting of Recent Purchases. It contains many items of Dickens, first editions, Cruikshankiana, plain and coloured (including a fine set of the Comic Almanack), and such books as Sowerby's English Botany, 36 vols, £16 16s; Walpole's Letters, 16 vols, £10; various works on Art, Old China, Porcelain, Pewter, and Furniture, the whole in good library condition.

Tunbridge Wells. Catalogue No. 15, of Antiquarian and Topographical Books, containing 538 items, classified under the heads of Books of Archæological Interest relating to the British Isles, Alpine Literature (90 entries), Books relating to Europe, Asia, India, Africa, America, Australia, the East Indies, West Indies, and Polynesia; also Voyages and Travels generally. In a catalogue so scientifically arranged it is easy for the searcher to find the subject he is specially interested in.

'NEW SHAKESPEAREANA'

A Quarterly Review, devoted to the Higher Criticism of Shakespeare, Conducted by the New York Shakespeare Society, whose membership includes every distinguished Shakespeare Scholar in Europe & America

Imperial 8vo, Illustrated, 75c. the copy, $2.50 the year, in advance

Seventh—Eighth year (with SHAKESPEAREANA the twenty-first year)

NEW SHAKESPEAREANA' is the only magazine devoted to its exclusive field published in English, and one of the only two such periodicals published in the world—the other being the "Jahrbuch," of the German Shakespeare Society, issued annually. No sample copies are furnished.

"None will deny that the extinguishment of 'Shakespeareana' in 1894 was a real loss to letters. It is therefore with particular satisfaction that we learn that the Shakespeare Society of New York, with the most favourable outlook has re-established it under the title 'New Shakespeareana.'"—Times Saturday Review of Books, April 13, 1901.

"Diese neue Shakespeare-Zeitschrift ist sehr willkommen."—Jahrbuch der Deutschen Shakespeare Gesellschaft, 1902.

"Coming from so dignified and notable a source as the New York Shakespeare Society, 'New Shakespeareana' is of course scholarly in tone, dignified in purpose and artistic in form."—New York Dramatic Mirror, October 12, 1901.

"New Shakespeareana appeals strongly to all Shakespearean students."—Notes and Queries (London), November 12th, 1904.

The BANKSIDE SHAKESPEARE

BEN SMITH'S PATENT,

AND ALL ABOUT IT.

During an experience of over 25 years with Librarians, Book-buyers and Booksellers in many parts of the world, I have repeatedly had brought to my notice the want of a bookshelf fitting which would admit of its instantly, without trouble, being raised or lowered to any desired height, and in introducing the present simple device I shall be earning the thanks of every librarian and book-lover who adopts them. Their charm is their simplicity, no tool being necessary—merely the pressure of thumb and finger.

These supports can be fitted to existing shelving by the addition of half-inch grooved ends and division, screwed to the existing uprights; these ends can be fixed by anyone, being supplied by me ready to put up, with supports to suit any width shelves from six inches upwards.

Thousands are now in use in public and private libraries, booksellers' and stationers' shops.

Mr. G. GREGORY, one of the leading booksellers in the West of England, having recently had his shop fronts re-fitted with them, says:

"These shelf supports are a marvel of simplicity, and ought to be known by every bookseller and librarian throughout the kingdom.

They enable the window-dresser to adjust his shelves to suit a row of any size books. There are thus no gaps between the tops of one row of books and the shelf next above; this often enables the assistant to get in another whole row of books."

The illustrations describe more fully the idea, but on receipt of a card I shall be pleased to send a sample support and any further particulars desired.

Estimates furnished for library and shop fittings of any description.

To Fix the Supports

you simply place them in the groove fitted with ruled strips at the desired height; compress the wedges with finger and thumb,

SO

They then automatically fix themselves by the folding wedges impinging the sides of the groove, ...

and there you are ready for the shelves.

To re-adjust the shelves the slightest pressure upwards to the supports instantly releases them.

BOOK-AUCTION RECORDS

Where no sizes are given the books are 8vo et infra. Where no binding is stated it is understood to be the original cloth or paper covers, as published. The following is a key to the abbreviations :—

1st	=	first.	ills.	=	illustrations.
bnd.	=	bound.	l. g.	=	gothic letter.
b. l.	=	Black Letter.	L. P	=	Large Paper.
ca.	=	circa (about).	lib.	=	library.
cf.	=	calf.	m.	=	marbled.
cl.	=	cloth.	mor.	=	morocco.
cold.	=	coloured.	num.	=	numerous.
dup.	=	duplicate.	ob.	=	oblong.
e.	=	edges.	orig.	=	original.
ed.	=	edited.	P. P.	=	Privately Printed
Edinb.	=	Edinburgh.	plts.	=	plates.
edn.	=	edition.	port.	=	portrait.
engs.	=	engravings.	Pres. copy	=	Presentation copy.
ex.	=	extra.	s.	=	sprinkled.
fo.	=	folio.	s.d.	=	sans date.
front.	=	frontispiece.	ser.	=	series.
g.	=	gilt.	t. e. g.	=	top edges gilt.
g. l.	=	Gothic Letter.	trans.	=	translated.
hf	=	half.	v.	=	volume.
g. t.	=	gilt tops; same as top	v. y.	=	various years.
		edges gilt.	vell.	=	vellum.
		w. a. f.	=		sold with all faults.

When a binding is stated to be, for example, mor. ex., t.e.g., the term t.e.g.—i.e. top edges gilt—implies that the other edges are uncut. When the other edges are cut the fact is stated.

In some exceptional cases—such, for instance, as a first edition of 'Waverley' or of a Keats' 'Endymion'—when the condition of 'original boards, uncut' exists, and accounts for an abnormal price, the description is given in full, without abbreviation.

In some instances autographs are stated in the sale-catalogues to be on the titles, or elsewhere in the books. When such autographs are not mentioned in B.A.R. it is only because they are of no known persons, and have no bearing whatever on the prices realized.

The right-hand column of each page gives the names of the auctioneers, (and the date of the sale), as follows :—

C. = Christie, Manson, & Woods.	P. = Puttick & Simpson.
H. = Hodgson & Co.	S. = Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge.
Ha = Hampton & Sons.	St. = Stevens.

S. Dec. 7 would therefore represent Sotheby's Dec. 7, 1906, while any month from January to September refers, of course, to the year 1907.

The spelling of B. A. R. is always that of the original titles, and apparent errors are not misprints. The same applies to some accents in foreign languages of which the type does not invariably permit; and, also, to old and erroneous punctuation.

Imprynted the XI day of May," the year of our Lord, 1487) ; The Doctrinal of Sapience, 53 leaves (out of 92) 33 lines to a page (" Caxton me fieri fecit "), Trans. May 7th, 1489. The three Works in 1 volume, fo., in contemporary stamped leather binding on bevelled oak boards, panel, formed by two three-line fillets, intersecting at right angles, the space between ornamented with alternate leafy stamps and a small stamp of griffins, the centre crossed by triple diagonal lines, the compartments thus formed decorated with three different diamond-shaped and triangular stamps, the outer borders also having a small stamp, the fillets from the four bands on the back meeting at an angle and terminating with the leafy stamp before mentioned, having remains only of the two clasps Quaritch, £470 H. Nov. 23

* A very remarkable volume, both as an example of the typography of England's first and greatest printer, and as a specimen of early English stamped binding. Unfortunately the book has been at some period most wantonly mutilated, many leaves having been entirely abstracted, and others badly cut about. Indeed, "The Royal Book" is hardly more than a fragment, comprising only 101 printed leaves out of 160, and of these about two dozen have been either cut down close to the fore-margin or rendered otherwise defective, leaving only three out of the six woodcuts which are to be found in a perfect copy. "The Book of Good Manners"—an excessively rare specimen of Caxton's press, of which there are but two copies in England, one at Cambridge and the other at Lambeth—is not so badly imperfect, wanting only six leaves in all, viz. Sig. a 1, c 7 and 8, 1 leaf of Sig. f, and h 1 and 10. Besides these missing leaves, about twenty others have been cut close to the fore or lower margins, in some cases damaging the text, but the remaining leaves, on the extreme margins of which are written in a contemporary hand the names of the personages quoted as Examples, are in very fine and clean condition—a remark which applies to the uncut leaves throughout the volume. It may be mentioned that Blades records this work as having 33 lines to a page, but though the collation in this case otherwise appears to correspond, there are in this copy 34 lines to a full page. "The Doctrinal of Sapience" is also hardly more than a fragment, comprising only 53 leaves out of 92, and here again many are more or less damaged. The type in all three of the books is the same, being the fifth fount used by Caxton, the last work having printed marginal notes (not exceeding "Exa") wherever an "Example" is given.

Not the least notable feature is the binding, which is in excellent preservation, and if not actually the work of Caxton, is certainly contemporary. The full measurement is 11½ in. by 8½ in., a full page of the book measuring 11¼ in. by 8¼ in., in some cases the leaves having rough edges. Two leaves from a Fourteenth Century MS. Aristotle are used as end-papers.

- Frobisher (Sir Martin) Autograph contained in his copy of Machiavelli, old cf., Palermo, 1584 Sandford, £49 S. Dec. 15
- * Frobisher's autograph is written upon the fly-leaf of this copy of Machiavelli's Works, printed at Palermo in 1584. The famous navigator presented this copy to his friend, George Day, in 1585, and wrote the following inscription upon the fly-leaf: "To Maijster George Daye this Booke of Machiavell his Woorkes ffrom his grte (great) ffrende Martin fFrobisher, ye 26 March, 1585." Frobisher's autograph hardly exists apart from the National Collections. As regards the volume itself, its preservation is admirable, and the binding which preserves it is just as it was when in Sir Martin Frobisher's possession. George Day figures in the list of those Essex gentlemen who contributed money towards the cost of England's defence.

- Heures à l'Usage de Paris, "a la louenge de dieu de sa tres sainte et glorieuse mere . . . furent comences ces pñtes heures pour Anthoine Verad, . . ." printed on vellum, 102 leaves, 14 large woodcuts illuminated (the Anatomical Man un mutilated), woodcut borders on every page, many of the small woodcuts illuminated, A-N in eights (sig. B contains 7 ll. and sig. C 7 ll.), with Verard's mark on last leaf and Calender for 22 years [1503-1521]. Horæ Beatæ Mariæ Virginis secundum consuetudinem Romane curie, a Fifteenth Century Manuscript, by a French Scribe, executed for Charles VIII. (L'Affable), King of France, comprising Calendar, 12 leaves, Hours of the Virgin, Seven Penitential Psalms, &c., with Prayers to the Saints at end, in all 149 leaves of vellum (size 7in. by 5in.). There are twenty-five full-page Miniatures (in the decadent French style, within architectural borders), the first one containing a portrait of the young King in black cloak kneeling before the risen Christ, with Anne de France, wife of Pierre de Bourbon, Sire de Beaujeau standing behind him, very beautifully executed. The portrait is repeated in two other places, and his coat of arms, both as King of France and King of Jerusalem, appears on the first leaf after the Calendar. The chief feature of the other miniatures is the beautiful blue landscape backgrounds, while the miniatures of the saints comprise S. John the Baptist being beheaded, S. Sebastian suffering martyrdom, S. Martin dividing his cloak, S. Mary Magdalen, S. Apollonia, her teeth being extracted, and S. Barbara being beheaded. The borders (in the usual Flemish style) contain fruit, flowers, birds, peacocks, monkeys, dogs and other animals, coloured, on gold ground, and many of the initials have small flowers enclosed.—2 v. uniformly bound in red velvet (broken), brass-bound, with clasps, enclosed in a mor. case, with lock and key

Quaritch, £400 H. Nov. 23

* The above volumes are in excellent preservation, and form an admirable contrast between a late example of the art of the miniaturist and scribe, and an early French example of the art of typography and book illustration.

Heures a lusaige de Rome, l. g., printed on vellum, several woodcuts cold. and illuminated [wants title (a j), g 8, i 2 and m 1 defective], mor., w. a. f., sm. 8vo., Paris, Anabat, 1505

Heures a lusaige de Romme tout a long sans riens requerir. Avec les figures de la Vie de l'Homme; et la destruction de Hierusalem. Tout pour le mieulx, l. g., lettres semi-bâtardes, printed on vellum, within woodcut borders, 20 full-page woodcuts, some without borders, 31 small woodcuts and num. initials, modern blue mor. antique, brass clasps with side catches, old gilt and gaufréd edges, in case, sm. 4to or imp. 8vo., Paris, Gillet Hardouyn, etc., s. d. (Almanack, 1507-24)

Quaritch, £53 S. Nov. 5

* The woodcuts and initials are illuminated, and are of an unusual character.

Heures a lusaige de Rome tout au long sans rien requerir. Printed on vellum, device of G. Anabat on title; 21 full-page woodcuts, illuminated, (contains 84 ll.), good condition, but device on title damaged, 8vo, Hardouyn, s. a. (Almanack, 1515-30)

Maggs, £11 5s S. Nov. 5

* Besides the device on title there is a different one (not illuminated) on verso of the last leaf (reproduced in Brunet, vol. V, p. 1634). This volume has no signatures except one for d j at the extreme lower margin.

Heures a lusaige de Romme tout au long sans requirir, l. g. (lettres bâtarde), printed on pure white vellum, long lines, 28 to a full page, 14 illuminated miniatures or woodcuts (?), etc. (2 ll. repaired, otherwise fine, perfect copy), mor. ex., tooled (Grolieresque), g. e. by Riviere, Paris, Paris, G. G. Hardouyn, s. d. (Almanack, 1533-55)

T. (i. e. John Thorne Oxon.); (Tractatus Logicae), l. g. parva (begins on Aii with heading "De Propositionibus," and ends on I 6 (imperfectly) between which signatures it appears to be perfect and contains 51 ll. s. a. et l; in 1 v., new cf. antique, sm. 4to Quaritch, £59 S. Nov. 22
- * Three Treatises for the use of the scholars of Oxford University in Henry the VIII's reign. They were printed by P. Treveris, of Southwark. They form a sort of connection between the blank interval of actual printing in Oxford after Kyrforth in 1519, and its resuscitation under Barnes in 1585. Mr. Gordon Duff only mentions conjecturally the 4 ll. tract above as probably by Thorne the Oxford Stationer; but the full imprint of the 8 ll. tract having "Jo. Thorne" as the name of the vendor, and the exact similarity of the types, form, devices and woodcut border to the title settle the matter decisively. This Oxford stationer's day book under the name of John "Dorne" was edited by Mr. F. Madan for the O.H.S.; but little is known of either himself or his publications. There are many contemporary MS. English notes in margins and fly-leaves.

- SHAKESPEARE, in the following order: (1) Separate Works, alphabetically; (2) Collected Works, chronologically; (3) Poems; (4) Illustrations; (5) Miscellanea.
- The | Tragedy | of | Hamlet | Prince | of | Denmark. | Newly imprinted and enlarged, according to the true | and perfect copy last Printed. | By William Shakespeare. | woodcut device on title, sm. 4to, unbound, 7 5-16th in. by 5 3/4 in., London, | Printed by R. Young for John Smethwicke, and are to be sold at his | shop in Saint Dunstan's Church-Yard in Fleet-street | under the Diall, 1637 A. Jackson, £107 H. Nov. 29
- * Usually regarded as the Sixth Quarto Edition of this famous Play. It was originally printed in 1603, and subsequent editions, varying in at least one case so slightly as to amount to hardly more than a new impression, were printed in 1604, 1605, 1611, and again, without date, after 1611. Of the first edition only one perfect copy is known, and, moreover, the subsequent editions are almost unprocurable, so that the collector must perforce content himself with such a comparatively late issue as the above. A remarkably fine and perfect copy, beautifully clean throughout, and having good margins at all three edges, that on the top being especially good, and the collation as follows:—A to N in fours, the title forming A 1,

Shakespeare. The Tragedy of Hamlet, Prince of Denmark ; as it is now acted at his Highness the Duke of York's Theatre, hf. mor., 4to, 1676

Hozier, £4 5s S. Dec. 15

* The first edition of Hamlet of the Restoration period.

— The same, and Othello, The Moor of Venice, a Tragedy (2 leaves wanting at end), Printed for Richard Bentley, 1687; Beaumont and Fletcher. The Maids Tragedy, 1686; The Women's Conquest: a Tragic-Comedy, Written by the Honourable E. H., 1671; The Female Prelate, Written by a Person of Quality, 1689, and others by Dryden, &c. (8) in 1 v., sm. 4to, cf.

Trigaskis, £7 17s 6d H. Nov. 29

* The Quarto Edition of "Hamlet" comprised in the above volume is the first of the so-called Players' Editions, and followed the Sixth Quarto of 1637

— Julius Caesar, a Tragedy, hf. mor., 4to, 1691

Pickering, 5s S. Dec. 15

— The | Whole Contention | betweene the two Famous | Houses, Lancaster and | Yorke. | With the Tragicall ends of the good duke | Humfrey, Richard Duke of Yorke, | and King Henrie the | sixt. | Divided into two Farts; And newly corrected and | enlarged. Written by William Shake- | speare, Gent. | woodcut device on title, sm. 4to, crimson mor. gt., g. e. by C. Lewis, Printed at London, for T. P. (1619) Sotheman, £75

H. Nov. 29

* The above forms the Third Edition of the Second and Third Parts of the Play, usually known as "King Henry VI," though here printed together for the First Time. The First Part was originally printed, as far is known, in the Folio of 1623. The present is a perfect copy, and in excellent condition, measuring 7½ in. by 5½ in., the collation being A to Q in fours—that is to say, it does not contain the "Pericles" which sometimes follows it.

— The same (64 ll. signs. A-Q in 4's) title soiled and margin repaired, a split leaf repaired, stamp of Lord Brougham on title and last leaf, otherwise good copy, mor., g. e. in mor. slip case, sm. 4to, printed at London, for T. P(avier), N. D., 1619

Quaritch, £59 S. Dec. 15

* The original edition, printed by Thos. Pavier, having the same device on title as on the Pericles dated 1619. This was J. F. Marsh's copy.

— Mr. William Shakes-peare, | His | True Chronicle History of the Life | and death | of King Lear, and his | three Daughters. | With the unfortunate life of Edgar, | sonne and heire to the Earle of Gloucester, and | his Sullen and assumed humour of Tom | of Bedlam, | As it was plaid before the Kings Majesty at White-Hall, up- | on S. Stephens Night in Christmas Hollidaies. | By his Maiesties Servants playing usually at the | Globe on the Banck-Side. | blue mor. extra, g. e. with G. Daniel's monogram on sides, in mor. case (ex-libris of Birket Foster), sm. 4to, printed for Nathaniel Butter, 1608

Sabin, £300 S. Dec. 15

* Only a very small number of copies known. It is one of the two original editions of the same date, without the publisher's address.

— The | Excellent | History of the Mer | chant of Venice. | With the extreme cruelty of Shylocke | the Jew towards the Saide Merchant, in cut- | ting a just pound of his flesh. And the obtaining | of Portia by the Choyse of | three Caskets. | Written by W. Shakespeare (40 ll. A-K in 4's), crimson mor. ex., g. e. in mor. case, with Birket Foster's ex-libris, sm. 4to, 1600

Quaritch, £380 S. Dec. 15

* Probably the second of the two editions with the same date; the other having the imprint, J. R. for J. Heyes, the latter being the father-in-law of Roberts. Good copy.

— The most excellent | Historie of the Merchant | of Venice. | With the extreame crueltie of Shylocke | the Jewe towards the said Merchant, in | cutting a just pound of his flesh: and the ob | taining of Portia by the choice | of three Chests. | As it hath beene divers times acted by the | Lord Chamberlaine his Servants | Written by William Shakespeare | sm. 4to, unbound (imprint cut away and supplied in M.S.), London, Printed by M. P. for Laurence Hayes, and are to be sold at his shop on Fleetbridge, 1637

Sotheman, £37 H. Nov. 29

* This is the scarce third Quarto Edition, which was reprinted from the Second Edition of 1600, the first Edition having been printed in the same year. A sound and complete copy, but is defective in respect of the

- above-mentioned fault, and four catchwords are cut into. It measures 6 15-16ths in. by 5 3-16ths in., the collation being.—A to I, in fours, the title forming A 1.
- The most excellent Historie of the Merchant of Venice, with the extreme cruelty of Shylocke the Jew towards the said Merchant, &c., as it hath been diverse times acted by the Lord Chamberlaine his Servants, crimson mor., gt. leaves (much cut down, measuring only 7½ in. by 4½ in.), 4to, Printed for William Leake, 1652 Quaritch, £72 C. - Poems | written | by | Wil. Shake-speare. | Gent. | engraved portrait of the Author by W. Marshall, with verses beneath, 1st Edn., modern mor., gt. edges, fine and perfect copy. Printed at London by Tho. Cotes, and are—to be sold by John Benson, dwelling in | St. Dunstons Church-yard, 1640 Pearson, £220 H. Nov. 29
- * The portrait—which was copied by Marshall from the Droeshout engraving—is a remarkably good impression. The fore and lower edges of it, however, having been cut into, the margins have been skilfully repaired, and the last line of the verses has been supplied in manuscript. The copy measures 5 7-16th by 3½ in., and the collation is as follows:—Title, to the Reader and Verses, 4 ll., A to M 4 in eights, A 1 being a second title. (N.B. The title was splashed with red, this having evidently been done when the edges were sprinkled by the original binder).

- The first part | of the True and Hono- | rable History, of the Life of | Sir John Old-castle, the good | Lord Cobham. | As it hath been lately acted by the Right | Honourable the Earle of Nottingham, Lord High Admirall of England, | his Servants. | Written by William Shakespeare, | woodcut device on title, sm. 4to, crimson mor. ex., g. e. by Hayday, London, Printed for T. P(avier,) 1600 Quaritch, £64 H. Nov. 29
- * The first edition of this spurious Shakespearian play, a second issue of which was published in the same year, without Shakespeare's name on the title. It was probably written by Munday, Drayton, Wilson and Hathway. A fine and perfect copy (7½ in. by 5½ in.), the only defect being an extremely small rust hole on the first leaf. The collation is as follows:—A to K in fours, the title forming A 1.
- The same (signatures K 2 to K 4 wanting), sm. 4to, unbound, London, Printed for T. P., 1600 Quaritch, £14 10s H. Nov. 29
- * The title bears the autograph of "Fra. North," presumably that of Lord Guildford (1637-1685). With the exception of three leaves, the inner margins of which have been slightly repaired, and a small rust hole on sig. D 2, it is in sound and clean condition, measuring practically the same as the preceding.
- The same (40 ll.), brown mor. ex., g. e. (with ex-libris of Birket Foster), sm. 4to, London, printed for T. P., 1600 Maggs, £60 S. Dec. 15

- Speculum Humanae Salvationes (Latin-deutsch), I. g., long lines, 33-35 to a full page, without marks, German woodcuts with cont. colouring, old stamped leather, damaged, w. a. f., sm. fo., absque ulla nota, Leighton, £80 S. Dec. 5
- * This edition appears to be something like Hain *14929 but is imperfect. This copy contains 249 ll. and begins "Dyabolus ml'rem decept P Szpentem. Genesz. III." Two ll. at end (which perhaps ought to be at the beginning), the first of which begins "¶¶ Alius liber Salvationis Humanae Metricus | pridecis libri materia metie ac opendiose tractatuz ¶ Compendiu humane Salvatonis nuncupatuz."

- Shepherdes Calender, Second Edn., partly b. l., woodcuts, sm. 4to, old calf gilt, red edges, Imprinted for John | Harison the younger (1581) Stevens, £180 H. Nov. 29
- * The date appears in the colophon on folio 52. A fine and perfect copy, with fair margins (7 in. by 4 in.), and the collation of the volume is as given in Dr. Grosart's edition of Spenser's Works (v. 2, p. 6), viz., title, Dedication and "Generall Argument,"—4 ll., A to N in fours—56 leaves in all. It is in exceptionally clean condition, the only defects being that the title, which is somewhat soiled, has had the margin on the fore-edge cut away, and there is a small hole in the text of the last leaf. The binding is of the eighteenth century. Only one copy appears to have been publicly offered for sale in London for nearly 20 years.

- * This is believed to be the most important collection extant of Swift's Manuscripts. They are mostly unpublished. The greater part of these Manuscript Poems, etc., were collected by Swift's intimate friend, Andrew Fountaine. The letters are addressed not only to his friends, Fountaine and Charles Ford, but also to Benjamin Motte, the publisher of "Gulliver's Travels." A resumé of the contents will be found in sale-catalogue.

 Bulletins de la Convention Nationale, Liberté, Egalité, Paris, Imprimerie Nationale, Broad sheets, Septembre, 1792, to Janvier, 1795, fo. Marshall, £141 S. Mar. 15

* An extremely important collection of those very rare Placards issued by the Convention Nationale, to be sent to the Armies, the Clubs and the Provinces. Notwithstanding their extreme importance, as a record of the most stirring period in the History of France, very little is known about these Bulletins, no analysis has ever been made of them, and their collecting has always been of the utmost difficulty. Five collections only are known to exist. The present collection of 1462 Placards in folio size, in 6 portfolios, is nearly twice as important as the British Museum's, and is the largest collection ever offered for sale; a similar collection has been sold for £400 three years ago. It includes, but for a few, all Bulletins and Supplements from the beginning of the Convention, 21 Septembre, 1792, till Janvier, 1795 (11 Nivose an III), and relates day after day all the events of the Terreur period, Judgment and Execution of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, Procés of the Girondins, Fall of Danton, Robespierre, Assassination of Marat, etc. The collection is completed by the scarce Collations and Notes made by Lord Crawford

- (Biblioteca Lindesiana, 1892). The said book is the only one ever made on that subject, it will prove invaluable for the checking of the Bulletins and Supplements, and make easy the comparison of the above collection with the three most important ones, viz., Lord Crawford's, Chambre des Deputés and that in the Bibliothèque Nationale, Paris.

- * Wants frontispiece. Size 6½ by 3¾ in; a small hole in Y 8.
- The same, 1st Edn., port. by R. White, and folding plte. (the latter backed), orig. sheep, fine large clean copy, 1682 Quaritch, £100 S. Mar. 22
- * Perfect with the original blanks, and the leaf after "finis" beginning "An Advertisement to the Reader. Some say the Pilgrim's Progress is not mine."
- The Pilgrim's Progress, the second part, 1st Edn., 2 engs., title and imprint slightly defective, a few margins slightly cut, some margins cropped, F i defective, otherwise perfect and genuine throughout, orig. sheep, N. Ponder (date torn off; Jan. 1st, 1684 on reverse of title) Quaritch, £80 S. Mar. 22
- * Said to be rarer than the first edition of the first part. Victor H. Paltsits, of the Lenox Library, New York, says only three copies are known. A plate of Bunyan dreaming belonging to the 1st part is loosely inserted, and there are two engravings in the text.

* Presented to W. H. Dutton, Esq., of Newcastle-under-Lyme, Staffs. by William Blades, with three autograph letters of the latter inserted.

— (Cicero on Old Age and Friendship), "Here begynneth the probemye (sic) upon the reducyng both out of latyn as of frensshe in to our englyssh tongue of the polytyque book named Tullius de Senectute. Whiche that Tullius wrote upon the disputacions & Cōmynycacions made to the puissant duc Cato senatour of rome by Scipio & Lelius"; etc. (begins on I 2, a facsimile); on the recto of fol. 69 (I 3): "Thus endeth the boke of Tulle of old age trans. out of latyn in to frenshe by laurence a primo facto...and enprynted by me symple persone William Caxton into Englysshe at the playsir solace ande reverence of men growyng into olde age the xii day of August the yere of our lorde m cccc lxxxii"; on fol. 70, recto (A j): "Here foloweth the said Tullius de Amicicia translated in to our maternall Englyssh tongue by the noble famous Erle, The Earl of Wurcester sone and heyer to the lord typtoft," etc. (ends on verso of fol. 97); on fol. 98 recto (D 5): Here foloweth the Argument of the declamacyon which laboureth to shewe wherein honoure sholde reste," ends on fol. 117; "Explicit per Caxton"; brown mor., blind ornaments, g. e. in a brown mor. case, by F. Bedford, sm. fo. (Westminster, printed by Wm. Caxton, 1481) Quaritch, £600 S. Mar. 22

* The excessively rare original edition of Caxton's translation and printing of these three treatises of Cicero. Blades records 22 copies only, some of which are imperfect, and to be found chiefly in corporation and private libraries. The present copy is perfect, with the exception of three blank leaves, the facsimile already mentioned; an erasure of a word and the signature on the second leaf, and two small textual defects in the two last leaves. It is a fine large clean and sound copy, and perhaps one of the best existing. It comes from the Rowfant Library, and has Locker's Jester ex-libris. (Measures 10½ by 7½ in.)

— Chronicles of England, printed by Caxton (fol. 1 a blank missing, fol. 2a): [I] n the yere of thyncarnacyon of our lord Ihu Christ M | CCCC, lxxx, And in the xx yere of the Regne of | kyng Edward the fourth, Atte request of dyuerse gen | tylmen I haue endeuyoyrd me to emprynte the Cro- | nycles of Englonde, as in this book shal by the suffraunce of god | folowe .. | ... (fols. 8 and 9 a blank missing, fol. 10a): How the land of England was fyrst named Albyon. And | by what encheson it was so named | ... (fols. 12, 13, 15, 73, 136, 163, 166 and 177-182 missing), b. l. (type no. 4), 168 (of 182) ll., 40 long lines to the page, with signatures, but without catchwords and foliation, rubricated initials, etc., portions of D 7 and Q missing; fore-margins of first few leaves defective, two or three leaves split and a few margins wormed, large copy (10 1-16 by 7½ in.), old cf., with book-plate of Earl of Jersey, sm. fo. (William Caxton, October 8, 1482) Leighton, £185 S. Mar. 22

* The sec. Edn. printed by Caxton. Only six copies are enumerated by Blades, all imperfect.

Celestina. The Spanish Bawd represented in Celestina, or the Tragicke Comedy of Calisto and Melibea, trans. by James Mabbe, cf., fo., 1631

Quaritch, £50 S. Mar. 16

- * From the Rowfant library, with F. Locker's Jester ex-libris. Locker has written a note in the fly-leaf: "There is a note in the B. M. copy (Corser's) that only three or four copies are known. This is a finer copy than the B. M.; author unknown."
- Works, 2nd Edn., woodcuts, margins of the first 5 leaves and the top and bottom ones of last leaf mended, fine and very large copy (13½ by 8 9-16 in.), purple mor., by Hering, sm. fo., Wylliam Bonham, 1542 Quaritch, £40 S. Mar. 22
- * The edition dated 1542 is frequently supposed to be identical with the undated edition, having the same booksellers' names (Bonham, Petit, Reynes, etc.), but it is a quite distinct edition and far rarer. The contents are the same as in Godfrey's text of 1532, with the addition however of The Plowman's Tale as the last eight leaves of the Canterbury Tales. It was printed here for the first time. Collation: A 4 leaves; B-Z in sixes; Aa-Yy in sixes; AA-TT in sixes. (This is apparently the largest copy known at present, and is therefore probably unique and on large paper.)

of the printer, dated 1562), John Day, 1563 Quaritch, £80 S. Mar. 22
- * No absolutely perfect copy is known. The title is inlaid in a woodcut border, probably of the second edition. The Kalendar and Almanack are in facsimile, as well as as a portion of the cut at p. 1518; some ll. are supplied from another copy, and several margins mended. It has a copy of the facsimile title. The Grenville copy wanted the 2 ll. of dedication to Q. Elizabeth, and had a leaf of Calendar in facsimile; Douce's copy wanted the leaf with imprint, and the Huth copy is made up. The Ashburnham copy approached nearer completeness than any other occurring for sale before or since 1896.

Frobisher (Martin) True Reporte of the Laste Voyage (the Second) into the West and Northwest Regions, b. 1. (24 ll. including title, which is within a woodcut ornamental border), some marginal notes slightly cut into, otherwise a genuine and excellent copy; signature of "Humphrey Dyson" on title, cf. ex., g. e. by Riviere, 12mo, H. Middleton, 1577

B. F. Stevens, £760

S. Mar. 16

* First Edition of the Account of Frobisher's Second Voyage; very few copies known, mostly imperfect. No copy appears to have been sold for the last 20 years. It has "A Rhythme Decasyllabicall, upon the last luckie Voyage of Worthie Captaine Frobisher, 1577," by Abraham Fleming, on reverse of title. The "Humphrey Dyson" whose autograph is on title helped A. Munday in his edition of Stowe's "Survey," 1633, and figures in Quaritch's List of Book-Collectors.

— A True Report of the Third and Last Voyage into Meta incognita; achieved by the Worthie Capteine M. Martine Frobisher, Esquire, Anno, 1578. Written by Thomas Ellis, Sailer, and one of the Companie, b. 1. (20 ll. including title, which is within a woodcut ornamental border), with the folding cut of Ice-floes; front marginal notes of four ll. in B slightly cut into, making a few letters defective, and some top margins shaved very close, otherwise good, clean and sound, cf. ex., g. e. by Riviere, 12mo, Imprinted at the Three Cranes in the Vintree by Thos. Dawson, 1578

B. F. Stevens, £920

* The Original Separate Edition.

— A Prayse and Reporte of Maister Martyne Forboishers (sic) Voyage to Meta Incognita (a name given by a mightie and most great Personage), in which Praise and Reporte is written divers discourses never published by any man as yet. Now spoken of by Thomas Churchyarde, Gentleman, etc., b. 1. (some top margins slightly cut into; otherwise good, clean and sound), cf. gt., g. e. by Riviere, Imprinted for Andrew Maunsell in Paules Churchyard (at end: the tenth of Maye, 1578)

B. F. Stevens, £1,000

S. Mar. 16

* The excessively rare First Edition in English of Frobisher's First Voyage. It is said that only one other copy can be traced, which is in the British Museum. The title bears the signature of Humphrey Dyson.

- She Stoops to Conquer, entirely uncut, in the orig. blue paper wrappers, enclosed in a folded cl. wrapper, F. Newbery, 1773 Quaritch, £90 S. Mar. 22
- * This appears to be the first issue of the first edition, having the erroneous pagination 88-89 (for 72-3), 92-3 (for 76-7), 96-7 (for 80-1). It has no half-title (and probably never had one); b 3 mended in lower margin and text slightly defective, and that and the next leaf are cut in margins; but it is in fine state and probably unique.
- The Traveller, mor. ex., g. e. by R. deCoverly, sm. 4to, J. Newbery, 1764 B. F. Stevens, £216 S. Mar. 22
- * The First Issue of the First Edition, and dated a year earlier than the generally received first edition with the date 1765. It contains title, dedication (in 7 lines) on one page, to Henry Goldsmith, and 22 pp. of text. The text agrees with the 1765 edition. The work was published earlier than 1764 (?) under the title "The Prospect of Society," discovered by Mr. Dobell in 1902. This copy was brought to light by Mr. John Pearson, of York Street, and was purchased from him by the late F. Locker (see MS. note), and appears in the Rowfant Catalogue. It has Locker's Jester ex-libris, and a defective Autograph Letter of Goldsmith, addressed from "Surgeon Sinclair in the Trunk Close, Edinburgh." This copy is probably unique.
- The Traveller, 1st Edn. (second issue), with the rare half-title, and leaf at end with the list of Newbery's publications, 1765; The Traveller, vignette on title after J. Wale, by C. Grignion (with half-title); T. Carnan and F. Newbery, Junr., 1770; in 1 v., blue mor., g. e. (B. W. Pickering), fine copies, 4to Denton, £30 S. Mar. 22
- * One of the rarer items from the Rowfant Library. It has the ex-libris of F. Locker, and note.
- The Vicar of Wakefield, 1st Edn., 2 v., mor. ex., gt. tooling, g. e. by Riviere, (the leaf of Advertisement and titles cleaned), Salisbury, B. Collins for F. Newbery, 1766 Maggs, £59 S. Mar. 22

To the Tune of the Gallant Grams; to which is added several other Poems by the same Author, 1st Edn., a few ll. slightly repaired, but text very little injured, yellow mor. ex., uncut, t. e. g. on rough, 12mo, Glasgow, printed and sold by Jas. Duncan in the Salt Market the second shop below Gibson's Wynd, 1746 Forrester, £1 171 S. Mar. 20
 * This copy is probably unique. There is none in the big Scotch libraries. The British Museum has not got it, and it does not appear in any private Scotch library, or in any collection sold by auction. Also the 2nd Edn., enlarged and corrected, mor. ex., g. e., 12mo, Glasgow, D. Graham and A. Young, 1752; this 2nd Edn. is also exceedingly rare and hardly known either in or out of Scotland. Laing only had the third edition, and the other Scottish collections sold since had none. Also the third Edn., with Amendments, woodcut front., slightly shaved and mended, red mor. ex., g. e., Glasgow, John Robertson, 1774. Together, 3 vols.

- * One of the Supplements to Hakluyt's Voyages; difficult to find in good state. There is none in Mr. Huth's library, and Mr. Hazlitt was unable to describe any copy outside of the British Museum. It was re-printed in 1611 under a different title, and it was from this re-issue that the Hakluyt Society reprinted the work. Collation: A 5 leaves, B-Z in fours, Aa 2 leaves=95 leaves, of which the first 5 are unnumbered, the other 90 are paged 1-80. In signature A the third and fourth leaves are marked A 2 and A 3, which would lead most people to regard the title as A 1. But the leaf marked A which precedes the title shows that the preliminary leaves must have been intended to run to six, and finally a blank was cut away.

* This volume has been the property of the Hawthorne family of Salem for more than 225 years. The name of the first emigrant of the name is at the top of the title; William Hawthorne Senior, his booke, 1677. The first owner has been described in the Introduction to "The Scarlet Letter." The second owner was his son, the "witch judge" of Salem. His autograph is at the bottom of the title: John Hathorne his booke. The same autograph occurs on both fly-leaves, front and back, the last with the date 1682 added. The book seems next to have descended to John Hathorne's son Joseph, whose autograph is on the front fly-leaf: Joseph Hathorne. His Book. 1739-40. Other members of the family who have written their names in the book are: "John Hathorne" and "J. Hathorne, Junr." both differing from the signature of the "witch-judge," one probably that of his son, the other of his grandson; "William Hathorne, His Book. Parama[r]ibo, December ye 12-1716," probably the son of William Hawthorne, first, and brother of John Hawthorne, first, and a sea captain; "Nathaniel Hathorne," several signatures, one dated "March ye 12th 1789-90," probably the grandson of Joseph Hathorne and the father of the author. Nathaniel Hawthorne, came into possession of the book in 1838, and his signature, 1838, is found in four places. On the blank leaf which completes signature "n" he has written:

Nathl. Hawthorne's Book, given by his Kinswoman, Miss Susan Ingersoll. 1838.

The map is the genuine and original one belonging to the book, and has been a little damaged in the folds. There is no evidence in the volume that it originally had a map.

John Foster was the first printer in Boston, having set up a press there as early as 1675, by permission of the General Court in an order passed at the May session of 1674.

(from the Libri Collection), Geneva, E. Vignon, 1586 £11 H. Mar. 20
- * The above appears to be the earliest issue of the First Edn., as both the imprint and collation differ slightly from that given in Sabin's "Dictionary," and from the 3 copies in the British Museum, in neither of which does "Geneva" appear on the title. There are 64 pages (the last 3 being blank), and 16 pages of index, but there is no folding plate at p. 178.

- * The book is a translation of the fourth and sixth books of the work by Peter Erondelle, a teacher of French in London and author of one or two books of instruction in that language. The author's name is no-

- where mentioned. There exists another issue, with a different imprint and undated, otherwise it is identical. It is, however, more frequently met with than is the dated issue. Lowndes mentions a map—it does not belong to the book, but is taken from the French original.

- Milton. Paradise Regained, 1st Edn. (having leaf of "Errata," but wanting License leaf), unbound, rough edges entirely uncut, 1671 £92 H. Mar. 21
- * Quite clean, with exception of a few leaves at the end, which are slightly injured by damp, but the numeral on the last page is the only portion of the type in any way affected. The fore-edges having been left entirely rough, are somewhat frayed, and the measurement is 7 $\frac{5}{8}$ by 5 $\frac{1}{2}$.
- The same, red mor. ex. by Riviere, entirely uncut, 12mo, J. M. for John Starkey, 1671 Mages, £94 S. Mar. 23
- * A remarkable copy; probably the only uncut specimen in existence. The first two leaves have been skilfully enlarged, otherwise it is in uncut state throughout. Samson Agonistes commences on 1r with separate pagination and a new title, as follows: Samson | Agonistes, | a | Dramatic Poem. | The Author | John Milton. | (Here quotations, occupying 4 lines) | London, | Printed by J. M. for John Starkey at the | Mitre in Fleetstreet, near Temple-Bar. | MDCLXXI. | It is preceded by a short Essay, "Of that sort of Dramatic Poem which is call'd Tragedy." Collation: Paradise Regained, A, two leaves (the first of which is the leaf of License and the second the title), A-H in 8's; Samson Agonistes, I-P4 in 8's, the last leaf containing the errata.

- * On the fly-leaves is the following memorandum, written by Lady Hamilton: "Given to me by Miss Knight, whom I thought good and sincere, we succoured, cherished and protected her and her mother Lady Knight, and brought them off from Naples to Sicily, and when Ly. K. died my dear mother took Miss Knight to our Home, Sir Wm. and self being there at the retaking of Naples with Nelson. We gave shelter to Miss K. for near 2 years, we brought her free of expense to England, what has she done in Return, ingratitude, God forgive her, for altho she is clever and learned, she is dirty, ill bred, ungrateful, bad manard, false and deceiving. But my heart takes a nobler vengeance, I forgive her.—Emma Hamilton." Inserted is a small engraved portrait of Lady Hamilton, after Romney, published in 1803.

- * A copy is in the Bodleian library (press-mark, Douce R. 527). Pinkerton mentions a copy which formerly belonged to Dr. Rawlinson, Mr. West and Mr. Ratcliffe, and in Pinkerton's time to Mr. Gough (this is the identical copy described by Pinkerton). At the end of the book is an advertisement that Robert Charteris, "The printer of this present treatise, has . . . printit sindrie uther delectabill Discoorses undernamit, sic as are

David Lindsayes Play. Philotus.
Freirs of Berwick & Bilbo.

Quhillk are to be sauld in his buith at the west side of Auld Provosts closehead on the North side of the Gate, ane lytill above the Salt-trone." No copies of the "Freirs" or of "Bilbo" are known having Charteris's name as printer. This copy, and the imperfect copy in the Bodleian, noted above, and the one below, are apparently the only copies known. A copy was sold by auction in 1884. This is the Rowfant copy, and has the ex-libris of F. Locker. Locker notes in his Catalogue that "The Merrie Tailles" are the same as found in Merrie Conceited Jests of George Peele, of which there is no edition known before that of 1607. The Priest of Peblis, which is supposed to have been written before 1492, is mentioned in the Complaynt of Scotland, circa 1549. The only perfect copy known."

fully described in "Notes on Editions of the Dunciad": Elwin and Courthope's edition of Pope, v. IV. (pp. 299-311), 1882, owl frontispiece, Dublin printed; London, reprinted for A. Dodd, 1728
Quaritch, £55 S. Mar. 15
- * The volume contains also Swift and Pope's Miscellanies, last volume, 1727, with the "Art of Sinking in Poetry," which gave rise to the attacks of the "Saucer," to which Pope replied with "The Dunciad."
"Several copies of verses on occasion of Mr. Gulliver's Travels," never before printed, 1727 (between pp. 16 and 17) is inserted a four-page poem
"The Words of the King of Brobdingnag." This was not reprinted with the other four in the second edition of Gulliver's Travels, nor in other copies of this set of verses. (Verbatim from Sale Catalogue.)

* Probably the finest known copy of the first issue of the 1st Edn. of all the volumes; with the rare engraved title, dated 1624 (not 1625 as usual), [slightly repaired in top corner, and top and outside margins also repaired]. Apart from this the volumes are in the finest state throughout. It has been examined by Mr. Eames, of the Lenox Library, and collated by its present owner, who has compared it with many other copies both in America and England. It has the original text, referring to the Dutch, which was rewritten and amended in the second issue, vol. V containing very many differences from the second issue of very great bibliographical interest. It measures 13½ by 8¾ in., and was originally in the Library of Sir H. H. Edwards

- Shadwell (Thos.) Works, 4v., no port., cf., slightly wormed, 1720 Edwards, 14s S. Jan. 17
- SHAKESPEARE, in the following order: (1) Separate Works, alphabetically; (2) Collected Works, chronologically; (3) Poems; (4) Illustrations; (5) Miscellanea.
- Shakespeare (Wm.) Henry the Fift, Third Edn. (27 ll. A—G3 in 4's), some corners mended, otherwise good, mor. ex., g. e. by F. Bedford (from the Lakelands Library, with ex-libris), printed for T. P. (Thos. Pavier), 1608 Pickering, £82 S. Mar. 23
- (Henry VI), The | Whole Contention | betweene the two Famous | Houses, Lancaster and | Yorke. | With the Tragicall ends of the good Duke Humfrey, Richard Duke of Yorke, | and King Henrie the | sixt. | 2 parts in 1 vol. (64 ll. signs. A—Q in 4's), mor. ex., g. e. by David, in morocco case, clean sound copy (but short), sm. 4to, T. P. (T. Pavier), N. D. (1619) Quaritch, £64 S. Mar. 23
- * First Edition of the two parts together, to which was originally joined the Pericles of the same date.
- King Lear (44 ll. signs. A—I in 4's), purple mor., gilt lettering on back, arms of Sir M. M. Sykes on sides, g. e., sm. 4to, N. Butter, 1608 Quaritch, £200 S. Mar. 23
- * The Second Edition in quarto, and a perfect copy in excellent state. Very few perfect copies are known. The dramatis personae are written on the back of title in a contemporary hand.
- Merry Wives of Windsor (28 ll. signs. A—G in 4's), a few margins repaired, otherwise excellent copy, mor. ex., g. e. by F. Bedford, sm. 4to, Arthur Johnson, 1619 Quaritch, £120 S. Mar. 23
- * The Second 4to Edition of the Merry Wives; extremely rare. Amplified for the First Folio.
- Midsummer nights | dreame | (32 ll. signs. A—H in 4's), title and next two ll. slightly mended, margin of B4 renewed, otherwise sound and genuine throughout, mor. ex., g. e. by F. Bedford, sm. 4to, James Roberts, 1600 Quaritch, £180 S. Mar. 23
- * This is now regarded as the first of the two editions with the same date, the other bearing the imprint of Thomas Fisher. The Rowfant Copy, with F. Locker's Jester ex-libris.
- Pericles (contains title and 33 ll. signs. R—Bb; title not included in the signatures), title mended; mor. gt., g. e., sm. 4to, printed for T. P. (T. Pavier), 1619 Day, £60 S. Mar. 23
- * The third quarto edition of Pericles, and published with "The Whole Contention" of the same date and printer, the signatures following on after that play. This copy was originally in the library of the Duke of Roxburghe, with his arms stamped on back of title. It contains a number of MS. marginal corrections, concerning which J. O. Halliwell has written the following note in a fly-leaf: "The older MS. notes are by Bp. Warburton, and in his handwriting. The few recent MS. notes and corrections are by Theobald and are copied from his autograph notes to a copy of the same edition."
- Of Romeo and | Juliet. Newly corrected, augmented, and amended. | (44 ll. A—Z in 4's), mor., by Bradstreet, very large copy, the lower edges uncut (title and last leaf mended), sm. 4to, 1637 Quaritch, £30 S. Mar. 23
- * The fifth and last of the old quarto editions.
- The Taming of the Shrew. | (36 ll. signs. A—I in 4's) (corners mended), some wormholes, red mor. ex., g. e. by F. Bedford, sm. 4to, 1631 Pickering, £51 S. Mar. 23
- * The first and only separate 4to edition after its appearance in the first folio. From the Rowfant Library, with F. Locker's Jester ex-libris.

- Shakespeare. Comedies, | Histories, & | Tragedies, | first folio, portrait on title, by Droeshout, with verses opposite, margins of latter repaired, margins of dedication renewed, otherwise fine, perfect and genuine throughout (13 by 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ in.), straight-grained red morocco extra, g. e. by F. Bedford, enclosed in a mor. case, fo., I. Jaggard and Ed. Blount, 1623; (at end) printed at the Charges of W. Jaggard, Ed. Blount, J. Smithweeke and W. Aspley, 1623 Quaritch, £3,600 S. Mar. 23
- * Apart from the very trifling defects noticed, a very excellent copy. It is from the Rowfant Library, and has F. Locker's Armorial ex-libris.
- Comedies, Histories and Tragedies, the second impression, wants title and verses, pp. 99-106 slightly defective, corner off p. 418, and a portion below the imprint on last leaf torn off, a few leaves soiled, and some scribbled on, 13 by 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ in., w. a. f., old mor., T. Cotes for J. Smethwick, W. Aspley, R. Meighen, and R. Allot, 1632 Leighton, £7 S. Jan. 31
- The same, port. after Droeshout, defective, Jonson's verses on leaf opposite, tall copy, 13 by 8 in., small hole in folio of g 2 of Henry IV, pp. 416-418 missing, and p. 419 has a portion cut off and top corner torn, old cl., fo., Tho. Cotes for R. Allot, 1632 Dobell, £44 S. Jan. 14
- The same, title, with portrait by Droeshout (soiled), with signature R. Warren, initials J. F. and the word "Shakespeare," in a contemporary hand (wants verses opposite title, 4 ll. in S.; several leaves wormed, small hole in last leaf which is also slightly torn and scribbled on, else good, large and sound), 12 $\frac{3}{4}$ by 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ in., orig. cf., w. a. f., fo., T. Cotes for R. Allot (at end) T. Cotes for J. Smethwick, W. Aspley, R. Hawkins, R. Meighen, and R. Allot, 1632 Quaritch, £45 S. Mar. 16
- The same, title, and leaf of verses in facsimile, last leaf of text in facsimile, otherwise genuine, sound and in excellent condition, mor. ex., g. e. by Riviere, in a case, fo., w. a. f., T. Cotes for R. Allot, 1632 (at end for Cotes, Smethwick, Aspley, Hawkins, Meighen and Allot) Sawyer, £46 S. Mar. 16
- The same, port. by Droeshout and verses by Ben Jonson opposite, all the preliminary leaves in their genuine state, 3 ll. defective, wants pp. 381 to 386, 4 ll. at end torn and mended, last 2 ll. inlaid and defective, wanting the colophon, (13 $\frac{1}{4}$ by 8 $\frac{3}{4}$), cf., w. a. f., fo., T. Cotes, for R. Allot, 1632 Ellis, £54 10s S. Feb. 20
- The same, title and verses repaired, leaf containing Holland's lines, with the "Catalogue" on reverse, mended, injuring the catchword, first leaf of text mended, rust blot on 2 ll.; 2 or 3 small rust holes, 2 last leaves repaired, and a few letters slightly injured; otherwise perfect, and good copy (12 $\frac{3}{4}$ by 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ in.), modern mor. ex., joints, g. e., in mor. case, fo., Tho. Cotes, for William Aspley, 1632 B. F. Stevens, £210 S. Mar. 23
- * One of the few copies containing the name of Aspley on the title, which is the rarest of all the imprints of the Second Folio. Few of the big libraries possess it. It was formerly in the possession of the Lucies of Charlecote, and was sold at the sale of the late Rev. John Lucy's effects, at Hampton Lucy Rectory, Warwick, in 1875. It has the monogram ex-libris of D. C. Marjoribanks (Lord Tweedmouth) in cover.
- The same, title cleaned and mended, verses mended, last leaf mended, and a few words facsimiled, otherwise genuine throughout, clean and sound (13 by 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ in.), old russia gilt, joints mended, g. e., printed by T. Cotes for William Aspley, 1632, (at end printed by T. Cotes for J. Smethwick, W. Aspley, R. Hawkins, R. Meighen and R. Allot, 1632, fo. Quaritch, £220 S. Mar. 16
- * A very desirable copy. The imprint "for William Aspley" is one of the rarest of the 6 or 7 variations in the Second Folio title noted in the Lenox Library, New York. It was rare even in Malone's and Bowden's time, who both refer to it. In this copy the verses by Jonson are bound after the title.
- Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies, The Third Impression, port. by M. Droeshout with verses beneath, signature of Jane Waldo on title, perfect, sound and genuine throughout (12 $\frac{3}{4}$ by 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ in.), modern cf., m. e., in a red mor. case, fo., printed for P. C., 1664 Quaritch, £650 S. Mar. 23
- * This copy has the extremely rare original and suppressed title, with the blank space for the portrait, with the imprint, "Printed for Philip Chetwinde, 1663." It was formerly in G. L. Way's Library.

- Shakespeare. Comedies, Histories and Tragedies, the 4th Edn., no port., title cut and mended, last leaf mounted, tall copy, measures 14 $\frac{3}{4}$ by 9 in., old cf., broken, fo., H. Herringman, 1685 Tregaskis, £10 S. Feb. 14
- The same, wants port. with verses beneath, title mounted and bottom margin mended, imprint slightly defective, bottom margins of the 4 other preliminary ll. mended, other margins stained, last leaf wanting (supplied in modern MS.), otherwise good, clean, sound and genuine, old cf., w. a. f., fo., Herringman, Brewster and Bentley, 1685 Muller, £17 S. Mar. 16
- The same, no port., but an otherwise perfect, exceptionally tall, sound and clean copy, 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ by 9 in., cf., rebaked and gt., fo., London, printed for H. Herringman, 1685 Ellis, £29 10s S. Jan. 14
- The same, portrait, with verses beneath, mounted (signature of Joseph Crawhall on reverse), old cf. (rebaked), good, sound, genuine copy throughout (14 $\frac{3}{4}$ by 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ in.), fo., printed for H. Herringman, and are to be sold by Joseph Knight and Francis Saunders, 1685 W. Brown, £72 S. Mar. 21
- * The names of Joseph Knight and Francis Saunders as the book-sellers of this fourth edition rarely occur in the imprint, the common names being Brewster, Chiswell and Bentley. Joseph Crawhall's copy, with numerous notes and printed matter in fly-leaves. The title and portrait have the water-mark Van Davantegard.
- Comedies, port. by M. Droeshout with verses beneath (mended), mor. super ex., g. e. by Riviere, fine copy (14 $\frac{1}{2}$ by 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ in.), in a mor. slip case, fo., H. Herringman, E. Brewster and R. Bentley, 1685 Quaritch, £75 S. Mar. 23
- Works, with Life by N. Rowe, port. and plts., First Octavo and 1st Illustrated Edn. (wants front. and general title to v. 2 and plate to face King Richard II. vol. 3), v. 1 to 6, old cf., 1709 Bumpus, £7 5s H. Jan. 9

 * The excessively rare first Latin edition of the free imitation of Titus Andronicus by Jan Vos. Only a small number of copies were locally printed for the use of the students engaged in the performance, the date of which was not fixed, space being left for its insertion before the word February on title. There is no copy of this Latin version in the British Museum, or any other of our public collections, and its existence is apparently unknown to all the Shakespearean bibliographers. Titus Andronicus was the first of the Shakespeare pieces performed abroad by companies of English comedians to attract the attention of Continental playwrights, and it was the earliest piece printed abroad connected with Shakespeare's name.

- Sidney (Sir Philip) Apologie for Poetrie, title and 2 prel. leaves in facsimile, mor. ex., g. e. by F. Bedford, 1595 Dobell, £14 10s S. Mar. 23
- * Hitherto regarded as the 1st Edn. It is the Rowfant Copy, and has one of the ex-libris of F. Locker; also G. Chalmers' ex-libris.
- Countesse of Pembrokes Arcadia, 1st Edn. wants A j, (a blank), B j and 8; C j; F j and 8; H j and 8; sheet O; S j and 8; Z j; A a j and 8; P p j and 8: some ll. soiled; title written on front and reverse, orig. cf., w. a. f., sm. 4to, printed by John Windet for William Ponsonbie, 1590 Pickering, £100 S. Mar. 16
- * Although imperfect the leaves are all genuine throughout, with the title and dedication (3 ll.). Not more than three or four genuine perfect copies are known.
- The same, old cf., with the Epitaph supplied in contemporary MS., 3 ll. supplied in old MS., some pages torn, 4to, 1590 Sabin, £165 S. Jan. 14
- * Imperfectly printed; several original Poems are contained in this edition which were not reprinted.
- The same, title mounted and remargined, a few corners mended, last two letters of printer's name and last figure of date defective, otherwise excellent copy, sound throughout, old boards with calf back (17th cent.), sm. 4to, for W. Ponsonbie, 1590 Quaritch, £3 15 S. Mar. 23
- * It formerly belonged to R. Farmer the Shakespearean scholar, who has written a note relating to the work in the fly-leaf. It is from the Rowfant Library, and has F. Locker's Jester ex-libris. This copy has the advertisement of "the division and summing of the chapters" on reverse of last leaf of dedication, which does not occur in all copies.
- Another Edn., engd. title, bdg. broken, cf., fo., 1622 Dobell, 7s P. Mar. 1
- Another Edn., old cf., fo., 1655 14s H. Jan. 9
- The | Defence of | Poesie. | By Sir Philip Sidney, | Knight. | woodcut device (contains title and 34 ll. signs. B—K 2 in 4's), title soiled and mended, and top corners of all the leaves damp-stained, old russ., sm. 4to, W. Ponsonby, 1595 Quaritch, £1 10 S. Mar. 23
- * The undoubted 1st Edn. of this work, and probably unique. It is the Rowfant Copy, and has Locker's Jester ex-libris. Locker has the following note to this copy in his Catalogue: "From Entries in the Registers of the Stationers' Co. it appears that both Ponsonby and Olney (the printer of the better-known edition) entered the Book, but that Ponsonby's was the earlier entry. It is most probable that Ponsonby applied to the Company before printing, as was often done, and that Olney's application was made in ignorance of Ponsonby's. Supposing Olney's edition to have been already printed, this might account for the rarity of Ponsonby's, because if, as seems probable from the Stat. Co.'s entry, Olney's copies were transferred to Ponsonby, the latter might find it necessary to issue a very few copies of his own. This theory accounts too for the existence of made-up copies like the one quoted by Hazlitt. This Copy appears to be Unique." Two Autograph

Letters of Dr. A. R. Waller of Cambridge relating to this copy are inserted.

(Lowndes states—and he prints the statement in italics—that the first edition was entitled 'An Apologie for Poetry.' Ed.).

- * These are all the nos. published of the original "Spectator;" but several nos. of another periodical under the same name, with which neither Addison nor Steele had anything to do, were afterwards printed. This series contains the last number of the original, in which Steele closes the publication; and has also nos. 613 and 618 of "vol. VIII" of the pseudo Spectator, issued by the same publishers. This was F. Locker's copy, from the Rowfant Library, and has his ex-libris. Three autograph letters from Austin Dobson, with reference to the completion of the numbers for Locker, are inserted. Some of the later nos. have the original revenue stamps. The volume has a special printed title: "A Compleat Sett of the Spectators by Richard Steele, Esq.: Printed for S. Buckley and J. Tonson and Sold by A. Baldwin near the Oxford Arms in Warwick Lane 1713."

It was re-issued with a new title, bearing Moxon's name, with the leaf of errata often lacking. This copy also is one of a very few sent out with the misprinted label, which reads "A. G. Swinburne" instead of "A. C. Swinburne." The book was "Affectionately inscribed to Dante Gabriel Rossetti," and this is the "dedication copy," having this inscription on the half-title in the author's autograph, "D. G. Rossetti from his friend A. C. Swinburne."

 Walton (Isaak) Compleat Angler, or the Contemplative Man's Recreation, 1st Edn., T. Maxey for Rich. Mariot, 1653 Quaritch, £1.290 S. Mar. 23
 * Contains A-R 4 in eights, the last leaf blank; G 4 misprinted F 4, pp. 246. Title, the first eight words within an engraved border, A 1; Dedication "To the Right Worshipful John Offley of Madley Manor in the County of Stafford, Esq." A 2-4; "To the Reader of this Discourse; but especially. to the honest Angler," A 5-7; Table of Contents, A 8. There are six engravings on copper, in addition to the title, supposed to be by Lombart, of the trout, pike, carp, tench, perch and barbel, and on pages 216 and 217 is the Angler's Song set to music by Mr. Henry Lawes. The last lines of the poem by Dr. D[one] on page 245 reads, "And if contention be a stranger, then I'll nere look for it, but in heaven again," where "contention" is a misprint for contentment. In the original sheepskin, in the finest possible condition. From the Rowfant Library, with F. Locker's Jester ex-libris. Lawes, who wrote the music on p. 216, also wrote the music for Milton's Comus, 1634. This copy has always been spoken of as one of the finest, if not the finest copy known. It is perfect and in the original state as issued. Mr. Locker has written a note or two in the fly-leaves.

* Originally belonged to the Claypoole or Claypole family, one of whom married Oliver Cromwell's second daughter. It contains the whole pedigree of the family from James Claypoole, born at King's Cliffe in Northampton, who purchased the manor of Northborough, "which house formerly was Jeffrey Chaucer's" to 1655 at which period Richard Claypoole has written an account of the family in the fly-leaves. There are several autographs of a member of the family in different pages, with marginal notes. A page in the Psalter has "In the Lord is all my trust, Rich. Claypoole, 1628"; at the end of Ecclesiastes, "Richard Claypoole, his booke, October 29, 1630; at end of the Prophecy of Ezekiel, "O Lord have mercy uppon the soule of Richard Claypoole and grant that his soule may live ever in joy everlastinge, May 28, 1597"; at end of Malachy, "Richard Claypoole, hunc librum possi, deo ex dono mei matris, 1614"; and inlaid in the end cover is the inscription, "Cromwell Claypoole dyed at London, May 13, anno 1678, and was buried at Norborow."

- Another Edn., port. of James II, and plts., ruled throughout, some pages defective, cont. blue mor., covered over with gold tooling, by Mearne, g. e., w. a. f., Oxford, 1686 Pickering, £15 S. May 21
- Another Edn., with Psalter, ruled throughout, cont. mor. ex., inlaid with black, white and red, the centre-pieces and corner tulips being made up of green, a very peculiar and effective treatment, g. e. all round, the volume having been bound without any back, J. Baskett, 1719 B. F. Stevens, £25 10s S. May 31
- * The inlays are of a most unusual character, the tulips and lozenge centre are inlaid in chamois leather stained green, and the narrow yellow fillet inlays are of vellum. We have met with no other specimen so treated. It is probably from the workshop of Charles Mearne or his successor.
- Another Edn., engd. throughout, within borders, by John Sturt, L. P., ruled throughout, title surrounded by a gilt paper frame, old red mor., side borders, g. e., fine copy, imp. 8vo, 1747 Leighton, £6 10s S. Apr. 22

- La Liturgie, C'est à dire La Formulaire des Prières Publiques, selon l'usage de l'Eglise Anglicane : Avec Le Pseautier, port of Charles II, ruled throughout, red mor., inlaid, and tooled all over by Charles Mearne, with clasps, the fore-edges painted under the gilt, A Londres, 1678 Quaritch, £120 S. June 1

* A remarkable volume, being the only known example signed by the

- binder himself. The volume was bound in 1678 for Charles Bland, and the binder's initials are shown under the gilt fore-edges, i.e. "G. M. fecit." It is well known that Samuel and Charles Mearne were responsible for a considerable amount of the finest binding of the Restoration period; a few specimens have, by documentary evidence, been identified as coming from their workshops; but no volume hitherto has been found signed. This is important, and will be of material help to the student of the binding of the period.

- "Sir,—Learning that you have purchased the copy of Architectural Antiquities formerly belonging to Mr. Geo. Baker, I beg to inform you that I have a fifth vol. to correspond, with proofs and etchings. It was my wish to have attended the Sale to bid for Mr. Baker's copy, as it is an unique book. Mr. B. took extraordinary pains to obtain not only the choicest proofs, but many varieties of the plates. As you have obtained such a book, I shall feel pride and pleasure to render it as perfect as possible by furnishing you with the fifth vol., and I have only one copy of this left. There were only 5 copies printed."—Auto. Letter.

- * There are two issues of the book, one in 1649, and the other in 1650, the former has only twenty-seven contributions, the latter has thirty-six ;
 the earlier title-page was suppressed, and the 1650 one substituted ; two leaves were added between pp. 42-3, and nine leaves after p. 74. These latter contain the extra poems, Dryden appearing amongst them. The above copy is important, as it shows the book and the titles in both states, and besides, has also inserted sig F. 1 and Fig. 2, containing a "postscript" and the "Marvell" poem (which had also been given previously). These two leaves are extremely rare, and were cancelled in the majority of copies

Byron. "Fugitive Pieces," the corrected proof of the very earliest edition of the Poems or "Hours of Idleness," issued first privately in 1806 and then published in 1807; containing fly-title only (as above); dedication, "To those friends at whose request they were printed (and) . . . solely intended," with note on reverse "printed merely for the perusal of a few friends to whom they are dedicated . . . composed between the age of 15 and 17"; the text contains 33 ll. signs. B-R. and the last Poem is dated Nov. 16, 1806, orig. wrappers, 4to, S. & J. Ridge, Newark, 1806 Reid, £1 12s

S. June 1

* Lord Byron's corrected copy of the original privately-printed edition made for the first published edition of the "Hours of Idleness" in 1807. It contains many corrections, erasures, and additions in Byron's hand, and an inscription on title by the same "Nov. 8. 1806 H.P.E.D.S.G.G.B. Southwell Vale; Byron." The title bears also the signature of Samuel Ridge the printer, and in the front cover is a MS. list of contents. An autograph letter of Byron to Ridge, 3 pp. 4to and address, dated Trinity College, Cambridge, Nov. 11, 1807, giving full particulars of his wishes with regard to the proposed published edition of 1807, accompanies the lot. It has at least two pieces which do not appear in the 1807 edition. The Byron arms are drawn in pen-and-ink on the title.

- „ Not more than three perfect copies exist. It is printed in Caxton's No. 4 type. A perfect copy contains 344 folios, besides the Proheme and Prologue of Caxton, two Tables, and a large woodcut of the Saints in glory. This copy commences on fol. II, and ends with G G i i (several intervening leaves missing), and contains altogether 366 ll.; 14 ll. have been re-margined, the text being slightly defective; 2 ll. are very defective, several margins repaired, but the great majority of the leaves are in the finest possible condition, mostly with rough edges, measuring 15 $\frac{3}{4}$ by 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. The work is printed on stout paper in double columns of 55 lines, with woodcuts, and has red painted capitals throughout. A larger or finer copy (apart from its imperfections) it would hardly be possible to procure.
- Another Edn., Legenda Aurea, that is to saye in Englysshe the Golden Legende, b. l., double columns, 44 lines, woodcuts, begins with text on "folio primo" without any preliminaries; several ll. re-margined, and the text of the colophon and device are separated and inlaid, old cf., w. a. f., sm. fo., Wynkyn de Worde, 1512 (with device) Horace, £17 S. June 1
- * No perfect copy appears to be known. Lowndes could only quote the Grenville copy, which had 2 ll. in facsimile.
- Another Edn., The Golden Legend, b. l., printed in double columns, with small woodcuts, wants all before fo. ix and all after fo. ccccxv, but has the suppressed Life of St. Thomas of Canterbury, usually deficient, w. a. f., fo., Wynkyn de Worde (1527) Bull, £7 10s S. May 1

S. Apr. 19

* A richly illuminated Edition of Paris Hours, unnoticed by bibliographers, special and general. The woodcut devices, that of Kerver on the first page, and that of Hardouin (late) on the last, are thickly painted over so as to appear as miniatures, the first page having the erroneous title given above within inverted commas. Every page has a side border illuminated. All the woodcuts are illuminated. This is of great interest as, although it has the devices of Kerver and Hardouin, it has no imprint and no woodcut borders. It was probably issued fresh from Hardouin's Press direct to the illuminator, who was commissioned to decorate it probably by the original owner, whose name occurs on the last leaf as "Marguerite Delbco." The decorator has called it "Heures de Rome," but, before the commencement of the Hours of the B. V. M. is the rubric Secundum usum Parisiensis.

S. May 10

S. May 31

* Not in Brunet, Alés (Comte de Villa Franca), or, so far as can be traced, in other liturgical collections. Between the stags in Godard's device on title is a painted feminine (Femme couvert) coat of arms, per Pale (1) az. semi of 7 fleurs-de-lis semi-imperial crown and cup Or (2) per fess gules a spread eagle in chief, bend dexter between 2 stars in base, Or, a ribbon scroll below bearing the name "Agnes Polus" (Sister of Cardinal Pole).

Jackson*, £1,210 S. June 1
- * The original edition of this play, first attributed to Shakespeare by E. Jacobs in 1770. Only one copy appears to have occurred for sale by auction; Lowndes could not quote a copy, and it was not in George Daniel's catalogue. A finer copy it would seem most unlikely ever to occur for sale.
- The | Tragedy | of | Hamlet | Prince of Denmarke. | Newly Im-printed and enlarged according to the true | and perfect copy lastly Printed. | (52 ll., signs. A-N in 4's, N 4 blank; corners slightly wormed and frayed, three head-lines cut close, unbound, sm. 4to, W. S. for John Smethwicke, s. d. A. Jackson, £180 S. June 1
- * Issued by one of the publishers of the Second Folio. Probably from the quarto of 1611.
- The Tragedy of Hamlet, Prince of Denmarke, newly imprinted and enlarged, according to the true and perfect copy lastly printed, title soiled and slightly damaged, last leaf soiled, and some a little stained, else sound copy, unbound (51 leaves without pagination, sig. A-N 3 in fours), sm. 4to, W. S. for John Smethwicke, n. d. (1636?) Quaritch, £172 S. May 6
- First and Second Part of | the troublesome Raigne of John King of England (46 ll., signs. A-M 2, including the title to second part), head-lines cut into, unbound, sm. 4to, Aug. Mathewes for Thomas Dewe, 1622 B. F. Stevens, £42 S. June 1
- * The third of the original unauthentic quarto editions. The first authentic edition is in the first folio.
- The same (separate title to second part), old russ. gilt, fine, clean, sound copy, sm. 4to, 1622 Quaritch, £80 S. Apr. 20
- * Both Halliwell and Hazlitt give only the abbreviated name W. Sh. as on the title, but, as is noted above, Shakespeare's name is in full. Shakespeare's own play was first published in the first folio.
- Julius Cæsar: a Tragedy, sm. 4to (foxed and cut close), H. Herringman, n. d. 12s H. June 20

- Shakespeare. True Chronicle Historie of the Life and Death of King Lear, (41 ll., including title, signs. B-L 4; the title being the only leaf in A), unbound, with blue edges, clean, large, sound copy, with some rough fore-edges ($7\frac{1}{4}$ by $5\frac{1}{2}$ in.), sm. 4to, N. Butter, 1608 Quaritch, £250 S. June 1
 * As fine a copy as has ever appeared for sale by auction.
- The same, 2nd Edn., 1st 3 leaves in facs., and 3 others are tracings, the title original, text cut into, mor. ex., g. e., w. a. f., sm. 4to, N. Butter, 1608 Pickering, £10 S. June 14

- Lord Cromwell. The | True Chronicle Hi- | storie of the Whole Life and Death | of Thomas Lord Cromwell. | At it hath beene sundry times pub- | likely acted by the Kings Maiesties | Servants. | Written by W. S. (28 ll., signs. A-G in 4's, G 4 blank), unbound, some slight stains, otherwise perfect, sound and good, sm. 4to, T. Snodham, 1613 Dobell, £16 10s S. June 1
 * Apparently the second quarto edition of this spurious play, which was not afterwards reprinted until its inclusion in the Third Folio.
- Macbeth, a Tragedy, with all the alterations, amendments, additions, and New Songs (by Sir W. Davenant), boards, 4to, 1674 Sotheran, £4 S. June 14

Shakespeare. The Most Excellent | Historie of the Merchant | of Venice. | With the extreame crueltie of Shylocke the Jewe | towards the Sayd Merchant, in cutting a just pound | of his flesh; and the obtayning of Portia | by the choyse of three | Chests. | As it hath beene divers times acted by the Lord | Chamberlaine his Servants. | Written by William Shakespeare | (38 ll., signs. A-K 2), sound, clean, genuine copy throughout, unbound (7½ by 5½ in.), sm. 4to, at London, | Printed by I. R. for Thomas Heyes, | and are to be sold in Paules Church-yard at the | signe of the Greene Dragon, 1600

Quaritch, £5 10 S. June 1

* A remarkably fine large copy of this edition, the second issue according to the B. M. Catalogue of the two issues of this year, the first (presumably) by Roberts, the son-in-law of Heyes, who was also the printer of this edition.

— The most excellent | Historie of the Merchant | of Venice. | With the extreame crueltie of Shylock | the Jewe towards the said Merchant, in | cutting a just pound of his flesh; and the ob- | taining of Portia by the | choice | of three chests. | As it hath beene divers times acted by the | Lord Chamberlaine his servants. | (36 ll., signs. A-I), unbound (somewhat stained), sm. 4to, printed by M. P. for Lawrence Hayes, 1637 Cooke, £40 S. June 1

* The second separate quarto edition.

— A | most pleasant and ex- | cellent Comedy, | of Sir John Falstaffe, and the | Merry Wives of Windsor. | With the Swaggering Vain of An- | cient Pistoll, | and Corporall Nym. | (28 ll. signs. A-G in 4's), unbound, genuine, clean, sound copy, sm. 4to, printed for Arthur Johnson, 1619

Quaritch, £100 S. June 1

* The second issue of the original quarto edition. The first edition of the standard text appeared in the First Folio of 1623, and differs greatly from the quartos of 1602 and this.

— The First Part | Of the true hono- | rable history, of the Life of | Sir John Oldcastle, the good | Lord Cobham. | (40 ll. signs. A-K 4 in 4's), unbound, I 1 and 4 slightly defective, otherwise perfect, clean and sound, sm. 4to, printed for T. P. (Thomas Pavier), 1600

Cooke, £35 S. June 1

* The First Edition of this spurious Shakespearean Play, written by Munday, Drayton, Hathway and Wilson. There is another edition without Shakespeare's name on title, and it was not afterwards reprinted until its appearance in the Third Folio.

— The | Tragody of Othello | The Moore of Venice. | As it hath been diverse times acted at the | Globe, and at the Black-friers, by | his Maiesties Servants. | (48 ll., signs. A-M in 4's, title defective, only a fragment of the last leaf remaining, some fore-edges cut close), unbound, sm. 4to, 1630

SHAKESPEARE. Collected Works:—

— Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies, 1st Edn., title and verses in facsimile, as are also the last 16 leaves, some stained and slightly defective, several leaves supplied from the 2nd Edn., and Digges' verses are in facsimile, cf. gt., g. e., w. a. f., fo., 1623

Sotheman, £135 S. June 14

- Shakespeare The same, wants title and verses opposite, the dedication is torn and defective, leaf containing two verses by Ben Jonson has corner torn off margin, wants a leaf in Henry the Sixth, 1 leaf defective in Henry the Eighth, and 2 leaves missing, wants 4 leaves in Romeo and Juliet, and last leaf with imprint, a few pages slightly torn, w. a. f., printed by Isaac Jaggard and Wm. Blount, 1623 Fickering, £305 S. May 14
- * This copy formerly belonged to Wm. Broucket, of the Middle Temple, and has his ex libris on flyleaf, also MS. copy of the verse by Ben Jonson; it has some MS. pasted inside first cover, and MS. notes in several parts of the volume.
- The same, very short copy, title cut close and mounted, and the whole vol. cut close to the black ruled margins (12 by 7½ in.), wants verses opposite title; also the 3 leaves with the verses of L. Digges, J. M. and the "Names of the Principall Actors"; the "Catalogue of the Severall Comedies" defective, the text perfect and in good state, w. a. f., straight grained blue mor., line tooled, g. e. (stilted) fo., printed by Isaac Jaggard and Wm. Blount, 1623 (at end) printed at the charges of W. Jaggard, Ed. Blount, J. Smithweecke and W. Aspley, 1623 Quaritch, £680 S. Apr. 20
- The same, title repaired, but text intact, verses opposite (remargined but text unimpaired), two margins in text repaired, otherwise fine, and genuine throughout (13 by 8½ in.) old straight grained red mor. ex., g. e. (Roger Payne), fo., printed by Isaac Jaggard and Ed. Blount, 1623 (at end), printed at the Charges of W. Jaggard, Ed. Blount, J. Smithweecke and W. Aspley, 1623 Quaritch, £2,400 S. June 1
- * Apart from the defects noticed, an excellent copy. All the preliminary leaves are good. With the book-plate of John Lane, Esq. (engraved by Hogarth) of King's Bromley Manor, Staff., whose ancestor assisted Charles II. after the battle of Worcester.
- Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies. Second Impression, title and verses in facsimile, imperfect and damaged at end, a few leaves defective and mended, and many stained, cf. gt., w. a. f., fo., 1632 Dobell, £10 S. June 14
- The same, wanting sheets Y in Comedies, K, L and Y in Histories, and last leaf of Tragedies containing the colophon; port. on title, with verses opposite, and all the prel. ll., which are stained, 3 are mended (13 by 8½ in.), unbound, w. a. f., fo., T. Cotes for Robert Allot, 1632 Sotheran, £23 S. Apr. 20
- The same, title thickened and inner margin slightly repaired (13 by 5½ in.), mor. ex., fine, perfect copy, fo., T. Cotes for Robert Allot, 1632 Gooch, £140 S. June 1

- * This variation in the imprint on title, for Richard Meighen, is not among the seven variations of the second edition noted in the Lennox Library. The title bears a motto and autograph: Secreta mea mihi J. Hyllans.
- Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies. | The Third Impression. | port. by M. Droeshout with verses opposite, perfect, sound and genuine throughout (13½ by 8½ in.), fo., printed for Philip Chetwinde, 1663 Leighton, £1,550 S. June 1
- * One of the few copies of the first issue of the third edition, in which the portrait is printed on the title, and the verses opposite, the title having the 1663 date. The portrait is impressed aslant, that is obliquely, the inner margin being wider than the outer. Many of the edges have temoins. It is in the original calf binding, and nothing about it has been in any way tampered with. It is probably the most desirable and genuine copy, with this rare first imprint, hitherto offered for sale. It is enclosed in a mor. case, and has the ex-libris of Sir James Langham, Bart., Cottesbrooke, Northamptonshire, in cover. Copies with this imprint do not generally, as Lowndes says, contain the Seven Doubtfull Plays, but this

Shakespeare—continued.

- copy has them at the end, preceded by the title usually appearing in front, with the imprint, London, printed for P. C., 1664. In this state this copy is perhaps unique.
- The same, port. and title in facsimile, prel. leaves damaged, stained, and mended, many leaves margined, and last two very imperfect, and many stained, a few also missing, cf. gilt, r. e., w. a. f., fo., 1664 Dobell, £5 S. June 14

SHAKESPEARE. Poems:—

- Shake-speares | Sonnets. | Never before Imprinted. | 1st Edn., wood-cut ornament at head of title, contains title, dedication, and 38 ll. of text, signs B-L 2 in 4's, inlaid throughout on demy 4to writing paper, some headlines cut into or off, but is clean, sound and genuine throughout; inserted are a Droeshout portrait from the third (?) folio, a small engraving of the Chandos portrait, a view of New Place, and plate of Monument; bound in old red mor., line tooled (Roger Payne), w. a. f., sm. 4to. At London | by G. Eld for T. T. and are | to be solde by John Wright, dwelling | at Christ Church gate | 1609 Quaritch, £800 S. Apr. 20

* Apparently no copy has occurred for sale by auction for more than thirty years. The dedication—"To . tee . Onlie . Begetter . Of . | These . Insuing . Sonnets . | Mr. W. H. All . Happinesse . | And . That . eternitie . | Promised . | By . | Our . Ever-living . Poet . | Wisheth . | The . Well-Wishing | Adventurer . In . | Setting . | Forth . | T. T." | has been the source of fruitful controversy. The top line of each of the following pp. has been cut off and supplied in MS. : B. 4, C. 2, D. I. 2, 3, E. 3, 4, F. I. 4, G. I. 2, 4, H. I. 4, and I. 2; and generally the head-lines are cut close or cut into, but the text in the other margins is intact.

 "Memento ! It is my desire and request that this work should be presented to its Donor and Author Robert Southey, after my Death. The substance and character of the marginal annotations will abundantly prove the absence of any such intention in my mind, at the time they were written.
 But it will not be uninteresting to him to know that the one or the other volume was the book most often in my hands than any other in my ragged Book regiment, etc.. etc. (signed) S. T. Coleridge, Aug. 1825," and

- * One of the rarest of the Pre-Shakespearean Comedies. Halliwell speaks of it as octavo, and Hazlitt copies him. The size is small quarto; badly printed and written in rhymed verse. Lowndes mentions it only from Coxeter's notes and calls it octavo. It was entered on the Stationers' Books, 1577-8. It was known in 1661, and is mentioned in the Catalogue of Plays issued by N. Brook and others of that date; it seems never to have been reprinted. The author is unknown.

BRONTË FAMILY. The following items were sold at Sotheby's on July 26. The majority of them would find no place in B.A.R., since the prices afford no criterion of value, but, in view of their great interest, they are included. They were the property of Mrs. Nicholls, Widow of the Reverend A. B. Nicholls, who first married Charlotte Brontë.

- * These spectacles belonged to Mr. Brontë, and are those seen in the portrait given in Mrs. Gaskell's "Life of Charlotte Brontë," p. 486.

AUTOGRAPH MANUSCRIPTS

- Brontë (Charlotte) Nine tiny Volumes of Juvenile Tales, etc., in a minute handwriting, six being in the autograph of Charlotte Brontë, and three in that of her brother Patrick Branwell Quaritch, £70 S. July 26
- * The date of these early compositions is 1829-30. All those by Charlotte are given in the "Catalogue of my Books," printed in Mrs. Gaskell's "Life." Two, viz. "The Poetasters," and "An Interesting Passage," have been supposed to be lost.
- Brontë (C.) Poems, some published, some unpublished, also portions of a Diary and "The African Queen's Lament" Isaacs, £45 S. July 26
- * Manuscript of 50 pp., date 1836-7, chiefly in her small upright writing, but last 4 pp. in a sloping hand, and 1 p. showing a combination of both styles. About nine of the poems are printed, see "Professor," pp. 345-62, but the printed versions in many cases differ naturally from those in the above MS. (See MS. list).
- Brontë (C.) Manuscript Book, No. 1, containing 22 pp. 4to, of Verses written in a sloping hand, and includes "We take from Life our little Share" (printed as "Winter Stores,"), "Presentiment," "Remembrance" (printed as "Evening Solace," with alternate readings), "Lament" (printed as "Regret,"), "Apostacy," "Passion," a "Song" and "Stanzas," see Poems in "Professor," pp. 348-368 Maggs, £25 10s S. July 26

- Brontë. Brontë (C.) Caroline Vernon, a Story in three books, containing 17 chapters, apparently complete and unpublished Robson, £44 S. July 26
 * Manuscript of 106 pp. 8vo, in a small upright hand, signed at conclusion "Charles Townshend, March 26th, 1839." On the last page of this interesting MS. appears a poem "Life, believe, is not a dream," printed under the title "Life" in Poems (see "Professor, p. 345).
- Brontë (C.) A Story, without title, signed C. Townshend, Feby. 22nd, 1839, Manuscript of 49 pp., 8vo, in minute writing Robson, £22 S. July 26
- Brontë (C.) Various Manuscripts, fragments of Stories, etc., on 64 pp., 8vo, partly in pencil Suckling, £20 S. July 26
 * One page is dated 1838, and another contains a curious reference to Dickens' "Mr. Squeers."
- Brontë (C.) Draft of a Letter in her autograph, 3 pp., 4to, in pencil, addressed to Wordsworth, printed in Mrs. Gaskell's "Life," pp. 189-190. In 1840 C. Brontë sent a story to Wordsworth which he returned to her in the wrapper upon which this letter is written Suckling, £11 S. July 26
- Brontë (C.) Preface to the "Professor," in pencil, 3 pp., 8vo, as published posthumously in 1857 Raines, £21 S. July 26
- Lithograph Letter and two Cards, an invitation from the Mayor and Mayoress of Oxford, 1854, to Miss Charlotte Brontë; Two Letters from the Duke of Wellington and Sir Robert Peel to Rev. P. Brontë, Nov. 2 1st, 1828, contained in envelope addressed to Miss Charlotte Brontë, c/o Smith, Elder & Co. Smith, Elder, £4 8s S. July 26
- Brontë (C.) Book of Poems, copied by her husband, the Rev. A. B. Nicholls Dobell, £2 2s S. July 26
 * Manuscript of 61 pp., 4to, contains inter alia "Memory," first printed in the "Cornhill Magazine," in 1893; "Saul," dated Oct. 7, 1834, apparently unpublished; "When thou sleepest, lulled in Night," containing two lines additional to the printed version. From the other end of this volume is commenced a dialogue between C. and S. 8 pp.
- Brontë (C.) Letters from Robert Southey, dated Keswick, 22 March, 1837, to Miss (Charlotte) Brontë, in cover, on which she has written "Southey's advice to be kept for ever, My twenty-first birthday, Roe Head, April 21, 1837" (printed in Mrs. Gaskell's Life, p. 159) Smith, Elder, £16 S. July 26
- Brontë (Emily) A Volume of Poems, signed (at the top of the first page), Emily Jane Brontë, transcribed February, 1844 Smith, Elder, £105 S. July 26
 * An important manuscript of 68 pp. 8vo, in very small writing. Each poem is headed with the date of its composition, the last date being May 15th, 1847. This is apparently the MS. described by Mr. Shorter ("Charlotte Brontë and her Circle," p. 70), but the present MS. contains a larger number of pages, with more unprinted matter and many variations from the published versions.
- Brontë (E.) Poems in her handwriting, 8 pp., signed Charlotte Brontë, Jany. 9th, 1837; Verses in her handwriting, 4 pp. (undated) (2) Maggs, £20 10s S. July 26
- Brontë (Branwell) Manuscript Book of Poems, on 77 pp. 4to, with a curious sketch on p. 2 of Contents. From the other end of the book is commenced "Minute Book of the Haworth Operatic Conservatoire Society" Wise, £6 6s S. July 26
- Brontë (B.) The Life of Warren Howard Warner, Esq., chapters 1-4, Manuscript on 8 pp. under the nom de guerre of "John Flower," but signed with initials at commencement and dated February, 1838 Maggs, £3 15s S. July 26

Browning (R.) The same, mor. super ex., uncut, by Zaehnsdorf, 1875

Quaritch, £15 S. July 1

* The final and complete proof sheets, with author's autograph corrections; inserted is a letter from Browning to Mr. G. B. Smith respecting the work. These final proofs establish the fact that Browning originally thought of publishing the work in two volumes.

— Balaustion's Adventure: 1st Edn., orig. cl., in a mor. case, by Riviere, pres. copy, with inscription: "To my dear Friend Ernst Benzon—written at Allian House by his guest, R. B., Aug. 10, '71," 1871

Quaritch, £13 S. July 1

— Bells and Pomegranates: No. 1, "Pippa Passes" (inscription torn out); No. 2, "King Victor and King Charles"; and the first three proofs of No. 3, "Dramatic Lyrics." The first one—before "Pied Piper" was added has written on it, in T. Powell's writing: "The first Proof Sheet of one of the finest of modern volumes. Note.—Some interesting alterations and one or two sketches by R. Browning shewing his meaning; also full note to "Artemis." Second one—"Pied Piper," wrongly inscribed to Mr. C. the younger, and the note to "Artemis" curtailed. Third one—Inscribed to his friend Powell by R. B. without any note to "Artemis," and with only one slight correction in the "Abdel-Kadr"; mor. super ex., g. e. by Riviere in 1 vol., 1841-42

— The same, 1st Edn., the 8 parts complete, with front covers to all but parts III and IV, pres. copies from author to Rev. W. J. Fox, also autograph letter to same, referring to one of the parts of "Bells and Pomegranates" (inserted), mor. ex., uncut, 1841-46

Hornstein, £120 S. July 1

— The same, No. VI, "Colombe's Birthday," the original Proof copy, with corrections and some important alterations, mor. super ex. by Riviere, 1844

Wise, £10 10s S. July 1

— The Inn Album, 1st Edn., pres. copy, with inscription: "Lord Coleridge with R. B.'s best regards, Nov. 27, '75"; at the end Lord Coleridge has added in pencil: "C. Guildhall, 9th December, 1875, Splendid!" Spanish cf. gt., uncut, t. e. g. by Riviere, in a mor. case by Riviere, 1875

Quaritch, £10 S. July 1

— Pacchiarotto, with other Poems, 1st Edn., orig. cl., uncut, in a mor. case by Riviere, 1876

Quaritch, £11 S. July 1

* Pres. copy. "Mrs. Benzon, from hers affectionately, R. B. July 18, '76."

— Pauline, a Fragment of a Confession, 1st Edn., very fine copy, mor. super ex., g. e. by F. Bedford, 1833

Quaritch, £225 S. July 1

* Only three or four copies known. On the fly-leaf, in the autograph of Browning is the following note: "Pauline.—Written in pursuance of a foolish plan I forget, or have no wish to remember, involving the assumption of several distinct characters: the world was never to guess that such an opera, such a comedy, such a speech proceeded from the same notable person. Mr. V. A. (see page second) was Poet of the party and predestined to cut no inconsiderable figure. 'Only this crab' (I find set down in my copy) 'remains of the shapely Tree of Life in my fool's Paradise.' (I cannot muster resolution to deal with the printer's blunders after the American fashion, and bid people for 'jocularity' read 'synthesis' to the end of the chapter.)"

— Rabbi Ben Ezra, Japanese vell., mor. ex., g. t., by Riviere, 1901

Bumpus, £2 S. July 17

— Red Cotton Night-Cap Country: 1st Edn., pres. copy: "Mrs. Benzon, with R. B.'s affectionate regards, May 7, '73," orig. cl., in mor. case, by Riviere, 1873

- The Traveller, 1st Edn., mor. ex., g. e. by Riviere, J. Newbery, 1764 Clarence, £94 S. July 1
- * Hitherto the edition dated 1765 has always been considered as the first, and the existence of an edition dated 1764 was unknown to the various biographers of Goldsmith (even by Mr. Leslie Stephen). Having been published so near the end of the year as December 19 it is probable that only a few copies were issued; but besides the date, the title also differs from the later issue by the omission of the word "Mr." The only other copy known is in the collection of the late Mr. Locker-Lampson, and is described in his catalogue as "unique."

SHAKESPEARE. Separate Plays:—

- Shakespeare (W.) The Merchant of Venice, 2nd 4to Edn., small corner off title and corner off B 3, a little stained, otherwise good copy, old cf. (rebaked), 4to, M. P., for Lawrence Hayes, 1637 B. F. Stevens, £35 10s S. July 27

SHAKESPEARE. Collected Works:—

- Comedies, | Histories, and | Tragedies, the Second Impression, port. by M. Droeshout on title, wants Verses opposite portrait, the port. leaf loose, torn, and part of imprint missing, but portrait intact, small hole in P 1, wants P 2, C C 2 slightly defective, sheet C wanting, last 4 ll. slightly defective, 2 other edges frayed (138 by 9 in.), MS. notes throughout and 5 separate 4to pp. by a modern student, w. a. f., orig. boards, damaged, Thos. Cotes for Robert Allot (at end, for Cotes, Smethwick, Aspley, Hawkins, Meighen and Allot), fo., 1632 Warren, £85 S. July 2

Shakespeare. The same, port. by M. Droeshout on title, with Verses opposite, 2 ll. soiled and a few slightly stained, lower corner of VV j torn off, injuring 3 lines of text, otherwise sound, copy (13 by 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ in.), orig. cf., printed by Thos. Cotes for Richard Hawkins, and are to be sold at his shop in Chancery Lane near Serjeants Inne, (at end) Printed at London by Thomas Cotes, for John Smethwick, Richard Hawkins, Richard Meighen, and Robert Allot, fo., 1632 Raines, £250

S. July 26

* The imprint "for Richard Hawkins" on the title is of uncommon occurrence in this second edition.

— Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies | the third impression (wants last leaf), title written on, margins covered with profuse MS. notes by a learned Shakespearean scholar, large copy, some rough lower edges (13 $\frac{3}{4}$ by 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ in.) genuine, sound and clean throughout, orig. cf., fo., printed for P(hilip) C(hetwynd), 1664 Hones, £300

S. July 27

* No signature appears attached to any of the Notes, but the annotations are evidently the work of some well-known Shakespearean critic. In a reference in the Notes, "See my Notes in my old folio in Antony and Cleopatra," the writer seems to be referring to the copy of the fourth folio in Collier's possession, with numerous notes asserted to be contemporary. It is suggested that all these notes are in J. P. Collier's hand.

— Comedies, | Histories, | and Tragedies | 4th Edn., port. by Droeshout with verses, margins repaired, title lengthened, margin of F f 4 and B b 4 repaired, otherwise clean and sound, modern cf., g. e., fo., Herringman, Brewster & Bentley, 1685 Mages, £35

— The same, port. by M. Droeshout, with Verses beneath (B. 3 slightly defective), sound and generally clean, signature of "Ri Head" (? "The English Rogue") on title, hf. bnd. (13 $\frac{1}{2}$ by 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ in.) fo., Herringman, Brewster & Others, 1685 Leighton, £48

S. July 27

— The same, port. by M. Droeshout, with Verses, sound, genuine copy, with 2 blank ll. at each end, orig. boards, leather back, fo., Herringman, Brewster & Bentley, 1685 Edwards, £51

S. July 26

— The same, port. by M. Droeshout, with verses, orig. cf., rebounded, fo., London, printed for H. Herringman, E. Brewster, and R. Bentley, 1685 B. F. Stevens, £57

S. July 27

* Very fine clean copy and crisp, 14 $\frac{3}{8}$ by 9 $\frac{1}{8}$ in.; pp. 319-22 are a trifle smaller than the other leaves, and there is a slight flaw in the paper of the latter leaf.

- The same, orig. cf., m. e., in a mor. case by Riviere, 1830 Deakin, £29 10s S. July 1
- * The first work to which Tennyson put his name, and the interest is very much intensified by the original intention it should be a joint publication containing also the Poems of Arthur Hallam. This idea was given up at the suggestion of Hallam's Father, and no copy of the complete book has hitherto occurred for sale. In the present copy, however, Hallam's Poems are included, and on the title has been added in MS. after Tennyson's name, "and Arthur Hallam," while on p. 1 of the second part has been written "Poems by Arthur Hallam, Esqre." In a note to Timbuctoo, Hallam refers to Tennyson's Prize Poem of the same name, and concludes it by saying, "which most justly, in my opinion, adjudged the prize to the poem of my friend whose name is prefixed with mine to this volume." Some partially-erased pencil-notes, indicating the persons to whom certain poems were addressed (Sir F. H. Doyle, J. Milnes Gaskell, Richard Milnes, etc.), render it probable that the volume is a unique proof copy belonging to Hallam himself.

- Natural History and Antiquities of Selborne, dark green mor., uncut, by Riviere, fo. Hayford, £750 S. July 1
- * The Author's Autograph MS. It comprises all the Letters to Thos. Pennant (44); the first 62 (out of 66) of those written to the Hon. Daines Barrington; 12 pages of the "Antiquities"; 1 leaf of Index; 1 leaf of "More rare Plants Observed in the Parish of Selborne" (published in Bell's edition); a Poem intitled "Selborne-Hanger," a Winter-Piece to the Miss Batties (1 leaf); and another, "The Invitation: To Samuel Barker, by the Rev. G. White" (2 leaves in a different hand); "On the Sense of Hearing in Fishes," 2 leaves headed "Hints but not finished" (published only in Bell's edition); and a leaf intitled "more particulars of the old family Tortoise," omitted in the Natural History. The MS. contains many passages not printed in the several editions. At the death of Gilbert White it passed into the possession of his brother Benjamin, who printed the first edition; from him to his son Benjamin; from the latter to his son The Rev. Glyd White, who bequeathed it to a descendant, whose sons sold it in these rooms in 1895, when it was acquired by Mr. Samuel. Until then it had never been out of the possession of the author's descendants. A few sheets of the MS. are written by an amanuensis, one of the author's family.

(Dates of editions are in thick type)

If, through any of those printers' errors to which all books are liable, an entry should not be found on the page indicated, search should be made in each of the four alphabetical sections of the volume. The alphabetical arrangement so simplifies research that some subscribers have doubted the need for an Index at all.

PRESS NOTICES.

Dr. J. A. H. MURRAY (the Editor of the English Historical Dictionary) says;—"It is the completest and most scholarly work in its own field."

Dr. F. J. FURNIVALL says;—"Every page has something of interest in it. . . . Prig, Queer, etc., are excellent. . . . I was so interested with your last part, to hand yesterday, that it kept me up till two o'clock this morning dipping into its pages."

The Athenaeum says;—"The dictionary represents long labour. The compilers deserve hearty congratulations for the amount of steady research which their list of quotations (wonderfully comprehensive, in view of the fact that most of the work is pioneer work) implies."

GRACEFUL GRANDFATHER CLOCK—A MUSICAL MARVEL

A MAGNIFICENT 8-DAY CLOCK AND SYMPHONIUM, 9FT. HIGH. PRICE, £30.

(For full description, see other side).

GEORGE T. JUCKES & Co., 85, Aston Street, Birmingham.

An Eight-Day Grandfather Clock, with Symphonium, an ornament of exceptional grace and beauty, standing NINE FEET high, having a collection of THIRTY DIFFERENT TUNES. In condition practically as new and OFFERED AT AN ENORMOUS DEDUCTION from the price paid by its former owner.

We have been struck by the PECULIAR GRACE of its DESIGN and not a little interested in its MUSICAL CAPACITY. It is in every way well fitted to be the centre ornament of a beautiful home, and a refined visitor might well say of it :—“ Here is the Queen of Fairye with harpe and pype and symphonie Dwelling in this place.”

It is, we think, a very fine sample of the most recent skill of the clockmaker ; the design is simple and neat and yet of unquestionable beauty, and it has the great advantage that, compared with older clocks with considerably less attraction either in beauty of frame or in musical capacity, its price is not past the power of the owners of most beautiful houses.

The illustration shows well the style of ornamentation, and we shall be glad to give any further particulars which may be desired. A BARGAIN, £80.
